SENATE TWICE VOTES AGAINST TARIFFS ON OIL

Bitter Personal Clash Features Debate on Measure.

THOMAS PROPOSAL DEFEATED, 38 TO 29

Pine Compromise Also Is Turned Down, 32 to 28.

ROBINSON ATTACKS LOBBY QUIZ TACTICS

30-Cent Duty on Each Ounce of Silver in Ore, Now on Free List, Is Carried.

(Associated Press.)

Climaxing seven hours of bitter personal encounters over charges of "vote trading" and clashes over tactics of its lobby investigating committee, the Senate went on record twice last night against tariff protection for oil and petroleum products.

The first vote was 38 to 29 against an amendment by Senator Thomas (Democrat), Oklahoma, for a duty of $1 a barrel on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on gasoline and other by-products.

Except for a provision to apply the revenues to road construction pending determination of a proper levy by the Tariff Commission, the proposal was identical to the one rejected last month.

Pine Offers Compromise.

Senator Pine (Republican), Oklahoma, attempted a compromise by proposing a duty of 50 cents a barrel on crude and 25 per cent on by-products. This was turned down, 32 to 28.

Two senators who voted against the higher Thomas amendment supported the Pine proposal. They were Mr. Hale (Maine) and Mr. Keyes (New Hampshire), both Republicans.

Before the vote on his amendment Senator Thomas accepted a modification by Senator Pittman (Democrat), Nevada, stipulating that there should be no tariff if the price of crude oil rose higher than $2 a barrel, but it failed to attract sufficient support to upset last month's vote.

Party Lines Broken.

Eight Democrats and 21 Republicans supported the oil duty proposed by Mr. Thomas. There were 18 Republicans and 20 Democrats in opposition. The Thomas amendment was defeated previously by a vote of 39 to 27.

Senator Thomas had assailed the lobby committee during the debate for "raiding private offices" in its investigation of the activity of the independent oil producers for a tariff.

Charges of vote trading were raised as Senate investigators struck back.

Raid Charge Is Denied.

Senator Walsh (Democrat), Montana, denied any "raid." The exchange involved the Senate in one of the most acrimonious debates of the long tariff struggle.

Three of the four senators from Colorado and Oklahoma who were accused of trading votes on the sugar and oil duties entered denials.

Senator Robinson (Republican), Indiana, a member of the lobby committee, joined in the attack on this committee for its handling of witnesses and its search of private offices and homes for evidence. He drew a heated reply from Senator Norris (Republican), Nebraska, who called attention to constant criticism of Senate investigators who disclosed the "corruption in the naval oil reserve leases."

Mr. Thomas himself was taken to task for refusing to yield at any time during his speech for questioning.

Walsh Replies to Thomas.

Senator Walsh answered Mr. Thomas' complaint that Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, had been denied the right to submit a statement by asserting that no witness before the committee had been permitted to submit statements without cross-examination.

Mr. Walsh then said that evidence before the committee indicated a trade in votes between the Colorado senators interested in the sugar tariff and the Oklahoma senators interested in the oil duty. Mr. Pine and Mr. Phipps hastened to deny any trade. Senator Waterman joined in the denials but he added that if any member in the Senate votes against tariffs on articles produced in Colorado "I'll not vote for his proposals."

Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, interrupted to say he could see no difference "between that doctrine and just plain trading."

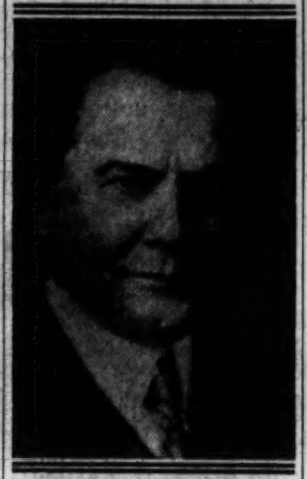

Waterman Answers Glass.

"I shall practice it as long as I stay here," Mr. Waterman returned, "and the most can be made of it."

Some of the attack on the lobby committee was directed at Senator Blaine (Republican), Wisconsin. Senator Thomas condemned him for

HITS IMMUNITY

SENATOR KENNETH M'KELLAR.

BILL WOULD REVOKE ENVOY'S IMMUNITY

McKellar Measure Prompted by Accident Involving Attache's Auto.

HOPEFUL OF RECOVERY

Foreign diplomats in Washington would be arrested for traffic violations under a bill introduced yesterday by Senator Kenneth McKellar (Democrat), of Tennessee.

Senator McKellar concluded that immunity from arrest in such cases should be taken from the diplomats after he had read of the accident in which a machine driver by Commander Juan Polich, Chilean naval attache, collided with another machine Monday night and seriously injured Paul Edward Hammond, 22 years old, a Southern Railway clerk.

The Tennessee senator said last night that later on he may introduce a bill to provide that American diplomats abroad also be made liable to arrest for traffic violations.

In commenting on the Polich case, Senator McKellar said that while he was glad to see foreign governments represented here, he felt that their diplomats ought to be required to obey the traffic laws and to stand trial when they fail to obey them.

He quoted from the statements of witnesses to show that Commander Polich passed a red light just before his machine crashed into that of Mr. Hammond.

"I do not think that foreign representatives on duty here should be allowed to disregard the traffic ordinances, or any other laws that Americans must obey," the senator said.

At Emergency Hospital, where young Hammond lies with a fractured skull and internal injuries which may result fatally, it was learned that a private room, two nurses and three physicians had been retained for him at the expense of Commander Polich.

Mr. Hammond was moved into the private room yesterday, and the two extra doctors went on the case Tuesday, the day following the accident. It was explained that the patient had not been moved to the private room earlier because none was available.

"Mr. Polich has ordered that everything possible be done for Mr. Hammond, regardless of expense," Dr. N. N. Smiler, one of the physicians, stated. Other doctors on the case are Dr. W. B. Marberry and Dr. John J. Shugren. All were optimistic concerning their patient's chances of recovery.

Meanwhile Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, forwarded a report on the accident to the State Department. The contents were not made public, but it was believed that the communication was merely a copy of the police "incidental," giving the scene of the accident and witnesses. Maj. Pratt said that he would file

BRIAND, ANGRY, WALKS OUT OF NAVAL PARLEY

Paris Delegate Leaves Conference in Huff Over Debacle.

MACDONALD PLEADS IN VAIN FOR RETURN

Doubt Exists Whether London Will See Tardieu Again.

THREE-POWER TREATY NOW GETS ATTENTION

Stimson's Main Aim, Come What May Is to Save Rapidan Figures.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.

London, March 20 (Thursday).—Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, walked out of the London naval conference last night.

The pleadings of Prime Minister MacDonald, who rushed to French headquarters in the Hotel Carlton when he heard of Briand's intended departure for Paris and dined alone with him there, did not prevail against the disgruntled M. Briand's determination to leave for France after breakfast today.

The return to London of the French prime minister, Andrieu Tardieu, seems extremely doubtful, according to telephone messages from Paris late last night.

Reasons for Grievances.

The French foreign minister's departure is due to three French grievances:

First, the French were aroused to learn that at a conference at St. Jomes' Palace yesterday Secretary of State Stimson, Ambassador Morrow, Premier MacDonald and First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander, and Anglo-American experts were filling in category tables with tonnage for France and Italy.

The British and Americans, amazed at the impression produced by their proceedings, say this was merely an attempt to reach a new compromise formula to submit to France and Italy, but the French are indignant at the failure to call them in.

MacDonald Is Criticized.

Second, the French claim that at Chequers Sunday Mr. MacDonald promised M. Tardieu to bring pressure on Italy to produce figures and not only had not done so but had denied, through an official spokesman, that he so agreed.

Third, Mr. Briand contends that Mr. MacDonald, at Chequers, promised to discuss at Geneva before the preparatory disarmament commission, security questions, but has since gone back on the agreement and issued denials of it.

Tardieu Return Unlikely.

But Mr. Briand, in an otherwise vague and friendly farewell talk, said with emphasis that he hopes to return to London, perhaps with M. Tardieu, "to hasten the conclusion of the conference."

The New York World News Service learns early this morning by telephone from Paris that M. Tardieu probably will not return at all unless the Italian claim to parity with France is withdrawn.

The three-power treaty between the United States, Great Britain and Japan now clearly holds the field, for Great Britain definitely will not align herself with Italy against France by making a four-power tract.

But France and Italy were also invited to this conference. They

TWO POLICEMEN WILL FACE TRIAL IN INQUIRY LAUNCHED TO UNRAVEL MYSTERIOUS MIDNIGHT SHOOTING

Hearings Are Ordered as Preliminary Grilling of Witnesses Ends.

GRAVELY IS ACCUSED OF MISUSING PISTOL

Swortzell to Defend Self Against Charge of Bad Conduct.

VICTIM'S CONDITION STILL IS CRITICAL

Men and Women Heard in Tangled Versions of Way He Was Wounded.

Two policemen will face the Police Trial Board as the result of an investigation started yesterday by Inspector Thaddeus K. Bean to unravel what appears to be one of the most complicated shooting mysteries ever to develop in Washington.

Detective Spottswood F. Gravely, of the Third Precinct, who admits shooting and seriously wounding James Crotts, on First street near U street northwest, early yesterday morning, is to be tried on a charge of misuse of his service revolver. If Crotts dies, which appeared probable last night, Gravely is liable to a murder charge.

Policeman Ardie C. Swortzel, of the Fourth Precinct, will be tried for conduct prejudicial to the reputation and good order of the Police Department, as the result of allegations that, in the company of Crotts and another man, he attempted to "shake down" two girl inmates of a disorderly house at the First street address.

Two Trials Approved.

Recommendations for the two trials were made yesterday by Inspector Bean and approved by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, after Inspector Bean had quizzed eight witnesses during a two-hour grilling in his office in the District Building.

Hugh L. Hummel, of Plainfield, N. J., was the first witness questioned by Inspector Bean. According to his signed affidavit, Hummel said that he had come to Washington on business and that before returning to his home he asked a taxi driver where he could find some girls. He was taken to the First street house, where he found two girls, he said.

After being in the place 20 or 25 minutes, Hummel said, he started to leave. On his way out, he testified, he heard one of the women curse and assert she would not pay anyone $30. A few minutes later, he continued, he saw a police car pull up in front of the house and heard five shots.

Runs to Apartment.

Hummel said he then ran to an apartment in a building in the first block of Rhode Island avenue. Although he gave the number of the apartment, Hummel did not identify its occupants nor explain why he had gone to them "for protection." From there, he said, he called for a policeman to escort him safely away, "but, instead, the policeman took me to jail."

John C. Elgin, the other man who accompanied Swortzel and Crotts to the First street house, told Inspector Bean that the trio had set out "to get a couple of girls." They asked a taxi driver where to go, he said, and then, in their own automobile, followed the taxi driver to the First street address, where they met Marie Foster and Frances O'Brien.

Elgin said that he and Crotts left the house after talking to one of the girls and that Swortzel remained in the house about twenty minutes.

About the time Swortzel came out, Elgin continued, a small roadster pulled up in front of the house and backed suddenly. Thinking it was a "stick up," Elgin said he remarked to Crotts, "Wouldn't it be a joke on them if they held us up. I've only got $1.50."

Crotts, however, had "a roll" and took a different view of the possibil-

THREE ARE QUOTED IN DRY LAW PRAISE

PROHIBITION IS PRAISED

(Associated Press.)

The views of the late William Howard Taft and of Josephus Daniels and Commander Evangeline Booth that prohibition had improved the social order from the slums to institutions of higher learning, were laid before the House judiciary committee yesterday by dry advocates.

The late Chief Justice, in a letter read to the committee and a copy of a speech submitted by his brother, Horace D. Taft, of Watertown, Conn., extolled prohibition and urged observance of the law from a point of "good sportsmanship."

Josephus Daniels, who, as Secretary of the Navy under Woodrow Wilson, made the naval forces dry, declared the dry laws should be given 100 years of trial, even if it cost $300,000,000 annually to enforce them. He said that during the 100 years prohibition would save the country $300,000,000,000 in liquor costs.

A statement from Commander Booth, of the Salvation Army, said that at the coming of prohibition conditions in the slums changed.

"The 10-cent 'flop' is discarded for the 35-cent room and the guest had the wherewithal to pay his way," she said.

William S. Bennett, former member of the House from New York, who now lives in Chicago, testified that industry was more entitled to the credit for the growth of sentiment that resulted in the eighteenth amendment than were the "churches and the temperance societies put together." He described conditions he attributed to liquor traffic before enactment of the dry laws and said that modern industry demanded sobriety of its workers.

Resuming their testimony for their sixth day before the committee, the drys made a quiet attack yesterday on the arguments presented by anti-prohibitionists. Although the committee room was crowded as usual with men and women, demonstrations were infrequent and quiet as compared with previous sessions when prohibitionists were being heard.

At the conclusion the drys announced only one witness for today. Daniel C. Roper, a former commissioner of internal revenue, is scheduled to appear. Mrs. Lenna Lowe Yost, a member of the legislative committee of the National Association of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, planned to read a statement from Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, on the benefits of prohibition. A statement from Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, probably will be offered for introduction by Deets Pickett, his secretary.

Commander Booth's remarks were presented by Col. H. W. Jenkins of the Salvation Army.

In Salvation Army hotels in the preprohibition days, her brief said,

CONFLICTING EXPLANATIONS

Why were Detectives Spottswood Gravely and W. F. Burke "on duty" at an address in the Eighth Precinct Tuesday night, when they are assigned to the Third Precinct? It all seems very involved. Here are some of the different explanations given by officials yesterday:

Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police: Burke was there because he was on a special confidential job for the district attorney's office. Gravely had no business there, although I understand Burke had asked for a "second man" and Gravely volunteered.

District Attorney Leo A. Rover: Burke was not doing any work for my office. I know nothing about it whatever.

Inspector William S. Shelby, chief of the Detective Bureau: Burke was on a special headquarters assignment given him by Lieut. Ed. Kelly. I have no idea why Gravely was there.

Lieut. Kelly: I had assigned Burke to watch the place because of a reported holdup there Sunday morning. Gravely, I understand, was helping Burke voluntarily.

Capt. William G. Stott, of the Third Precinct, Burke's and Gravely's commanding officer: So far as I knew, Burke and Gravely were working for me only. I have no idea why they should have been on duty out of the Third Precinct; it certainly was not on my orders.

U. S. FERTILE SOVIET SOIL JOHNSON FEARS

Educator Says Decadence of Religion Creates Ominous Sign.

WARNS OF PROPAGANDA

Washington Catholics who participated in the universal intercession for persecuted Russian deists last night heard a warning that the centralization of governmental power, combined with the decadence of religion is creating a fertile field in this country for cultivation by some future Communist leader.

Dr. George Johnson, of Catholic University, addressing 1,200 Catholics at St. Patrick's Church, said that the threat of Communism against Russian believers is an ominous sign to the world. Through the arteries of propaganda he believes that poisonous doctrines of atheism will be propagated to a country which is not immune to atheism because religion has been removed from the curricula of schools.

In prefatory remarks, he asserted that the declaration of war on God by Soviets was a belligerent declaration to the world. Its atheistic program attacks the foundations upon which peace rests—the belief in God, he declared.

Although some may say, he warned, that this country would be immune to such poison, that our people are content and love their Government, nevertheless, it appears that hety read the times too optimistically.

As a basis for his argument that this country is exposed to danger of Communistic propaganda, he cited the situation brought about by modern invention, which ruptured barriers and tends to centralize industry, finance and government. This, he thinks, has give na national tinge to industry and government.

As a result, State boundaries have become economically meaningless and are losing political significance. "Government is getting further from the control of the people. Political power concentrates, he stated.

The national peril, he said, lies in the fact that our educational theo-

COMMITTEE DELVES INTO HUSTON MAZE

Subpenaed Broker Says G. O. P. Chairman's $36,000 Was Used to Invest.

INTENDED FOR LOBBYING

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Claudius H. Huston, whose appointment as Republican national chairman several months ago was heralded as the administration's gift to the South, suffered before the Senate lobby committee yesterday.

It was developed that not only had Mr. Huston placed funds which were given him for the Muscle Shoals lobby in his stock market operating account but those of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers as well. And Mr. Huston's account is still active, or it was on a late date of last month.

The session of the lobby committee was, in fact, a story of high finance which Senators Walsh, of Montana; Caraway, of Arkansas, and Blaine, of Wisconsin, could not understand. Mr. Huston's defense, indeed, was that it was naturally beyond their comprehension. Senator Robinson, of Indiana, the lone Republican of the committee, was the only one who could see Mr. Huston's point.

The committee is tracing $36,000 which Mr. Huston had admitted receiving from the Union Carbide Co. to be used in the lobby of the Tennessee River Improvement Association to have Muscle Shoals turned over to the American Cynamid Co. with which the carbide company is associated.

The $36,000, it had been developed, Mr. Huston had placed to his account with Bonner & Blyth, New York brokers.

Answering a subpena by the committee, C. A. Krickl, member of the brokerage firm, testified that it was a regular speculative or "investment" account that Mr. Huston had. The account was carried under the name of W. C. Moore, Mr. Huston's New York representative.

The $36,000 which Mr. Huston received from the carbide company, Mr.

COUNTY CHIEFS ASK GRAND JURY ACTION

Grand jury consideration of charges published in the Montgomery Independent, a Rockville newspaper which is said to represent the antiorganization faction of the county Democrats, was demanded yesterday by the Montgomery County Commissioners and Maj. E. Brooke Lee, county Democratic leader and speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates.

The county officials appeared before the inquisitorial body and told the jurors that if the charges in the newspaper are correct that they should be indicted for mismanagement of the county affairs and funds and if not that the publishers of the newspaper should be indicted for criminal libel. Following the testimony of the county officials, the grand jury abandoned plans for adjournment and recessed until Friday to give the newspaper time to gather the necessary items for its presentation of charges.

The action of the officials was decided upon at a special meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday morning. The grand jury had completed its investigations and had inspected the courthouse, jail and almshouse preparatory to compiling its report and adjourning when the county officials appeared with their demand for vindication or indictment. News of the action spread like wildfire through Rockville and quickly became the main topic of conversation.

In a statement presented to the grand jury, the county commissioners stated that they understood that the responsibility of indicting public officials who are guilty of illegal official acts and that the duty of indicting persons guilty of criminal libel in the county rests wholly with the grand jury.

"It must be true that either the county commissioners of Montgomery County have been guilty of, conspired in, or participate in the illegal or improper expenditure of public money and acquired profit for themselves of others at the expense of public funds and have as well committed many other improper and illegal acts contrary to the public good; or else the charges and statements which have for a period of more than a year past appeared almost weekly in the Montgomery Independent, published in Rockville, under two different ownerships, constitute a series of criminal libels against the several members of this board," they declare.

"As public officials of Montgomery County who have been charged with these offenses, we respectfully demand both as citizens and officials that your honorable body, now in regular session, take cognizance of these charges of the Montgomery Independent, and that you investigate the truth or falsity of the matters therein contained and if, in your judgment, they be substantiated, then we

Sailor Parrots Consigned To Dismissal From Navy

Jahncke Order Puts End to Having Pet Birds Aboard Ship.

No longer will parrots chant ditties of love and other things aboard Uncle Sam's ships of the line, Acting Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke having issued a general order yesterday separating sailors from their proverbial shipmates, who have fallen into disrepute since the prevalence of psittacosis, or parrot fever.

To prevent the spread of the disease, Acting Secretary Jahncke ordered that all parrots now in the Navy be dishonorably discharged, or given to one of the girls that sailormen are supposed to have in every port. If the ships are at sea the birds are to be destroyed.

Additional supplies of parrot fever serum arrived yesterday at the Public Health Service Laboratory to hearten physicians who are combating the disease, which has already taken a toll of several lives, and which has ity of being held up, according to Elgin, who declared that thereupon his companion started to run.

"At that," he said, "two fellows jumped out of the automobile, and I heard some one say: 'Shoot him, Gravely, shoot him.' Then I heard the shots."

Gravely then brought Crotts, who had been struck in the back by one of the five shots, back to his automobile, in which he took the victim to Casualty Hospital. Elgin said he did not see the shooting, and that he "did not hear Swortzel mention money."

Neither Gravely nor Detective W. F. Burke, in their affidavits, gave any explanation of their presence in the Eighth Precinct, when they are assigned to duty with the Third. Neither was anything said by any of the witnesses of an alleged holdup early Sunday morning, in which eight men and four girls in the First street house were declared to have been robbed of more than $2,000 in jewelry and cash.

No Report Made to Police.

No report of this robbery was made to the Third Precinct, and Capt. William G. Stott, commanding officer, declared last night that he had not heard of it. He stated also that he knew of no reason why Burke and Gravely should have been in any precinct other than their own.

Maj. Pratt yesterday said that Burke "was on a special confidential job for the district attorney's office," and that he understood Gravely had volunteered to assist him. District Attorney Leo A. Rover denied this statement and said that Burke was not working for him or his office.

Inspector William S. Shelby, chief of the Detective Bureau, and Lieut. Ed Kelly, head of the homicide squad, both declared that Burke had been assigned by Lieut. Kelly to watch the First street house following the robbery Sunday. Burke having reported the hold-up to the Detective Bureau instead of to his precinct.

No reason could be found why Burke should have reported to the Detective Bureau instead of his own superior officer. It was a similar breach of discipline that cost former Policeman Robert J. Allen his job at the time of the death of Mrs. Virginia Hurley McPherson last September.

Without explaining why he should have been assigned to the task, Burke told Inspector Bean that he had gone to the First street house "to look for a man" said to have been a "sweetheart" of one of the girls. He did not explain why the man was wanted.

Says Girl Called to Him.

Burke said that he and Gravely had just arrived at the place in a police car when Marie Foster called to him and told him that three men, one of whom claimed to be a policeman and exhibited a police badge, had attempted to "stick her up" for $30.

She got in the car, he said, and they started out to look for the three men, whom they discovered a moment later on the corner talking to a taxicab driver. The Foster girl, Burke said, identified Swortzel as the man who had attempted the "shake down." He said that as they jumped from their automobile, one of the men, later identified as Crotts, ran away and put his hand in his pocket as though reaching for a gun, whereupon Gravely fired five shots, one of which took effect.

Burke said he then took Swortzel, Elgin and the two girls to the Eighth Precinct, and Gravely rushed Crotts to Casualty Hospital in his car. Elgin and the girls are being held as material witnesses.

Gravely's story was substantially the same as that told by Burke. He told of their being stopped by the girl and told of the "shakedown," and how he had fired when he thought Crotts intended to shoot him.

Alleged Plan Is Told.

Gravely declared that while he was taking Crotts to the hospital the latter had told him that the three men had gone to the house when Swortzel had proposed a plan by which Crotts was to go into a bedroom with one of the girls, whereupon Swortzel and Elgin were to "rush in and shake the joint down."

"That suggestion did not meet with my approval," Gravely quoted Crotts as saying, "so Swortzel said he would shake the place down anyway, himself."

Crotts later repeated this same story in the presence of Dr. Collins at Casualty Hospital Gravely said Sergt. G. H. Moran, of the Fourth Precinct, testifying likewise that after going to the Eighth Precinct where Swortzel was under arrest, he had gone to the hospital to see Crotts and that the latter had told the same story, that the three had planned to "shake down" the two girls.

Swortzel's story was that he, Elgin and Crotts had asked a taxicab driver for "an address," and after following the cab in their own car had entered the place and found two or three men and two girls there. Immediately after entering, he said, he decided he wanted to leave, and started to go, but had been detained by Marie Foster, who proposed a "business deal" for protection.

Offered $30, Is Claim.

Swortzel testified he then asked the girl how much she would be willing to pay him and that she had replied with an offer of $30, but explained that she did not have the money with her.

After telling his companions to wait for him in the automobile outside, he said, he had "started through an alley to go to the Eighth Precinct to report the affair and was about half way between First and Second streets when I heard shots."

At first, Swortzel continued, he thought the shots were the backfiring of an automobile, but a moment later he heard "hollering" and went back, where he found a crowd gathering and Crotts wounded.

The Foster girl told of the three men coming to her house between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Hand In Pocket, Is Story.

"One of them said he was a cop," she said. "He had his hand in his hip pocket. I was frightened and thought it was a holdup."

Instead, however, she said, it turned out to be a "shakedown." Swortzel, who, she said, told her his name was Smith, displayed his badge and demanded $30 for protection. She says she told him she had only $2, but would "call up" and get the $30. When Swortzel told her his two companions were not policemen, she said, she told him, "If they're not cops they have no right in my house," and demanded that they leave.

Swortzel thereupon ordered his friends to go, she said, and when Swortzel insisted upon staying she went out to find a policeman. Seeing Gravely and Burke, both of whom she said she knew, she explained the situation to them and got into their automobile to look for the men, Swortzel in the meantime having come out of the house.

Seeing the men on the corner, she shouted, "There they are!" and that one of the men started to run. When Gravely and Burke called to him to stop, she declared, he refused, and it was then that Gravely fired. Crotts, she swore, had turned half way around and put his hand in his pocket just before Gravely shot.

Other Girl's Evidence Slight.

The O'Brien girl's testimony was very brief. She stated that she had been in another room reading and that all she knew of the affair was that the Foster girl had come in and told her that "a cop is trying to shake me down," whereupon she returned to her book.

Crotts, whose parents live at Silver Spring, Md., came to Washington last fall and made his residence on K street northwest, near Twelfth street. Until about five years ago he had lived at Lexington, N. C., where his wife and two small children still live. He is 28 years old.

At the hospital last night it was stated that his condition is critical and that he is not expected to live.

Washington Wins In College Debate

Western Maryland Loses Annual Argument at Chestertown.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chestertown, Md., March 19.—Washington College forensic stars won their annual debate last night with Western Maryland. Subject of the debate was: "Resolved, that the United States should withdraw from the Kellogg Peace Pact." Washington took the affirmative, represented by Elmer Bennett, Nelson Hurley and James Clow. Visiting speakers were William Murkison, John Galley and Frank Link.

The judges were Assistant Superintendent of Schools Shilling, of Delaware; Maj. W. S. Short, principal of Wesley Collegiate Institute, Dover, and the Rev. J. Harry Wright, of Chestertown.

Next Friday night the Washington College team will go to Myerstown, Pa., to engage Albright College in a return debate on the same subject. Several weeks ago Albright was victorious in a debate here. Those making the trip will be J. Dickerson, of Milford, Del.; Carter Hickman, Church Hill, and William Simmons, Hoopers Island, Md. Prof. John D. Makosky, director of public speaking, will accompany the team.

demand that as such officials we be indicted and so given the opportunity of a speedy and public trial, or else, if you find the charges not substantiated, that those responsible therefor, whether their names appear at the head of the editorial column of the paper or not, shall be indicted for such crime as you may find them to have committed, which we believe and are advised is that of criminal libel," the statement continues.

Newspaper File Shown.

The commissioners then presented almost a complete file of the newspaper for the past eighteen months, and declared that the constant reiteration of such charges has tended to undermine the public confidence in the county officials and their integrity. The board then called attention to the fact that "without trial in a court of record, public officials are without means of protection against criminally libelous attacks against their characters," and ask a thorough investigation.

The statement is signed by Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, Downey Williams, Robert L. Hickerson, Clagett C. Hilton and Lacy Shaw, the five county commissioners.

Maj. Lee told substantially the same story and added: "I earnestly suggest that in justice to yourselves, to the county and to me, it is your solemn duty and obligation to make a full, adequate and complete investigation to the end that complete justice may be done to all. It is your duty to initiate proceedings to protect the people of your county from dishonest government or to protect honest officials from a series of criminal libels."

Fund Juggling Charged.

The Independent had charged that the county officials were juggling county funds in connection with the building of the proposed courthouse at Rockville and that roads in county had been built so as to benefit the real estate holdings of Maj Lee.

A cartoon in last Friday's issue depicts Maj. Lee juggling various county finances with the caption beneath "Montgomery County's Continuous Performance. Talent Furnished by Silver Spring."

County officials say that they have no fear of the coming election and that the action in appearing before the grand jury is done in an effort to stop attacks upon the personal integrity of the officials. They point out that the opposition will have to pour forth all of its evidence and prove them guilty or will have to admit that the charges are untrue.

JURY CHARGE TILTS STIR DOHENY'S TRIAL

CASE ENDS TOMORROW

(Associated Press.)

Disputes between counsel in the Doheny bribery case over what each side wished Justice William Hitz to include in his instructions to the jury yesterday delayed the start of closing arguments in the case.

Doheny's defense to the Government charges that he paid Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, $100,000 for a lease to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, had ended a while before.

Former officers of his company corroborated his own testimony that he had nothing to do with negotiations for the Pearl Harbor naval oil storage contract. This contract contained a clause which eventually led to the Elk Hills lease being awarded to Doheny's company. Additional character witnesses also testified.

Defense Scores Point.

The defense succeeded in getting into the charge to the jury, instructions that untrue statements that Fall made as to where he received the money were not to be considered in determining Doheny's guilt or innocence, and instructions that Fall, already convicted of bribery, might be guilty under the law and Doheny not guilty. This was the chief objective of the defense in its arguments and the jury will be so instructed.

The Government, however, was equally successful in getting into the charge instructions that it was admitted that Doheny delivered $100,000 to Fall. The defense contended that this should read that Doheny "caused to be delivered" $100,000 to Fall, but Justice Hitz granted the prosecutor's request. This section of the instructions read:

"The jury are charged that it is admitted that the defendant, Edward L. Doheny, delivered $100,000 to Albert B. Fall. The only question then for you to determine is with what intent he so gave it. It is immaterial that the transaction was in the form of a loan if the defendant gave the money with intent that it should influence the official action of Albert B. Fall, as Secretary of the Interior, in the respect set out in the indictment."

Former Oil Officials Testify.

J. M. Danziger, former vice president of the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co., and J. C. Anderson, former president and general manager of the Pan-American Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of the larger corporation, testified that they had opposed the acceptance of the Pearl Harbor contract by their companies.

Mr. Anderson said he had withdrawn from the negotiations for the lease, but was overruled by Mr. Doheny, who ordered the final execution of the document.

The delay caused through the arguments over the prayers probably will prevent the case reaching the jury at least until tomorrow afternoon.

Man Sought by Police For 33 Years Is Taken

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., March 19.—James Hairston, 53, a Negro sought for 33 years by the police of Winston-Salem, N. C., was under lock and key today after being arrested in a rooming house in North Danville by Chief of Police Martin, who received a tip as to his presence.

Hairston, according to the police, has admitted that it was he who in 1897 felled the Winston-Salem jailer and made his escape along with four other felons. Hairston was serving time for a theft when the attack occurred. He also told the police that since he escaped he had visited many places in the Old World and had traveled the United States widely.

INDUSTRIES OF U. S. CONSOLIDATE GAINS

Department of Labor Sees Decrease in Ranks of Unemployed Soon.

PUBLIC BUILDING CITED

(Associated Press.)

Although no substantial gains in industry were reported for February, the Department of Labor said yesterday that business and industry "appear to be consolidating the progress made in January for an expected upturn in employment during the spring months."

Citing indications that a widespread county and municipal highway building program involving $1,500,000,000 will afford employment to an army of workers and that the public utilities companies are to expend $3,250,000,000 this year, the department said:

"With these various projects under way there will be a large demand for labor, which will materially decrease the volume of unemployment apparent at the close of February."

The automobile and boot and shoe industries showed an upward trend in production and labor; the reports indicated, and the shipbuilding industry, airplane factories, silk and rayon establishments and plants manufacturing electrical equipment were working on a satisfactory basis.

Iron and steel, the department said, showed no improvement, but the large volume of orders that are now flowing in to the industry was held to indicate "a very promising future."

In the textile industry also no improvement was noted.

Owing to weather conditions, the department reported, large building construction did not get fully under way.

NEW BRITISH ENVOY ARRIVES IN CAPITAL

With Wife, Servants and Dog, Sir Ronald Lindsay Eludes Crowd.

MOURNS BALFOUR LOSS

Surrounded by a staff of personal servants, numerous pieces of luggage and their pet Scotch terrier, Sir Ronald Lindsay, newly appointed ambassador of Great Britain, and Lady Lindsay, arrived in Washington yesterday and proceeded at once to the Mayflower Hotel, where they will make their home during the several months required for the completion of the new British Embassy.

One of the ambassador's first acts was the issuance of a statement deploring the death in England of Lord Balfour, whom he characterized as a great statesman who had contributed much to his country and the world.

Although he was optimistic concerning the London Naval Conference, Sir Ronald warned against expecting too much from the parley. "We can not hope for unlimited success in any conference," he said, "the London gathering will make a step toward disarmament, and further conferences can be held later at Geneva, with all the countries of the world represented."

Asked whether he expected to follow Sir Esme Howard's plan of not importing liquor or wines for consumption in the embassy, Sir Ronald said that the question was "a severe one," calling for careful consideration. "I have not made up my mind about it yet," he added.

The new ambassador is 6 feet 3 inches in height and proportionately broad shouldered. A lover of outdoor life, he was careful to include tennis racquets, golf clubs and other sporting equipment in his array of baggage. The first thing that he did at the hotel was to make sure that his terrier received comfortable quarters.

Sir Ronald was ushered in a side entrance of the building, eluding a large crowd gathered at the Connecticut avenue doorway. The eight-room suite that he will occupy is almost identical with that of Vice President Curtis and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann. The suite was decorated with quantities of flowers, including many tributes from Washington friends.

Petersburg Bond Flotation Is Sold

Public Improvements Issue Brings $211,214 Bid; Premium Paid.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., March 19.—A premium of $11,124 was paid by F. E. Nolting & Co., of Richmond, and Harriss Forbes & Co., of New York, joint purchasers of the City of Petersburg bonds to provide for the construction of the fill to replace the Walnut Hill Viaduct, the building of new sewers and other permanent public improvements.

The bonds were sold for $211,214 and will be delivered immediately. They will run for 40 years and bear interest of 4¾ per cent per annum. Several weeks ago the bonds were advertised for sale. Later the bids, of which there were a number, were opened and the highest was that of a New York firm. The council, however, refused to accept any of the bids offered, as they were considered too low.

Middleburg Hunt Card Announced

Annual Spring Meeting to Be Held April 5 With Cup Feature.

Middleburg, Va., March 19.—The card for the annual spring meet of the Middleburg Hunt Club at Middleburg, Saturday, April 5, first of the 1929 hunt club meets in Virginia, lists three races and a hound show.

The feature is the Middleburg Hunt Cup, over a 4-mile flagged timber course across country. The Loudoun Plate is a 2-mile steeplechase over brush, and the Rose Hill, a 3-mile affair for half breds and clean breds that have never won a race.

The races will again be run on the estate of D. C. Sands, master of the Middleburg Hunt. The bench show for puppies that have been out at walk will be held on the race course instead of on the lawn of Mr. Sands' home, as was the case last year.

SUBPENAED BROKER EXPLAINS USE OF HUSTON LOBBY FUNDS

Krickl testified, went into two separate accounts. A check for $22,000, under date of March 8, 1929, went into account "8150," while the balance, $14,000, under date of June 26, 1929, went into account "1,000."

The first account, Huston testified, was a general account, including not only his own funds but those of the engineers; so, rather than fool with the engineers' business, the committee did not go into this account. But the latter one bought 300 shares of Loose Wiles Biscuit Co., 200 shares of National Cash Register and 200 shares of Kelvinator Corporation. They were good buys, too, for they netted $500.

With Mr. Krickl's testimony Mr. Huston promptly set out to show that regardless of what he had done with the $36,000 received from the carbide people, he had given $36,000 to the Tennessee River Improvement Association. He showed canceled checks payable to J. W. Worthington, president of the association, totaling this amount with the exception of $3,200, and he explained that the association had previously borrowed this much from him and he had, of course, deducted it. Mr. Huston was treasurer of this association.

In view of the apparent regularity of everything an argument ensued between Senator Walsh and Mr. Huston as to the ethics of this handling of funds.

Accounting of Profits.

Senator Walsh wanted to know why Mr. Huston, as "trustee," so to speak, should have placed the lobby fund, of which he was secretary, with his personal stock market account, which Mr. Krickl had described as a straight-out marginal account, or, in other words, if the market had gone down an account which would have been drawn upon. Senator Walsh wanted to know whether the $500 profit which the $14,000 had made had been turned over to the Tennessee River & Improvement Association.

"You haven't accounted to Worthington or to the Tennessee River Improvement Association for any profits you may have made, have you?" asked the guileless Senator Walsh.

"If there has been any profit it should be charged to uncollected interest on the loans I have made to the Tennessee River Improvement Association," Huston replied.

Huston has testified, during the committee's pursuance of this Muscle Shoals lobby, that he at one time gave the association $50,000. It has been developed that the association was a most haphazard one.

Not Trust Fund.

The committee continued to try to develop unethical practices in Mr. Huston's treasureship. Huston insisted he was not trustee of anything, that he was an agent. In fact, the carbide company gave him the money to do with as he pleased, he insisted, the understanding being, of course, that it should redound to the credit of that improvement association.

"This was a trust fund, was it not?" asked Senator Caraway, chairman of the committee.

"It was not," replied Mr. Huston.

"Whose money was it?" Senator Caraway asked.

"It was the fund of the Union Carbide Co., and I regarded myself as the agent to spend it," replied Mr. Huston.

"I thought it was for the Tennessee River Improvement Association," Senator Caraway observed.

"It was," Mr. Huston replied.

Permitted Greater Flexibility.

Mr. Huston has been insisting to the committee for several days that he placed his money and other money which he handled with Blythe & Bonner because this permitted of a greater flexibility than a bank account for one of Mr. Huston's ramified dealings.

Mr. Krickl was quite naive, however, and testified that money was placed with his firm for stock market operating purposes, that under the law it could not pretend to do a banking business.

The committee was prevented from going into account No. "150" because Senator Robinson, of Indiana, had on Tuesday made it modify its subpena on the ground that a broader one might involve the accounts of the Republican party. It is difficult to see how this could be true, as Col. L. G. Nutt, of Cleveland, handles the party's funds.

Mr. Huston frequently told the committee that it could not understand how the Nation's financiers handled their business. He said he had operated banks from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast and he preferred to handle his business affairs in his own way.

This in answer to Senators Caraway and Walsh's surprise that he should place funds not his own in his personal brokerage account.

Mr. Huston is to appear before the committee again today.

ABSENCE OF CAPONE IS CHICAGO ENIGMA

Police Becoming Bored, but Florida Acts to Bar Visit by Gangster.

BIRTHDAY CAKE ORDERED

Chicago, March 19 (A.P.).—A phantom "Scarface Al" Capone rode merrily up and down the grapevines and underground railroads leading to Chicago today, but the real gang chieftain was unseen.

The police kept up their watch against his homecoming, but it was with a sense of boredom. The ostensibly reliable rumors of the moment had Capone conferring in Cicero, feasting at home, resting in Indiana, Wisconsin and six other States. Someone who looked like Alphonse, even to the scar, rode into Chicago on a train from St. Louis, but with him was a blonde and a baby, and there are no blondes in the Capone clan.

Although the police impute no crime to the gang lord, they still insist they will harry him if he shows up. The right of his friends to call upon him was upheld by Judge John J. Lupe today in the dismissal of three Capone henchmen, who were arrested on general principles yesterday as they left the gangster's South Side home. The officers agreed they had nothing in the way of incriminating evidence against the trio.

Governor Threatens Arrest.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).—Gov. Doyle E. Carlton today drafted a telegram to Florida sheriffs requesting them to arrest Al Capone if he appears in the State.

The governor's telegram read:

"It is reported that Al Capone is on his way to Florida. Arrest promptly if he comes your way and escort him to State border with instructions not to return. He can not remain in Florida. If you need additional assistance, call me."

The governor was here today to attend governor's day at the Florida State Fair. He drafted the telegram at his hotel room.

May Be Camouflage.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).—Whether or not a birthday cake is camouflage for Al Capone puzzled Miami Beach authorities today. On top of unconfirmed reports that Capone, recently released from a Pennsylvania penitentiary, was en route to Florida and an unconfirmed identification of a man seen in Valdosta, as the Chicago gangster, came information that a 36-inch birthday cake was ordered today from a baking company here for delivery to the Capone estate on Palm Island here.

Police, prepared to prevent possible gang warfare should Capone reach his home here, believed the birthday cake might be camouflage.

It was possible, they believed, that the cake might have been ordered to throw Capone trail seekers off the track. On the other hand reports throughout the winter have been that a group of gangsters of Chicago have been waiting here for the return of the rival chieftain.

Several of Capone's henchmen have been at his well-guarded island winter home for some time, police said.

Tobacco Acreage Increase Decried

Interstate Committee on Flue-Cured Weed Meets in Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., March 19 (A.P.).—Repeated warnings to growers of flue-cured tobocco against increasing acreage this year were sounded at the sessions here today of the recently organized interstate flue-cured tobacco committee. The meeting was attended by representatives from Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, Georgia, the fourth member, was not represented.

At the closed session of the committee the sentiment was general, it was reported, that the committee must remain at work several years to accomplish its aims, including control and stabilization of the crop. Through subcommittees in each State, however, the committee plans to set about its work at once.

F. B. Bomberger, assistant chief of cooperative marketing of the Federal Farm Board, told the committee "it is evident that many tobacco farmers are not ready for a cooperative organization at this time." Cooperative organizations will be sought through the work of the committee.

PARLEY OPTIMISM REPORTED FADING

Hoover and State Officials Said to Be Disappointed Over London Results.

WAITING FOR TARDIEU

By ALBERT W. FOX.

President Hoover's optimism respecting the London naval conference, which was expressed at the White House last week, has given way to disappointment as a result of latest developments, according to intimations from official circles here yesterday. The same pessimistic view now pervades the State Department and is accentuated by lack of the usual reports from the American delegation.

Acting Secretary of State Cotton again stated yesterday that no news had come from the conference. The absence of plenary sessions or meetings of the various delegations accounts for the meagerness of the news. The private conferences between individual delegates are informal, it is explained, and have produced no change in the situation.

It is understood here that the conference is marking time pending the return of Premier Tardieu to London on Sunday and pending news from Tokyo as to the Japanese government's reaction to the American proposal on cruiser ratios. The optimism expressed at the White House last week was in part due to dispatches from Secretary Stimson relative to the American proposal to Japan.

Stimson Too Confident.

After reporting on his discussions with the Japanese delegation, Mr. Stimson was confident that a compromise had been reached and he believed that a successful outcome of these negotiations would mark the first achievement at the conference and pave the way for other accomplishments.

But it now develops that there were two factors which had apparently not been reckoned upon either by Secretary Stimson or Senator Reed, who conducted most of the direct negotiations with the Japanese. The first was the reaction of the British Dominions to the concessions which Mr. Stimson was reported to have made and the second was the reaction of Japanese naval authorities to the failure of Japan to obtain the maximum concession on 10,000-ton 8-inch cruisers.

The interested dominions, Australia and New Zealand, had previously opposed concessions to Japan which Ramsay MacDonald suggested and had obtained assurance from the British Prime Minister that such concessions would not be made. Accordingly when the news leaked out that Mr. Stimson had offered concessions exceeding those considered by MacDonald, representatives of the interested dominions at once appealed to the British Prime Minister to express emphatic disapproval of the Stimson-Reed compromise plan.

Spokesman for Dominions.

This, Mr. MacDonald proceeded to do, at the same time expressing disapproval of the reported intention of Great Britain, Japan and the United States to consummate a three-power pact. The understanding here is that the British Prime Minister was simply acting as spokesman for the dominions in opposing the suggested Stimson-Reed compromise, but the action was nevertheless interpreted as a disagreement between Mr. Stimson and Mr. MacDonald.

Although the American proposal to Japan was presumed to be clothed with secrecy, the news leaked out in London and was cabled to Japan as an agreement. The terms of this agreement, as circulated, were less favorable to Japan than the actual agreement and the efefct was to arouse resentment among the Japanese. The presumption here is that the false reports were circulatd for a purpose. The American delegation all along declined to confirm these reports, but there was no denial of their accuracy and it now develops that much mischief might have been averted by timely denial.

LATIN NATIONS ARE FIRM

can not be ejected, and they show no signs of walking out. How to deal with them, therefore, has become a problem exceeding in difficulty any in modern diplomacy. In desperation, the wildest solutions are seriously put forward.

The latest of these is what is described as a "double-four treaty." This idea has arisen from the British decision—and this is fact and not surmise—not to conclude a four-power treaty, leaving out either France or Italy. Mr. MacDonald's verdict is that Great Britain can afford to play no favorites between the two or to bring the slightest suspicion of pressure on one at the expense of the other. Accordingly, it is asked, why shouldn't the three powers (Great Britain, the United States and Japan) make two treaties, one with Italy in partnership and the other with France?

The answer is that in the British view it could not be done, but London is not averse to the scheme being put forward, because it shows Great Britain's decision to maintain neutrality in the face of present Franco-Italian disputes and also in future.

U. S. Delegation Silent.

No comment on these important views of the British delegation was obtainable in American quarters tonight, where officially a five-power treaty is still expected. But further British information from the same qualified source probably indicates the American, as well as the British, prime aim in the present disastrous circumstances.

Secretary Stimson's main aim, though the diplomatic heavens fall, is to save the Rapidan agreement. Mr. MacDonald is with him in this for two reasons: First, because the British prime minister had had doubts implanted in him as to whether the United States Senate would ratify any treaty in which the British figures are hoisted above the present agreed basis; and, second, because an increase in shipbuilding to meet France can not be afforded here and would be most unpopular, even if thought necessary.

A solution may be that Great Britain will agree with the United States to hold the Rapidan figures inviolate for two, or at most, three years, and then to hold another conference if French building threats have in the meanwhile actually been carried to the shipyards. That is speculative at this stage, but it represents the chief hope of some of the best-informed people at the conference.

Stormy Cabinet Meeting Hinted.

Reports are current in the House of Commons lobbies of a stormy cabinet meeting in Downing street at which Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden is said to have attacked Mr. MacDonald's handling of the conference and to have suggested that he should have adjourned it for six months when M. Tardieu's first government fell, since at that time the present tragic position could be accurately foreseen.

A report published here this morning of a rebuke administered by Mr. MacDonald to Mr. Stimson as a result of the American-Japanese mix-up over the week-end is officially denied, but there is no doubt that the British premier was annoyed at circulation of the false report that an American-Japanese agreement had been reached.

Mr. MacDonald, it is said, was led to accept a report that Japan would approve the American terms because told by Americans that Admiral Hyo Takarabe, minister of marine, had been won over. The significance of this lay in instructions from the emperor to the Japanese delegation not to accept any terms which Takarabe did not approve.

American Envoys Mistaken.

It now appears that Admiral Takarabe was not won over, and on this point, as on others, the American delegates were mistaken. He opposed the American terms, but on a plea from former Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki did agree to their being forwarded to Tokyo for decision, and it was this concession which led to the mistake about his attitude.

The decision of the Liberal party not to attempt, for the sake of the conference, to overthrow the MacDonald government on the final vote on the coal mines bill this week puts off, perhaps indefinitely, a general election since enough Liberal support on the budget next month is now expected to carry it through the House of Commons.

Thus the possibility of the conference being brought to an end at the hands of parliamentary opposition disappears, to the regret of some who think that this conference was easy to start, like the war, but that it is not easy to end it. One delegate remarked sadly today that relations between every power here and every other have become worse since the conference started with the exception of those between Great Britain and the United States.

10,000 PESOS ASKED AS BRISTOW RANSOM

Bandits Who Kidnaped U. S. Oil Operator Increase Sum for His Release.

MEXICAN AID IS SOUGHT

San Angelo, Tex., March 19 (A.P.).—While relatives here today were attempting to negotiate the release of J. E. Bristow, 60, American oil operator, kidnaped by Mexican bandits near Tepic, Narayit, word was received that ransom of 10,000 pesos had been demanded, instead of 3,000 pesos as first reported.

Frederick Yenny, at Tepic, in a telegram to relatives of the oil operator at San Angelo, today reported that Mr. Bristow left Tepic March 6 with Charles Fields and Alfonso Acequera. Four days later, Mr. Yenny stated, Mr. Bristow and his companions were kidnaped and Mr. Bristow held for 10,000 pesos ransom.

Mr. Fields, Mr. Yenny said, was given a signed check by Mr. Bristow with which to obtain ransom money, but the bank refused to honor it. Senor Acequera, he added, escaped. Mr. Yenny also reported the military was trying to locate the bandits, and that it was "impossible now to get in touch with Bristow."

A message from the American Consul at Juarez, Mexico, said an "emissary from the bandits was expected at Tepic at any time."

The kidnapping of the San Angelo oil operator has been called to the attention of the Mexican government by the United States Ambassador, who requested that every effort be made to free the Texan.

Relatives and friends sought to negotiate with the bandits through the American Consul at Juarez. Should these moves fail, Gordon Obie Bristow, son of the captive, who traveled to El Paso by automobile and plane today, indicated that he might fly to Mazatlan, on the west coast of Mexico, to deal directly with the bandits. The son said developments at El Paso would determine whether he would proceed into Mexico.

Funds for paying ransom had been guaranteed from Sam Kimberlin, Wichita Falls, Tex., merchant. He wired his cousin, William Blocker, senior consul in Juarez, guaranteeing payment of the ransom. Mr. Bristow was a business partner of Kemper Kimberlin, San Angelo oil and mining operator, another cousin of Sam Kimberlin. Gordon Bristow and his mother also planned to pay the ransom.

Gas Station Man Held After Theft

Manager Says Thug Took $350, First Knocking Him Unconscious.

Sidney J. Cartvriendt, 38 years old, of 11 Park avenue, Hyattsville, Md., was arrested yesterday afternoon by Headquarters Detective H. K. Wilson and held for investigation in connection with the robbery early Monday of the gasoline station, of which he is manager, at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

Cartvriendt told police that he was robbed of $350 after being knocked unconscious by an unseen assailant as he had opened the safe. When he awoke a few minutes later, he said, he called police. No trace of the alleged robber has been found.

The station was robbed a year ago of $506 on Sunday, while Cartvriendt was manager, and he told police before the second robbery that he was always afraid of another robbery on Sunday. A policeman guarded his place last Sunday after he made this complaint.

HOOVER DEDICATES MEMORIAL BUILDING

Red Cross Model Chapter House Is in Memory of Women's Sacrifices.

FESS MAKES AN ADDRESS

President Hoover, dedicating the Red Cross Memorial Building at Eighteenth and E streets northwest to the women of the World War, yesterday afternoon declared that the Nation owes much to the women who gave their sons in the conflict and to other women whose loyalty was tested through the loss of loved ones. The President also paid tribute to nurses who saw service in the World War.

The new building will be used as a model chapter house by the District of Columbia Chapter of the American Red Cross. The structure was dedicated by the President in the presence of a distinguished gathering of officials and friends of the Red Cross.

Pershing Presides at Event.

Presiding at the ceremonies was Gen. John J. Pershing, chairman of the memorial fund committee, who introduced Mr. Hoover and also Senator Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the building committee, who made a short address.

President Hoover in his talk said:

"On the part of the United States Government I accept with pleasure the share in this beautiful memorial, given by those who have helped to make it possible.

Mothers' Sacrifices Lauded.

"To the patriotic mothers who gave their sons, to the many other loyal women who lost those dear to them for their country's sake, to the noble women, so many of them nurses, who died in war service, to all those who served with devotion throughout the war, we owe a deep debt of gratitude. May they ever see in this memorial a token of the honor and affection in which their country holds them.

"It is a satisfaction that this memorial has taken not only the form of a beautiful building, but that within its walls there will be carried on the services it commemorates, services for our suffering fellow men.

"The inscription in the hall below calls this 'a living memorial.' No better memorial can be built to the American women of the World War—and no truer inspiration given to the women of today."

DUTY ON CRUDE OIL REFUSED BY SENATE

Second Rejection Is Voted in Seven-Hour Debate by 38 to 29.

TRADING CHARGE DENIED

reading to the Senate letters taken from the files of Franklin before they had been submitted as evidence to the committee. He also was criticized for making partial reports from the committee to the Senate before the evidence had all been received.

Senator Allen (Republican), Kansas, objected that Mr. Blaine called Mr. Franklin "in the hope of getting something" and then "hurried over here with pettyfogging criticism which you tried to make convincing."

Blaine States His Views.

"I make no apology," Mr. Blaine shouted. "Suppressing of this information gained by the lobby committee on the night the oil vote was to be taken would have amounted almost to treason."

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, finally demanded of Senators Blaine and Walsh to produce their evidence of a trade in votes on sugar and oil. The Montanan then read from the evidence taken by the committee. He read telegrams sent by Judge John T. Adams, of the Colorado State Supreme Court, to Wirt Franklin, which said the Colorado senators would vote for the tariff on oil.

Senator Phipps said he was a "protectionist" and "proud of it," and he was for a tariff on oil and had not been approached by any one suggesting a trade or a bargain.

Caraway Hits Lobbyists.

Chairman Caraway, of the lobby committee, remarked that one of his complaints against lobbyists was that they did talk about "buying votes" and trading votes when, as a matter of fact, they had nothing to do with the positions of senators in most instances.

"Every witness before the lobby committee is at a disadvantage," Senator Robinson asserted.

In courts, he said, there are rules of evidence, but before a Senate committee there are "no such safeguards." Members of the lobby committee, he shouted, "get their side before the public, even lecturing and insulting the witnesses."

Norris Raps Critics.

"It's the same old story," said Mr. Norris. "We have been condemned every step of our way in bringing about the disclosures of the greatest debauchery of public officers in our history. Every step of the way in regaining our oil wells was criticized and the individual senators who made the disclosures were held up to public ridicule."

Mr. Robinson asserted, "It is common knowledge to every member here that Senate subcommittees do send private investigators into the private offices and private homes when there is no evidence whatever of wrongdoing, just as on fishing expeditions, hoping to find something wrong with which to blacken the name of the citizen.

"Senators should not forget," he shouted, "that they are the servants of the people and not the master. It is high time we should stop, look and listen, and in the future have some respect for the rights of the citizen."

Duty on Silver Ore Passed.

A duty of 30 cents an ounce on silver contained in silver-bearing ore, now on the free list, was voted, 55 to 12.

The proposal was offered by Senator Pittman (Democrat), who said the silver industry in the United States was in a serious plight.

Mr. Pittman said if the price of silver were increased the principal burden would fall on purchasers of sterling silverware and the motion-picture industry, which uses it in producing films.

LORD BALFOUR DIES; VICTORIA'S MINISTER

Great Britain's Former Premier Is Calm to the Very End.

PARLIAMENT PAYS HONOR

Woking, Surrey, England, March 19 (A.P.).—Lord Balfour died today in a room of his brother's house, looking out to the peaceful English countryside he so much loved. He was a former prime minister of Great Britain and one of the last ministers of Queen Victoria's reign.

His last act was characteristic of his whole life. Sending for his manservant, James Coltman, who had been in his service 30 years, Lord Balfour took him by the hand and said: "Good-by, James. Thank you very much for all you have done for me."

Stayed Calm Amid Fights.

Today all the chief public figures of England, headed by King George, united to pay tribute to the man who in the rough and tumble of political life—and none was a more doughty fighter than he—never lost his perfect courtesy or that philosophic calm reflected in his numerous speeches and writings.

The House of Lords and the House of Commons adjourned for the day out of respect to his memory, but perhaps the tributes which the dead statesman himself would have preferred most have come from the man and the woman in the street.

"He was a gentleman," is the phrase which was on tens of thousands of lips today. The Briton knows no higher praise.

Zionist Especially Sad.

One man felt particularly sad at hearing of Lord Balfour's death. He is Dr. Chaim Weizmann, world Zionist president, who wept as he began speaking at a session of the Zionist council.

The Zionists long have revered Lord Balfour, because one of his noteworthy pronouncements was the famous Balfour declaration, which said that Great Britain viewed with favor the establishment of a national home for Jews in Palestine.

Lord Balfour was 82 years old. He was created an earl and viscount Traprain after the Washington naval conference in 1921, and will be succeeded by his brother Gerald, in whose house he died.

The funeral will be held at Lord Balfour's Scottish home at Whittingehamme.

From the time he entered parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life he figured as an important factor in British politics. He visited America as head of the British commission in 1917 and was a member of the British delegation to the Washington Arms Conference in 1922.

Famous for Balfour Note.

He was most famous perhaps for the so-called Balfour note in which Great Britain renounced all postwar claims in Continental Europe, both from her allies and Germany, beyond what was needed to pay her own debts in America.

King George sent the following message to Gerald Balfour:

"The death of Lord Balfour will evoke throughout the empire and in many other parts of the world feelings of deep sorrow which the queen and I fully share. It is a national loss of a great statesman, one of the last ministers of Queen Victoria's reign. I shall treasure his memory as a life-long friend, a great and charming personality, a wise and trusted counselor."

Prime Minister MacDonald, informed almost at once of the Earl's death declared: "It is the end of a long, useful life and the whole nation will unite in expressing its regret and in paying its tribute."

American officials yesterday paid affectionate tribute to the memory of Lord Balfour, the British statesman who died at Woking. As head of the British delegation, Lord Balfour was one of the great figures of the Washington Naval Conference in 1921.

Chief Justice Hughes, who as Secretary of State headed the American delegation to that conference, said yesterday:

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Lord Balfour. My association with him in the work of the Washington conference is one of the most delightful memories of my life. In his intellectual quality and breadth of vision he represented the highest type of statesmanship."

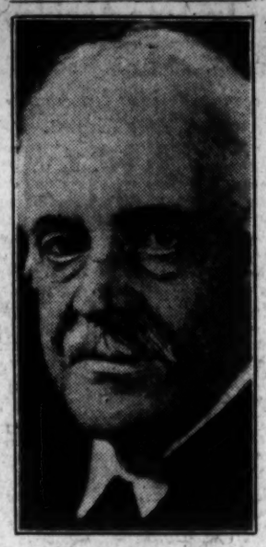

Power Company Seeks To Buy City Utilities

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., March 19.—The Appalachian Power Co. has offered to buy the Martinsville municipally owned electric plant for $750,000, also the municipally owned telephone service for $25,000.

At the same time it has announced the building of new low-tension lines from near Martinsburg to Ridgeway with the plan of tying in with the furniture factories which at present operate their own steam power plants. The sum offered will more than pay off Martinsville's bonded indebtedness.

Wheat Situation Is Dr. Stine Topic

Market Will Strengthen in May, Economist Says at Martinsburg.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 19.—Dullness of the wheat market during March and April, but with substantial strengthening in May, June and July was predicted by Dr. C. C. Stine, principal economist of the United States Department of Agriculture, speaking here last night at a resumption of the series of crop-marketing conferences for the Eastern panhandle.

World supplies of wheat are around 200,000,000 bushels short of last year's supply, he said, and wheat buying in larger quantities will probably shortly be done by Europe and the Orient, which have been using up available stocks and making use of substitutes for wheat for reasons of economy.

The predicted rise depends, he said, upon several factors. One is the wheat acreage planted; if acreage is reduced, and abandonment of winter wheat is as high as or higher than usual, there should be a noticeable stiffening of prices. The West-Northwest farmers who grow spring wheat hold the situation in their hands now. If they choose to reduce their plantings of wheat they can insure a good price, at least temporarily.

Game Commission Change Advocated

Speaker Favors One-Man Plan With Pay and Full Time.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 19.—A one-man commission, instead of the present three-man arrangement, was advocated for the State Game, Fish and Forestry Commission by Vernon E. Johnson, Berkeley Springs, at present chairman of the commission, in an address before several hundred sportsmen here last night.

He explained that the commission handles approximately a quarter of a million dollars annually and does work which requies such close study and attention that it deserves more careful scrutiny than is possible under the three-man no-pay present plan. He favors having a one-man authority who would give his entire time to the work and would be paid for it.

Mr. Johnson also recommended a short-term tourist license for the State for nonresidents and an appropriation from the State for forestry work, funds for which are at present being taken from the license fees. He favors applying all license fee money to the work of restocking the State's fields and streams.

Aged Winchester Woman Dies of Severe Injuries

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., March 19.—Mrs. Joanna Glenn, an aged widow, formerly of Frederick County, died today on being removed to a hospital from her apartment, after she had been severely burned about the face and body. She was alone at the time, occupying a first-floor room.

Charles Taylor, living above, heard her screams, discovered the cause and called neighbors. She was ablaze from head to foot, and her bed was also burning. She is thought to have risen to light a lamp and the match broke in two, the piece falling to the floor igniting her nightrobe. A son, Fred Smith, by a former marriage survives.

IRENE SCHROEDER PLEADS "IMPULSE"

Defense of Woman, Facing Capital Charge, to Be on Insanity Basis.

SOBS SHAKE DEFENDANT

Newcastle, Pa., March 19 (A.P.).—The "irresistible impulse" was injected again into the murder trial of Irene Schroeder here today. Judge R. L. Hildebrand is to rule tomorrow whether the defense has introduced evidence in support of an "irresistible impulse to rob" on the part of the defendant, who is charged with killing a highway patrolman following a store hold-up.

This announcement came late today after Mrs. Schroeder had been subjected to hours of cross-examination by Special Prosecutor Charles J. Margiotti.

In opening for the defense on Monday, Attorney Ben Jarrett said it would be shown the defendant was "governed by an irresistible impulse" and that the defense would base its case on "what the law terms insanity." He said Mrs. Schroeder would admit she was at the scene of the killing, but would deny having fired the fatal shot.

"Irresistible Impulse" Not Recognized.

The Commonwealth objected, asserting the laws of Pennsylvania did not recognize the claim of "irresistible impulse" as a motive for a crime, and the court sustained the objection.

The defendant admitted that she signed herself as "The Trigger Woman" in a letter she wrote to a Mrs. Dawson while in jail in Arizona, where she was captured after the Paul shooting with W. Glenn Dague, indicted with her for the slaying. She said a letter written her by Mrs. Dawson was addressed to "The Trigger Woman" and that she signed herself the same way in her reply.

Dague was called back to the stand after Mrs. Schroeder had been excused, but he declined to answer questions put to him by the special prosecutor although the Court suggested that the witness make reply.

Dague Refuses to Answer.

After Dague had refused to say whether his gun or one he had previously testified he bought for Mrs. Schroeder had been purchased first, Mrs. Schroeder was recalled and asked the same question. She said Dague's gun was purchased first.

The defendant started to weep as Dague persistently declined to answer the questions of Margiotti and she continued to sob as she left the witness stand.

Prosecutor Margiotti today sent a telegram to A. J. Kobler, president of the New York Daily Mirror, informing him that an information was being prepared charging him, the Daily Mirror, James Whittaker and others with compounding a felony and conspiracy to compound a felony. The action, he said, was a result of the failure of Whitaker to appear with the manuscript of a "life history" of Mrs. Schroeder, which the paper is publishing. "Withholding of this information requested of you and James Whitaker constitutes under the Pennsylvania law a crime of compounding a felony," the message said.

Victim of Accident Is Critically Hurt

Chestertown Young Man Suffers Broken Arms in Auto Crash.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chestertown, Md., March 19.—Relatives of John Hadaway have been notified by Easton Emergency Hospital physicians that the 25-year-old victim of an automobile accident last Monday night is in a serious condition. He suffered a broken arm, a broken wrist and internal injuries, near Starkeys Corner in Queen Annes County, when a car driven by his cousin, Jesse Hadaway, turned turtle. Carroll Hogans, a friend of the boys, was killed and the driver hurt, though not seriously.

Several weeks ago Tilden C. Hadaway, father of the lad now lying at death's door, went to the Easton Hospital for treatment and was a patient there when his son was brought in unconscious, following the accident.

Both are still there, though the father has improved and nearly recovered from his ailment. Coroner Charles Walls, of Centerville, had been postponing an inquest until the Hadaway boys return from the hospital. The blame for the accident has not yet been fixed.

Law to Protect Citizens' Heads.

Morgantown, W. Va., March 19 (Special).—People have been struck on the head by articles toppling from window ledges to such an extent lately that the Morgantown City Council has passed a law to prevent such accidents. Hereafter milk bottles, flower pots and other heavy objects may not be placed on window sills, cornices or porches under penalty of a fine of $1 to $10.

Treasurer's Funds Suspected Short

$13,863 Deficiency Shown in Books of Culpeper County Official.

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., March 19.—An apparent shortage of $13,863 in the funds of County Treasurer S. Russell Smith, was reported today to the Culpeper County Board of Supervisors. The audit showing that this gamount was due the county funds covered a period which ended February 11 of this year, and was made by representatives of the State treasurer.

Mr. Smith has served as county treasurer for approximately forty years. He went out of office in 1912 but was reelected in 1920 and is now serving for the third time since that year, his present term being due to expire December 31, 1931. Last November he suffered a stroke of paralysis and has not been in the office since that time, the work being carried on by assistants. He is 78 years old. Commonwealth's Attorney Roger A. Bickers tonight stated that he had been instructed by the supervisors to take all steps necessary to protect the county's interests.

Among those familiar with conditions in Culpeper County, the theory was advanced tonight that it was possible that the shortage might be due to the treasurer reporting unpaid tax bills as paid, a form of accommodation which has been much practiced by Virginia county treasurers in the past.

Canned Goods Bill Affects Virginia

State Will Be Represented at House Committee Hearing.

Richmond, Va., March 20 (A.P.).—Virginia will be represented at hearings in Washington before the House committee on agriculture on the Hope bill for inspection and grading of canned goods by J. H. Meek, director of the division of markets of the State Department of Agriculture. The hearings will take place March 26 and 27.

A number of Virginia manufacturers of canned goods are expected to appear in regard to the bill, which is of considerable interest in this State. According to Mr. Meek, Virginia canned goods manufacturers generally favor the measure.

It authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate the processing, classifying, grading and labeling of canned goods, which in the bill are defined as "any fruits or vegetables which are in hermetically sealed containers and are sterilized by heat."

The Secretary of Agriculture is further authorized to establish grades for canned goods, these grades to be the official standard for the United States; and the Secretary also may fix tentative grades prior to establishing official standards.

Pennsylvania Editors Will Visit in Virginia

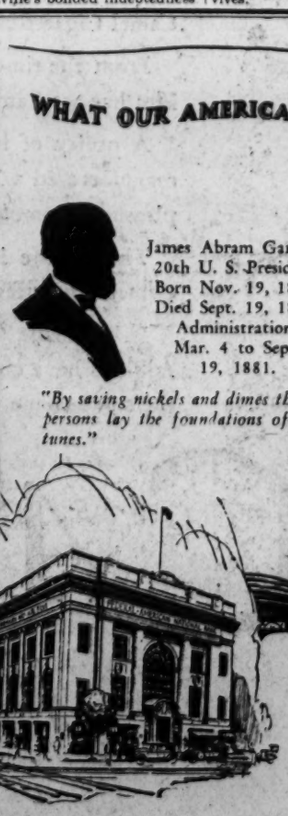

Richmond, Va., March 19 (A.P.).—The visit next month of the Georgia Press Association to Virginia is to be followed in June by a trip of about 250 editors of Pennsylvania to this State.

The Pennsylvania party, the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce announced, will travel through Virginia from June 27 to 29, visiting Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg.

Hyattsville Girl Succumbs to Injuries Suffered in Gaithersburg.

OTHER ACCIDENTS NOTED

Death hovered near two Washingtonians last night after taking another in two serious automobile accidents of the day before. Chief Machinist's Mate William F. Scott, 38 years old, champion parachute jumper of the Navy, was in Casualty Hospital with skull and jaw fractures, while Miss Kathleen Mahoney, 22 years old, of 831 Third street northeast, was in a grave condition from internal injuries and severe facial cuts at the Montgomery County General Hospital Sandy Spring, Md.

Miss Marjorie Sikken, 20 years old, of Hyattsville, died yesterday morning several hours after Austin Snoots, 56 years old, of 5919 Georgia avenue, both victims of an accident near Gaithersburg, Md., while returning from a dance at Brunswick.

The car plunged down a six-foot embankment and struck a tree on the Middlebrooke hill of the Frederick pike. Wilbur Hodges, of Hyattsville a fourth occupant of the car, escaped unhurt. No inquest will be held according to Maryland authorities, as Snoots was the driver of the automobile.

Hurt as Auto Skids.

Mr. Scott was injured when an automobile, operated by George C. King, 22 years old, of 4923 Fourth street northeast, skidded on wet streets in the 400 block of Ninth street and crashed into a tree. Mr. King was only slightly hurt.

Police said Mr. King attempted to avoid striking another vehicle and crashed over the curbing into the tree. Mr. Scott was taken from the wreckage unconscious.

In 1928 Mr. Scott astounded naval officials by making a 15,200-foot parachute jump, landing on an apartment house roof at Third and E streets.

He lives at 529 Ninth street southeast, has had many narrow escapes during parachute jumps. Once during a jump at Hammondsport, N. Y., his rubber diving suit, designed to keep a jumper afloat in water, ripped when his parachute opened. He was pulled beneath the water several times before he was rescued by a naval crew.

Woman Is Injured.

Mrs. Fannie Hoover, 70 years old, of 915 New York avenue northwest, was knocked down by taxicab driven by Carl Eidhammer, 52 years old, of Alexandria, Va., at the intersection of New Jersey and New York avenues last night as she was crossing the street. She refused hospital treatment, however, and was apparently uninjured.

The condition of the three persons injured in the automobile turnover on the Baltimore boulevard Sunday night, was said by hospital authorities in Baltimore to be considerably better last night. It was thought that all three would recover.

The injured persons are: Miss Ethel Randolph, 18 years old, of O street near Thirteenth street northwest; Mrs. Gertrude Cephillie, 23 years old, of Harrison, N. J., and Howard O. Burnell.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Samuel Mathews, George Posey and Mrs. Howard O. Burnell, victims of the accident.

11 Parents Are Jailed In Red Demonstration

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—Eleven parents of fifteen children who remained out of school March 6 to attend the Communist unemployment demonstration in Union Square, were sent to jail today when they were convicted of violation of the State educational law.

The parents, seven of them women, chose jail sentences instead of fines. Two women, whose children remained out of school all day and four others, who had two children absent, must spend two days in jail. The others were released at 4 p. m. after a technical day in jail. Frank Craig, Bronx truant officer, charged that the parents were guilty of delinquency in keeping their children out of school.

Jury to Try Mae West And Others Completed

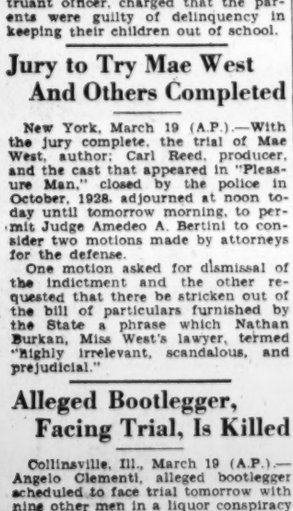

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—With the jury complete, the trial of Mae West, author; Carl Reed, producer, and the cast that appeared in "Pleasure Man," closed by the police in October, 1928, adjourned at noon today until tomorrow morning, to permit Judge Amedeo A. Bertini to consider two motions made by attorneys for the defense.

One motion asked for dismissal of the indictment and the other requested that there be stricken out of the bill of particulars furnished by the State a phrase which Nathan Burkan, Miss West's lawyer, termed "highly irrelevant, scandalous, and prejudicial."

Alleged Bootlegger, Facing Trial, Is Killed

Collinsville, Ill., March 19 (A.P.).—Angelo Clementi, alleged bootlegger scheduled to face trial tomorrow with nine other men in a liquor conspiracy case, was lured from his home here early today by two men posing as Federal agents. His body, pierced with five bullets, was found later beside a highway between Collinsville and East St. Louis.

Authorities believe he was shot to death in the car and his body thrown out beside the highway. Investigators are working on a theory that he was killed either to prevent him from turning Government evidence against his codefendants or to intimidate others who might "talk."

between 25 and 33 per cent of the men in them were under the influence of intoxicating liquors. During a recent smallpox scare in Chicago, it added, 500 men in a hotel were vaccinated and not one of them was found to be under the influence of drink. Her statement said Bowery workers in New York "still declared without the slightest hesitation that conditions are fully 70 per cent better in every way than before the prohibition law was enacted."

Beer Plan Not Discussed.

Another development in the prohibition controversy was the announcement by Representative Dyer (Republican), Missouri, that the law enforcement commission was continuing its study of his 2.75 per cent beer proposal. He said he had been advised that Chairman George W. Wickersham, of the commission, was not speaking for that group when he remarked after a Senate judiciary committee meeting that he did not believe that 2.75 per cent beer would satisfy "robust appetites."

A statement prepared by Dr. S. E. Nicholson, of New York, chairman of the National Board of the Society of Friends of Prohibition and Public Morals, to be filed with the House judiciary committee against measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment, suggested five remedies for conditions against which, he said, the wets were proclaiming. The statement has not been accepted by the committee.

The remedies proposed the immediate transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit to the Justice Department; speeding up trials of liquor cases; keeping efficient prohibition administrators and agents at definite posts; urging the States to enliven enforcement, and urging people to center their activities on "essentials of observance and enforcement."

Booth Bares Beliefs.

Commander Booth wrote that prohibition had not resulted in forcing the Salvation Army to take care of girls of tender years as compared with preprohibition days. She said that greater freedom and the wider use of automobiles were "a fruitful source today of youthful misconduct."

Mr. Taft, who is head master of the Taft School for Boys at Watertown, told the committee that his distinguished brother had opposed the eighteenth amendment before its adoption, but that after the will of the people had been expressed he advocated observance and respect of prohibition.

Former Secretary Daniels, who is a newspaper publisher in Raleigh, N. C., told the committee that the wets had proposed no substitute for prohibition, and that there was but one alternative to national prohibition—the return of the "old saloon."

Asserting that the prohibition law could be enforced, he said that "the advocates of prohibition were too confident that the people would accept the law."

1,000 Greek Maidens Write America in Hunt for Mates

Same Number of Swains to Sail Friday for Homeland, Where They Will Choose Brides After Photographic Inspection En Route.

New York, March 19 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—One thousand marriageable Greek maidens have written to America for husbands, inclosing photographs.

These portraits, sealed in one package, are now in the care of Amelio Emboldi, purser of the Cosulich Liner Saturnia. They were given to him at the last Greek port of call on the vessel's last voyage to this country, with instructions to distribute them among the unmarried male members of the Order of Ahepa, a national fraternal society of 33,000 American citizens of Greek origin.

One thousand of the society's members have engaged passage on the ship, which sails Friday for Greece, anticipating marriage to women of their own nationality. A flock of Helens, Aphrodites, Abasias and Melpomenes plan to meet the ship in Piraeus, the harbor of Athens, the capital city of Greece.

Once beyond the 12-mile limit, wine chests and photographs will be unsealed. The wine will be served in the bar, the photographs will be displayed in the lounge. During the voyage Constantine, Pericles, Aristides, Jason and Xenophon each will familiarize himself with his prospective wife. Success in choice will be a matter of the survival of the fittest.

The ceremonies are planned to coincide with the celebration of a century of Greek independence. The grand excursion to get married appears, from reports, to have originated on the principle of independence for the state and shackles for the individual. But these marriages will be about as ideal as 1,000 anxious women can make them. They expect their husbands to remain independent, though married. Their policy is to please, for now in Greece the girls are in a majority because so many young men have gone to the United States to open lunchrooms, flower shops and candy stores.

Tomorrow night the sailing Romeos will attend a farewell party at the Star Casino. On board ship they will be addressed by Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, and George E. Phillies, Buffalo attorney, supreme president of the Order of Ahepa. At Naples the mayor will greet them, and Greek battleships will escort the Saturnia the rest of the way to Piraeus.

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—Supreme Court Justice John Ford today reserved decision on a motion for a jury trial for William Z. Foster, Communist leader, and four other men whom police accuse of responsibility for the Union Square riot of March 6.

Declaring, however, that he was inclined to grant the action, Justice Ford told Assistant District Attorney Albert B. Unger that "these people want publicity" and that by opposing the motion Unger was "playing into their hands." He granted Unger a delay until tomorrow afternoon to submit a memorandum in opposition.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

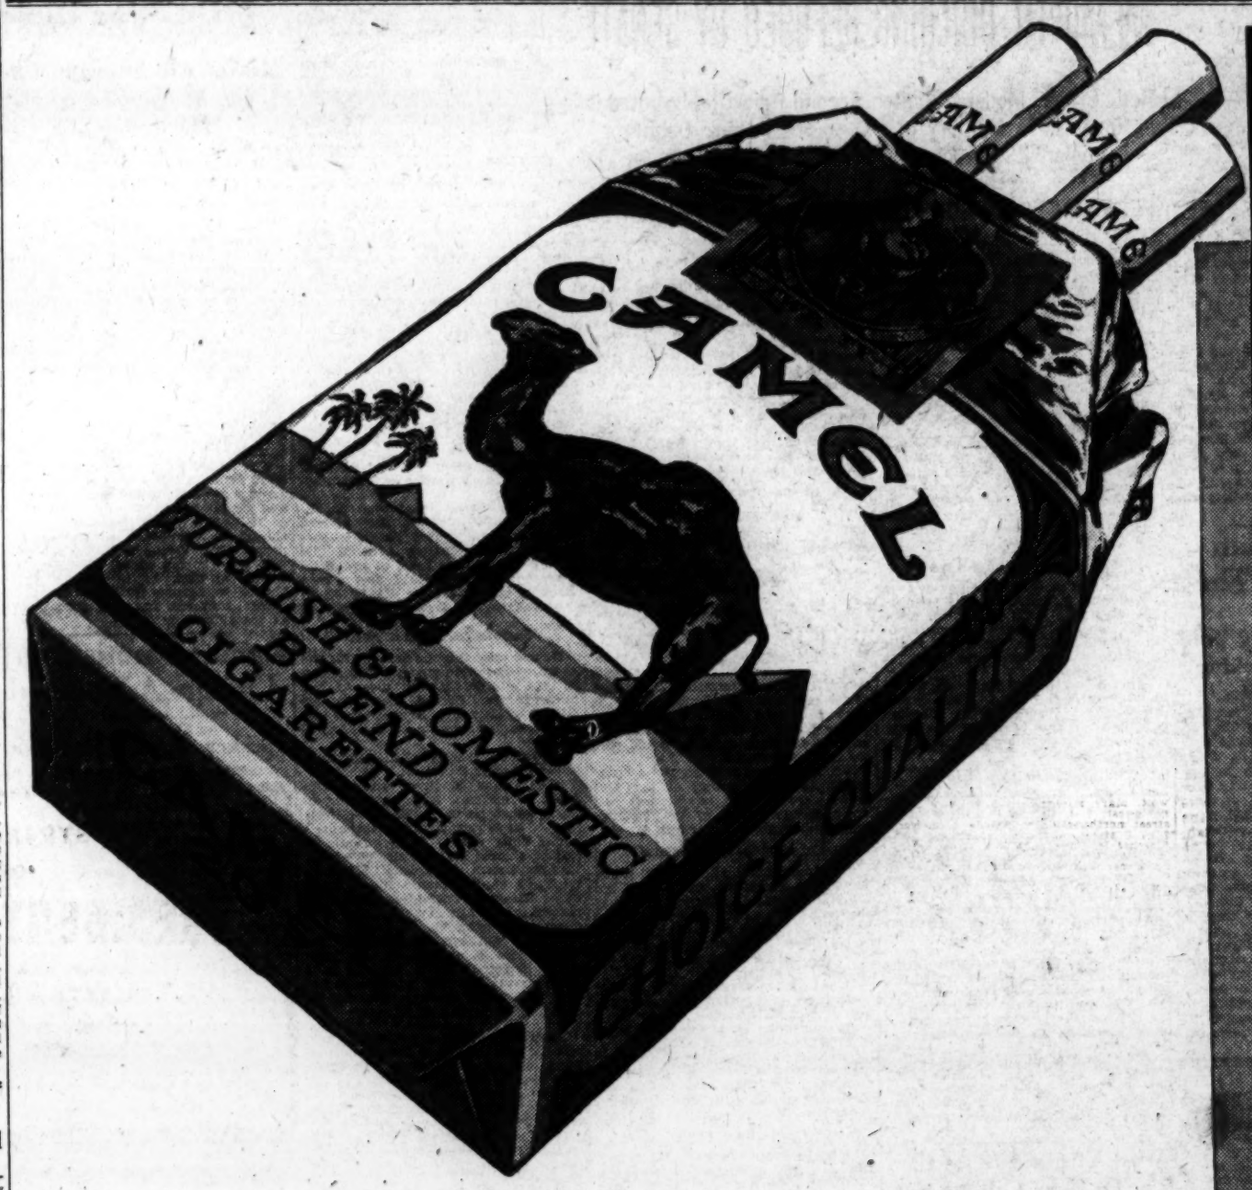

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. To prove this for your own sake, it may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

DE RIVERA AT REST AS SPAIN MOURNS

Former Dictator Is Buried Beside Body of Wife After Impressive Rites.

SERVICES HELD IN RAIN

Madrid, March 19 (A.P.).—Primo de Rivera rests in a soldier's grave, honored with the highest tributes a nation can bestow.

The body of the man who ruled Spain as a dictator for six years, then went into exile, was placed beside the body of his wife in San Isidro Cemetery today. Rain-soaked flowers tonight were piled high on the grave that was closed with the honors befitting a captain general in the army and a premier in the civic establishment.

Premier Damaso Berenguer and foremost dignitaries of the country, including King Alfonso, participated in the funeral. The king did not march in the procession to the ceremony, but attended the mass in the North Station before the funeral march began. Several hundred thousand persons swarmed about the station, where the body rested in a special chapel, while masses were said half-hourly. So great was the jam that the king, foreign diplomats, churchmen, officers and others had difficulty in entering the station.

Planes Soar Above.

The casket resting on a caisson was drawn to the cemetery by six prancing black horses. Don Fernando Bourbon followed it as a representative of the king. He is a cousin of Alfonso. Marching behind were Premier Berenguer, members of his cabinet and other officials, diplomats and churchmen.

A 21-gun salute boomed from the distant hills, muffled drums rolled a dead march, and army airplanes soared above as the cortege passed through the streets lined with infantry and cavalry.

The Last Review.

Midway between the station and the cemetery, the caisson halted in the center of the plaza fronting the Toledo Bridge, while the former dictator's two chargers stood behind the coffin and priests chanted beside the body, soldiers of Spain passed in review for the last time before the captain general who so often had stood at salute as they swung past, their brilliant uniforms and polished accoutrements sparkling in a bright sun.

Once more the drums rolled and the march to the cemetery resumed, now in a drizzling rain.

The cemetery was reached and "the benevolent dictator" was placed in his grave. Flowers were laid gently upon it, the troops wheeled about for the return march, and Primo de Rivera was at rest.

61 CHARGES PLACED IN BURGLARY CASE

Man Who Attempted to Date Robbery Victim Faces Even More Counts.

WILL INQUIRE FURTHER

Held on charges involving more than 61 cases of housebreaking, the theft of more than $1,000 worth of lingerie and apparel belonging for the most part to unmarried women in apartments in the northwest section of the District, George Emmet Hicks, who gave an address of C street, near Third street northwest, is being held for further investigation.

Late Tuesday night the man's amorous overtures to a young woman on Kenyon street, near Thirteenth street northwest, Miss Nina Owings, led to his capture by detectives of the Tenth Precinct and his subsequent arrest on 60 other counts.

Police say that Hicks has had in mind the "dating" of the young women in the apartments, and the leaving of obscene notes, rather than robbing their apartments.

Seven more charges were placed against him during the day, headquarters detectives said, bringing the total from 54 to 61. More charges, the officers said, are in prospect.

WHAT ABOUT MEXICO?

The United States and Mexican governments have again failed to agree upon the selection of a neutral member of the General Claims Commission. Mr. Foster, of Chile, had been agreed upon, but he declined the appointment. Apparently a few months more are to be wasted in futile efforts to agree upon a commissioner.

Every day's delay in the functioning of the commission works to the advantage of Mexican exploiters of confiscated American property in Mexico and against the American owners. Eleven months were lost in 1927 before a third commissioner could be named, and then the selection was made by The Hague tribunal after Mexico and the United States had reached a deadlock.

Since all claims on both sides must be adjudicated before any claimant can obtain relief, all that the Mexican government need do is to delay the functioning of the commission in order to postpone indefinitely the reimbursement of Americans who have been robbed of their Mexican property. There are hundreds of such claims, running back to 1915. Only about 5 per cent of the claims have been adjudicated. At the rate of progress made by the commission it will be 120 years before any American claimant can be reimbursed. During the interim, American property confiscated in Mexico is enjoyed by Mexican appropriators.

The American and Mexican commissioners themselves are not at fault. They are ready to go ahead, and of course the claimants in both countries are anxiously waiting for relief. The commission has not functioned since last July. Apparently the State Department is in deadly fear that Mexico may be offended if a demand should be made for early agreement upon a third arbitrator, or that he should be selected by The Hague tribunal. About $200,000,000 worth of American property remains unconfiscated in Mexico, and if Mexico should be annoyed it might take over everything that remains.

Secretary Stimson and Ambassador Morrow are in London, too busy to be bothered by the importunities of Americans whose properties in Mexico have been confiscated. The State Department is in the doldrums, hanging upon the outcome of the interminable talkfest in London. If anybody in the department has the authority to exert pressure upon the Mexican government as a means of preventing the breakdown of the claims commission operations he is either timid or negligent. The situation is all to the advantage of Mexican usurpers of American property. No better arrangement could be made to deprive Americans of their property without recourse or hope of recompense.

The United States Government has gone to the limit of courtesy in dealing with Mexico, but it has not obtained even decent treatment in return. Mexico has not paid one cent of its debts, and its tactics in delaying the functions of the claims commission reveal only too clearly that it intends to defraud American claimants if it can. The net results of Ambassador Morrow's well-advertised diplomatic triumphs in Mexico are nil.

OBSCENITY BARRED.

The Senate, without a roll call, has restored to the tariff bill a provision excluding obscene and seditious foreign books. Senator Cutting, champion of free and unlimited importation of foreign books, was left high and dry in the debate. His plea that classical and meritorious modern literature might be kept from America by a brutal Government censorship was shown to be fallacious. The effect of his amendment, accepted by the Senate in committee of the whole, would have been to open the doors of America to unspeakably vile foreign books.

It is easy to argue that the Bible, Shakespeare, and many ancient books contain matter that can be classed as "obscene," and that, therefore, a censorship against obscenity would rob the American people of the opportunity to import such works. But the argument is flimsy and sophomoric. Unadulterated and deliberately base works are written and printed abroad, to be sold surreptitiously in the United States, and Congress would be merely an agent for the dissemination of immorality and sedition if it did not debar such works.

The courts, and not customs inspectors, are made final judges of the character of books seized by the customs service because of their apparent obscenity. This is a change for the better. That Congress would have eliminated censorship altogether was inconceivable.

"BIGGEST BANK IN THE WORLD."

Consolidation of the Chase National Bank, the Equitable Trust Co. and the Interstate Trust Co., effected in New York this week, will create the largest bank in the world. The new concern, with resources in excess of $2,800,000,000, will have total deposits of almost $2,100,000,000 and total capital funds of almost $500,000,000. Chase National, when the consolidation is completed, will top the National City Bank of New York by $600,000,000 in resources, and the Midland Bank, of London, by almost $700,000,000.

The National City Bank of New York has been most active in the race for banking-size supremacy. Last fall it had perfected a plan for merging with the Corn Exchange Bank when the stock market collapsed, upsetting the plan for securities exchange that had been agreed upon, and forcing the abandonment of the scheme. The National City, however, is not likely to sit by while its position at the head of the list of American banks is taken by another. Wall street is inclined to believe that the bank has merger schemes under way at the present time. This rivalry follows the merger tendency in other lines of activity, and its excuse is the larger profit made possible by increased efficiency, greater resources and the fact that the merger movement in other business fields carries with it a demand for more extensive banking facilities.

If the merger movement continues a money monopoly ultimately may be created. The new Chase National will have 52 branch offices; National City has that many or more. As the consolidation movement proceeds, branch banking promises to play a more and more important part in the financial life of the Nation. Somewhere a halt must be called.

FILMS IN SWEDEN AND BULGARIA.

American motion pictures have aroused opposition in some European countries because of their alleged "Americanizing" effect, but Sweden and Bulgaria have a different opinion of American films.

In Sweden films of all sorts are exhibited in school auditoriums for educational purposes. The schools rent a motion picture theater in which the films are shown. The expenses are defrayed by school authorities, thus eliminating the charge of an entrance fee. The largest film concern in the country distributes about 1,000 school films each week for the benefit of about 1,500 schools. There are French, German and English films registered in the company's catalogue, as well as American films to the extent of 10 per cent of the total number; but most of the films are produced in the company's own studios in Sweden.

Bulgaria is also using motion pictures for educational purposes. The Bulgarian ministry of education reports that in the past year it has shown films in more than 500 villages to half a million people. Trucks which carry movie outfits visit school yards, town halls and village greens where the pictures are shown. The world's best live stock is exhibited before the eyes of the peasants; pictures of the farming industry in America are shown as well as model farm homes in which the housewives demonstrate how to prepare meals and mothers show the proper care of children.

Audiences in Sweden and Bulgaria are eager to profit in new ideas through the use of motion pictures. The American films open up for them splendid opportunities for acquiring knowledge of modern ways of living.

SOUTHERN FEDERAL JOBS.

President Hoover's methods of handling patronage in the South apparently has the approval of every one, except the partisan members of the Senate committee which investigated conditions. A year ago Mr. Hoover announced his intention of uprooting the disreputable elements of the Republican organization in the South, and there is every reason to believe that he has succeeded. By bringing in a report that is a year behind the times the committee contributes nothing toward improvement of conditions. Its report appears to be an unwarranted attempt to embarrass the administration.

Incidents to which the committee refers were corrected by the broad general policy adopted by President Hoover soon after he entered the White House. "Under instructions to the various departments," he says, "a system has been established by which those reprehensible practices have been absolutely stopped and the system of purchase and sale of appointments, so far as it existed, has been ended. All Federal officials known to have engaged in such practices have either resigned or been removed." A controversy between the old and new patronage organizations of South Carolina has resulted in indiscriminate charges of corruption. These are being investigated by the Department of Justice, and President Hoover can be depended upon to take any action necessary to prevent traffic in Federal offices.

The committee deviated from its general purpose to make charges against two Federal officials who are in no way connected with distribution of patronage. But these are also under scrutiny of the Department of Justice. The committee's inferences that the administration is winking at the commercialization of Southern patronage are wholly unjustified.

President Hoover is anxious to build up a strong and respectable Republican organization in the South. The best interests of the party as well as those of the Southern States and the country as a whole demand that he be given support in this project. The situation can not be improved by dragging out old charges and irrelevant issues calculated to discredit the efforts of the party to set its own house in order.

BRAZIL'S PRESIDENT COMING.

Julio Prestes, who was recently elected president of Brazil, plans a visit to the United States prior to his inauguration. A dispatch from Rio de Janeiro indicates that he will leave on his tour about May 10. The seeds sown by President Hoover are bearing fruit.

This proposed visit indicates the growing importance of the United States of Brazil in the South American family of nations. Brazil has been developing rapidly in recent years, both politically and economically. Statesmen who are directing the affairs of Brazil are broadening their horizon and assuming a new position in world affairs.

A second point of significance is the implied friendship for this country. The Latin-American nations are coming to recognize their common interests with the United States. They are conscious of the phenomenal development of trade between the two continents. Cultivation of friendship and understanding is quite as important to them as it is to this country.

President Hoover carried the spirit of good will to Latin America as no other emissary of this Government has done. His tour brought an immediate response of friendship from the South and Central American peoples, but it also had a far-reaching effect. President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico recently followed Mr. Hoover's example, and now Senhor Prestes purposes to do likewise. The Americas will be reaping the benefits of President Hoover's neighborly gesture for many years.

"Stimson and MacDonald are at odds." That makes it unanimous.

BRITAIN'S FOOD PROBLEM

By Admiral WILFRED HENDERSON, R. N.,
In the London Times.

Admiral Fremantle, in a recent letter to you, reminds you of the colossally disproportionate number of cruisers required in the early days of the great war to run down two little German cruisers, one loose in the Atlantic and the other in the Indian Ocean. He then proceeds to draw from this fact the deduction that a very much greater number of British cruisers would be required in the event of more than two small enemy cruisers being loose on our trade routes. I know of no justification in history for this theory that the safety of our supply routes is dependent on a multiplicity of small cruisers, but I do know of a very significant instance in history to the contrary, and my verdict on the hypothetical situation envisaged by Admiral Fremantle is that if the number of "loose" enemy cruisers were multiplied, the problem of the safety of our trade routes in terms of small cruisers would become frankly insoluble.

Apart from the historical instance just referred to and to which I shall allude again presently, I derive my faith from a good source—no less an authority, in fact, than my old chief, Lord Fisher. In one of his terse dicta he described small cruisers as "too weak to fight and too slow to run away." The "Dreadnought" battle cruisers were the children of this faith, and there could be no better exemplification of it than the battles of Coronel and the Falkland Islands. In the former the British weak cruisers were overwhelmed by the superior Germans, and in the latter the tables were turned by the very battle cruisers which he, Lord Fisher, designed for just such occasions—it was his triumph! He "scrapped" as many small cruisers as he could, and he knew better than his short-sighted critics what he was about; he remembered the lesson, almost forgotten in this country, which the United States of America taught themselves and us in 1812, when the superfrigates President, Constitution and their four sisters, with their superior size, speed and armament, practically swept the British frigates—the cruisers of those days—off the seas.

I assert without hesitation that if we continue to cherish the delusion that a multiplicity of small cruisers is going to secure our trade routes in war with any power of approximately equivalent naval strength to our own, then we are living in a fool's paradise. If a ship of the type of the new German supercruiser got loose at sea against our trade in war, we should be compelled not only to resort to convoying our trade, but we should have to escort the convoys with the biggest cruisers we possess—that very type of cruiser, in fact, which Lord Fisher designed and eventually handed to Admiral Sturdee to wipe the weaker German squadron off the seas. De Ruyter used the whole of his fleet to convoy the Dutch trade in our wars with Holland. What use were our small cruisers while the German squadron was still intact? None at all!—the mere presence of the German squadron "in being" was sufficient to drive all our trade into its boltholes.

If we want security for our population from starvation in war time, the sensible course for us to pursue is to surrender frankly our medieval conception of the rights of belligerents and the nonrights of neutrals in war, and agree with the United States of America in their long and consistently held view of freedom of the seas except in blockaded waters. This will at least insure our food supplies—they will arrive in neutral bottoms, and British shipping must be convoyed. Du reste, naval warfare will then be as it was in the past—namely, an affair of navies; the civil population will no longer be the catspaw, and naval war will be decided (unless limitation of tonnage and gun-caliber are agreed upon) by the nation possessing the largest, fastest and most heavily armed vessels—no amount of small cruisers will be of any avail whatever.

More Oppression.

Lorain Journal: The police in some cities are threatening motorists with arrest if they don't keep their license plates clean. Eventually they'll have the nerve to make a driver wash his windshield so he can see where he's going.

Breaks Against Her.

Milwaukee Journal: A Missouri woman, who went to the home of another to play auction bridge, slipped on the polished floor and sued for $20,000 damages. She didn't get a cent. Games of chance often are disappointing.

He Wins All Honors.

Public Ledger: For the authorship of the most graphic phrase of the year we nominate the Philadelphia reporter who described a volatile millionaire clubman as having entered his estranged wife's fashionable apartment "brandishing an olive branch in a warlike manner." And we move, also, that nominations be closed.

Try Changing Textbooks.

Liberty Center Press: We see by the paper that up in Michigan the president of a board of education has been arrested for acquiring $15,000 illegally and we guess the next time we are elected president of a board of education we'll go up in Michigan to do it, as there doesn't seem much chance of getting that much being president of the board of education we are now president of, either legally or illegally.

READING-TIME.

If I shall ever be
Eighty-one or two or three,
If I still can sit and read
I shall happy be, indeed.

In that wrinkled time and gray
If my sight is good I may
Con those volumes I have owned
And their reading long postponed.

To those books I've often said:
"Some day soon you will be read,
Some day soon I'll run you through
As I long have meant to do."

But in days of haste and speed,
When can anybody read?
In these days of radio
Books must only be for show.

But if I shall live to be
Eighty-one or two or three,
I may find the time I need
To sit quietly and read.

Moderns Can Be Pioneers If They Have the Pioneer Spirit

By ROBERT QUILLEN

THIS is written for the jobless—discouraged city people who are tired of the endless struggle to keep up with the crowd and eager to find security, peace and freedom.

Last month I bought a farm—50 acres of fairly good land that can be persuaded to grow anything, a pasture for several cows and a pleasant little stream fed by a spring, enough yellow pine to provide fuel in perpetuity, a deep well, a metal-covered barn, and a house that can be lived in when the roof is repaired.

The cost was $1,000—50 acres at $20 an acre.

But I got many things not mentioned in the deed—squirrels that scolded us from their safe retreat in a white oak, rabbits that darted from clumps of grass at our approach, robins, doves, bluebirds, red birds and mocking birds that seemed unafraid, a beautiful view of rolling hills, air as pure and sweet as earth affords, and the glorious sunshine of late February in the Carolinas.

All this for $1,000, and with it a brooding, contented quiet, unbroken except by the birds at their courting, and the promise of absolute security, absolute peace, absolute liberty.

In this region, where the hot months are no hotter than in the North and the winters so mild the roses still are blooming in December, there are thousands of acres lying idle because of one-crop poverty.

The small farmer barely exists because he depends wholly on cotton, buys his food at a store and feeds his stock on hay shipped so far that the freight cost alone is $22 the ton.

That is the reason land can be bought at $20 an acre.

But intelligent farmers who "live at home" are in clover; for vegetables and small fruits do well, peaches bear so bountifully they go begging at 50 cents a bushel, and the climate is ideal for poultry and cows.

What of it, you ask.

Just this: A man who isn't a farmer couldn't get rich on this cheap land, nor could he make enough profit to provide fur coats and a new car every year.

But he could live. He could grow the food for his family—meat, fruit, vegetables, butter, eggs—and have abundance all the year.

He could live as the pioneers did—simply, but without hardship—and he could have the two greatest blessings known to man: security and independence.

The city is the place for those who want big money and have the ability to get it.

But the whipped who live in "baleful discontent," and ask nothing more than a living, can find abundance in the hinterland where every man is a king in his own right.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THIS TIME OF YEAR.

The bathing and the posing die,
The tuna fishermen depart,
The social leaders northward fly,
And diving beauties homeward start.

The girls who were quite naked now
Get in the papers wearing clothes;
The magnates who just loafed—and how!—
Return to all their business woes.

The tourists into Lizzies shove
Their satchels, bags and trunks; then each
Takes final kodak pictures of
The others sitting on the beach.

The brokers pack their flannel pants
And bring their heavy woolens forth;
The chorines cut Palm Beach romance
And chase the real hot prospects North.

The mayors and the Whalens flee
And Mrs. P. Hostetters Dow
Gets two compartments, "One for me,
And one for Toots, my little chow."

The silk "pajamas" for street wear are
Now buried in the leather bags;
One bath per day now equals par,
And whippet racing slowly sags.

The plus-fours disappear from sight,
The mashie-niblick's packed away;
The man who looked so young in white
Now looks his age in blue or gray.

The race track is quite bleak and bare,
The touts about it no more roam;
The losers try to borrow fare
To get, by easy stages, home.

The mogul boards his nifty yacht,
His hundred-thousand-dollar ship,
And asks, "Is there aboard or not Sufficient gin to make the trip?"

The sheiks who so impressed the mobs
As having money, ah, no end!
Hie back to grab their store clerk jobs
At Cos Cob, Dayton and South Bend.

The word goes northward, "Stop my mail—
I'm giving Florida the shake;"
Which means the tuna and the sailFish get, at last, an even break.

Supplication.

Now I lay me down to rest,
With that d—— tax I've done my best;
I hope the agents will be long
In finding out if I am wrong.

The Supreme Court has ruled that liquor consumed by a man is not legal evidence of possession. In other words, if the police, having arrested you on a suspicion of intoxication, have impounded your breath, you can demand its return in good condition or sue.

"Give me a name for a Czechoslovakian father going down the street with his two sons," demanded Senator Dumm.

"Czech and double Czech," replied Dummer.

A Mexico City newspaper announces that it will no longer publish crime news. This means that it will not even carry a reference to future inaugurals.

"Miss Norelius to Abandon Swimming at the Altar," New York Herald Tribune headline. It looks so darned undignified, you know.

A poll at Yale shows that five out of six students drink and favor repeal of the dry law. They say that studious youths there are driven to drink by all the building operations.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Flag Does Fly at Friends' School, But It Is Not Displayed Over a Public School.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I read with considerable interest a letter in your last Sunday's edition by Paul V. Collins. He spoke of the evils of communism in our educational institutions and deplored a lack of patriotism in American schools in general and in the Friends' School of Washington in particular.

I am, myself, a student at Friends' School and so am in a position to correct a few statements made by Mr. Collins. He will, no doubt, be glad to learn that he has been misinformed about the situation there and that things are not as bad as he has been led to believe.

The American flag flies from a pole on the roof of 1809 I street (one of the buildings occupied by the Friends' School) every day in the week except Sunday. I am at a loss to explain the alleged statement of one of the teachers that the flag is not displayed because the Friends do not believe in war. He or she must not have taken the trouble to observe that the flag does fly over Friends' School. It occurs to me that many of the tales of communistic activities in this country may thus quite possibly emanate from a few unfounded statements rather than from Moscow.

Through inquiry, I learned today that in at least one of the public schools of Washington the American flag is not flown every day. It is flying now because of Mr. Hoover's request for mourning for Mr. Taft, but it does not even fly on national holidays if school is not in session.

I hope I have relieved Mr. Collins' anxiety and that now he may be able to telephone Mr. Hoover that he may keep Old Glory flying over the White House.

I also wish to assure him that Friends' School does not "misguide American youth into scorn for our Government and its symbols of patriotism." It, on the other hand, teaches that true patriotism is something deeper than the flag-waving bravado of our 100 percenters. A man's patriotism should not be measured by the number of flags he displays or the loudness of his voice yelling "Hurrah!"

Tribute to the Police Department, and Especially to the Officers and Men of the Second Precinct.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The police force of a great city is a vital element of protection to the citizens and property of such city. The duties of a policeman are not only necessary but at all times more or less hazardous. He is a soldier for the necessary protection of a community in times of peace. I have a high regard for the police force of this city, and am especially desirous at this time to speak of those comprised by what is known as the Second Police Precinct here. I have had some experience with the officers and men of that precinct and know that from Capt. Davis on through his force it would be difficult to find a finer police force. The captain is prompt to answer a call, and is very considerate, courteous, and efficient in responding to such calls. This statement of mine springs from a consciousness of my duty in the matter, and does not come from any suggestion or intimation from the Second Precinct. I truly hope that as much may be said of the members of all other precincts in this city.

Queen Mary and the "Pub"—Moderate Dry Scores Fanatics on His Side.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: If Queen Mary, after visiting a British public house, found it "cozy and homey," as reported by the press, I think it was her duty to so report her findings rather than to make some false statement as "E. Pluribus Unum" would have it, as indicated in his letter to The Post. There is no reason why such places should and are not kept in a "cozy and homey" like condition, and I, as a dry, can see no affront to society in reporting the truth about what the queen saw.

If the fanatics on our dry side would stick more to facts and have less fear for the truth about prohibition conditions, there would not be so many of the people fooled. Fanaticism on our side is doing more harm to prohibition than all that the wets can do.

Einstein Discredited by Discovery of New Planet.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Several years ago a certain German professor came to this country and delivered quite a speech by way of explaining a new discovery he had made in science.

After going through his theorem with characteristic "German thoroughness" he announced, with characteristic "German assurance," that "thus does the theory of Newton fall completely to the ground;" this in direct contradiction of the fact that the planet Neptune was even then sailing around in the sky as a tangible proof of the theory of Newton.

Now, another proof of Newton's theorem has shown up, in the locating of the ninth planet just where it was located by mathematical analysis.

Might it not appear to be time something in this line should be marked "verboten?"

Painted Safety Zones Not What They Are Painted, But a Delusion and a Snare, Like a Naval Conference.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It is now so long ago that I have forgotten when I insisted that "safety zones" marked off on the driveway surface of a street were not properly so named. And now comes President Hanna, of the Capital Traction Co., with the statement that "painted safety zones at street-car stops are a menace to car riders." Tens of thousands of street-car patrons will second President Hanna in his contention for "permanent loading platforms." The make-believe surface safety zone might meet the approval of Alice in Wonderland, but in my mind it is a delusion and a snare—by which I am reminded of world peace and the naval preponderance conference.

POPE LEADS CHURCH IN SOVIET PROTEST

Pontiff Presides at Mass in St. Peter's Basilica, Where 70,000 Kneel.

RITES ARE IMPRESSIVE

Vatican City, March 19 (A.P.).—Roman Catholics throughout the world, led by Pope Pius XI, today united in a great spiritual protest against antireligious persecution in Soviet Russia. Pope Pius himself presided at an intercessory mass in St. Peter's Basilica before a huge congregation of 70,000 persons.

Sonorous Slavonic canticles, chanted by a specially composed choir of Slavic ecclesiastics and seminarians, alternated with the more somber music sung by non-Russians at the solemn mass.

Representatives of the people for whom he prayed accompanied the pontiff with their own strangely thrilling music, virtually turning St. Peter's into a Russian national cathedral for the occasion.

The Pope enunciated the Nicene creed in a clear voice heard many yards away and made his ritual of protest most distinct. Despite his 72 years, the Pope seemed in vigorous health and stayed through the long service. He was wildly cheered upon his entrance and exit by the congregation.

Cardinals Escort Pope.

The Pontiff entered St. Peter's shortly after 10 o'clock this morning accompanied by a score of cardinals who took seats in two rows facing down the nave. He wore a white chasuble studded with gold. During the ceremony he stood at the altar directly over the tomb of St. Peter, being enabled to look out over the heads of the throng.

The service opened with a chant by the Sistine choir which was followed by the "Introit" or introduction to the mass. Soon after the choir broke into the plea of the "Kyrie Eleison" (Lord have mercy on us).

The Pope then read the gospel of the day which he followed with the Nicene creed, the entire congregation taking it up.

As the service went on it grew in deep impressiveness, a particularly solemn moment coming with the chanting of the "De Profundis" for the repose of the victims of antireligious persecution in Russia. The sacred relics of the true cross, the centurian's lance and the holy veil of St. Veronica were exposed for veneration.

Services Held in New York.

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—In compliance with the request of Pope Pius XI, low masses were said in the 444 Roman Catholic Churches of the Archdiocese of New York today as a protest against the antireligious movement in Soviet Russia.

Patrick Cardinal Hayes was celebrant of the mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Protest services also were held in a number of the Protestant churches, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Bishop William T. Manning, who has been a leader in the anti-Soviet protest, officiated at Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m.

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

NOW, already the newspaper fellows have begun to write that Mr. Davis' senatorial candidacy in Pennsylvania is embarrassing Mr. Hoover at the Cabinet table.

There sits Mr. Davis at one end of the table, it is said, and at the other, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is backing Mr. Davis' opponent, Senator Grundy.

There is no getting around the fact that the Pennsylvania race affords the most intriguing spectacle that has been witnessed for some time. But, before we try to dope it out, let's wait and see if Mr. Davis actually intends to run.

* * * *

THERE are many who think if Mr. Hoover should call Mr. Davis in and say to him: "I realize you want to go to the Senate, but you are a most important part of my administration, so important that I expect to keep you for the remainder of my term." There are many who think that if Mr. Hoover should do this Mr. Davis would make the great sacrifice and remain right where he is.

But the possibility of Mr. Hoover doing this rests upon the contingency that he likes Mr. Grundy, that he should like to see the gentleman remain in the Senate to continue to carry on the "administration" policies as he has in the past.

There are few, indeed, who believe that Mr. Hoover thinks anything of this kind.

* * * *

AND if Mr. Hoover does not look so kindly upon Mr. Grundy, if he, indeed, detests the ground upon which he walks, as many observers think, he will certainly not try to discourage Mr. Davis by asking him to remain in the Cabinet for the full four-year term.

In that event, Mr. Davis will most certainly go after Mr. Grundy's scalp. Then it will remain to be seen how the Mellons line up, whether they will be vociferously for Mr. Grundy or do their very best to keep out of the campaign.

As to what the Mellons will do eventually, there is this point to be borne in mind. The family as a whole has a lot to do with the Pennsylvania Railroad. Now Mr. W. W. Atterbury, president of that road, a salaried man after all, has come out lock, stock and barrel for Mr. William S. Vare, whose banner Mr. Davis is to carry in the campaign if he runs.

* * * *

THE thing to keep in mind anent Pennsylvania is that there are the Mellons and then there is Mr. Grundy. Ordinarily, they have been as one, but then, to repeat, there are the Mellons and then there is Mr. Grundy.

Now there is no mistaking the fact that just now the Mellons would like to see a compromise, one by which Mr. Davis would remain in the Cabinet, Mr. Grundy in the Senate, and Mr. Francis Shunk Browne, Vare's candidate, go into the governor's chair. Mr. Grundy has thought it the opportune time to crush Mr. Vare once and for all and has refused to look upon a compromise. He may change as time goes on. And in such an event Mr. Hoover may decide, after all, that he can not spare Mr. Davis.

This all remains to be worked out. In the meantime, don't make the mistake of thinking that Mr. Davis is embarrassing Mr. Hoover. If there should come a time when he is doing anything like that Mr. Hoover will call him over and tell him that he is, whereupon there will be a statement that Mr. Davis has served his country well, but that now he is resigning—maybe, because of ill health.

Rioters in Turkey Sentenced to Year

Demonstrators at Rites for Girl Killed by Official to Appeal Case.

Istanbul, March 19 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency) (A.P.).—One year in prison was the sentence meted out to nine Jews who were arrested in 1927 on a charge of being participants in a demonstration at the funeral of Esa Niego, Jewish girl who was murdered by Osman Bey, a Turkish official. The case will be brought to the highest Turkish court on appeal.

The nine Jews were acquitted on their first trial, September 21, 1927, of the charge of seditious conduct at the funeral of the Jewish girl. The affair gave rise to antisemitic attacks in the Turkish press.

At their second trial, which opened January 19, the arrested Jews were accused on having insulted the Turkish republic.

Leon Trotzky's Illness Takes Turn for Worse

Berlin, March 19 (A.P.).—The Tageblatt reported today that the illness of Leon Trotzky, exiled Soviet leader, had taken a critical turn at Constantinople.

The former Russian chieftain has been ill since before his exile in 1924, but dispatches last December indicated that he was recovering.

She started her voyage amidst howling factory whistles and salutes of other ships while thousands of spectators lining the shore cheered.

Fair weather augured a fast voyage on which it is generally believed she will try to establish a new world record. She carries 563 first-class passengers, 308 second, 222 tourist and 657 third-class.

On the Rules of Traffic

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

If his car is not in a safe mechanical condition, the Washington motorist takes a chance that it may be officially ordered removed from service. The traffic director or his designated assistants are empowered so to act under the traffic regulations of the District of Columbia.

In event of a serious defect being found in the car, the owner is given the option of having it repaired immediately or foregoing its use until it is again made safe.

Example: A motorist "overshoots" a crosswalk in his effort to stop at a change in the traffic signal. A policeman recognizes it as due to defective brakes. He is empowered to order the immediate repair of the car or its discontinued use as being in an unsafe mechanical condition.

Escaped Convicts Get Life for Killing Officer

Jacksonville, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).—Watson Moulthrope and Roland Lalone, escaped Connecticut convicts, were found guilty today of the murder of Detective W. D. Smith was shot while attempting to arrest the men.

stricken eleven members of the Public Health Service Corps.

Meanwhile, the laboratory quest of the causative organism has been temporarily suspended. Sick parrots, which were research specimens, have been chloroformed, and parts of dead parrots have been placed in vaults for preservation to be studied later.

Cultures taken from stricken persons and parrots are being preserved for future research. All the stricken patients were yesterday reported as recovering. Public Health Service physicians announced yesterday that two of the patients are well, one has returned to work, and seven are recovering.

The supply of serum which arrived yesterday was obtained by Dr. R. R. Spencer in New York. The serum used is taken from the blood of persons who have recovered from the disease. Public Health Service employes are scouring the country in search of the serum, which will be stored at the laboratory for distribution in emergencies.

Physicians have discarded the idea that the illness is communicable through persons. Most of those attacked by the disease have not been in contact with parrots. Doctors say that none has communicated the disease to other members of the family.

They now cling to the theory that the germ is carried either by smaller insects or dust. If either of these theories is proved the bureau officials expect difficulty in preventing the spread of the disease.

rists think in terms of the Communist in Russia that by enlightenment man becomes less religious. Although educational theorists are not in open war on religion, he avowed, they are striving to destroy it by the more deadly method of silence and contempt.

Gradually this system of thought is trickling down from the universities into the high schools and is now affecting the point of view of maker or writer of the textbook, he said.

"Russia's problem is therefore our problem. Praying for Russia, we are praying for ourselves," he declared. "Were the Russian government to take the life of one of our nationals we would demand the fullest satisfaction, even under threat of war. Yet here is an attack on something more fundamental than property rights and more sacred than human life. It is an attack on God. And an attack on the fundamental rights of all of us."

Following the sermon prayers were given, after which a olemn benediction was celebrated with Auxiliary Bisho John M. McNamara as celebrant.

Similar services were held last night at the Cathedral at Baltimore, with Archbishop Curley presiding. The sermon was preached by Dr. Edmund Walsh, of Georgetown University.

Masses were celebrated in all churches of the city yesterday at which prayers were offered for the oppressed Russians.

Mrs. Jackson Becomes Wife Of Roumanian

Wedding of Interest to World Society Is Performed.

By JEAN ELIOT.

ANNOUNCEMENT has just been made of a marriage, which took place on Monday in Rockville, Md., Washington's Gretna Green, and which is of considerable international interest. The bride was Mrs. Marie Louise Bird Jackson, of Greenhedge, Hempstead, Long Island, and the bridegroom, Mr. Radu Belian, a young Roumanian, who has been living in this country for several years and who has frequently visited members of the Roumanian Legation staff in Washington.

They were accompanied to Rockville by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Snow, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Juan Mayer, who witnesseed the ceremony. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Mayer were hosts at a wedding breakfast at their residence in Sixteenth street, their guests including Mr. Belian and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lockwood and members of the Roumanian Legation staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Belian will go to New York today or tomorrow and will sail in a few days for Europe. They will pass several months in Paris before going to Mr. Belain's home in Roumania. Apparently they have been spending the first few days of their honeymoon in or near Washington and one wonders if, perhaps, it has not been at the Dower House, long a favorite retreat with Mr. Belian. On his visits in this part of the world he has frequently spent weeks at a time at this picturesque estate, once Lord Baltimore's hunting lodge, which has for many years been popular with the younger set of Washington as a delightful place to dine or sup after a motor ride.

It was the memory of house parties at the Dower House—to digress a bit—which inspired Frances Noyes Hart to write "Hide in the Dark," a mystery story with an old Virginia mansion as its setting, although the house actually described with so much detail is said to be "His Lordship's Kindness," the Daingerfield estate not many miles from the Dower House, which is now the home of Mrs. Chandler Hale.

With Mrs. Lyman B. Kendall's marriage to Mr. J. O. Lawson-Johnston still fresh in our minds and the marriage of Col. and Mrs. George C. Thorpe's pretty daughter, Miss Betty Thorpe, to Mr. Arthur J. Pack, Commercial Secretary of the British Embassy, set for the spring, international weddings seem to be much in the picture. Moreover, there is another wedding in the offing, which, although not international in character, has a measure of interest from the fact that the charming bride is now a visitor in Washington. She is Miss Rose Seranne Mesny, daughter of the Rev. T. S. Mesny, of Castel Rectory, Guernsey, Channel Islands, England, guest for a short time of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. LeP. Mesny. The engagement of Miss Mesny to Lieut. Comdr. John Gifford, R. N., son of Lady Gifford of Bon Secour, Guernsey, and the late Maj. Gen. Sir Gerald Gifford, K. C. B., I. M. S., was recently announced. The wedding will take place in the early spring in Guernsey. Lieut. Comdr. Gifford, who is the youngest officer of that rank in the British Navy, is in command of a ship now at Gibraltar.

The Minister of Albania, Mr. Faik Konitza, will return to Washington early next week from Boston. Being absent from Washington on government business on the day of former President Taft's funeral, he arranged and attended a special requiem service for the former President in the Albanian Orthodox Church in South Boston. The Rev. N. S. Kristofori, curate of the church, conducted the service, which also was attended by the staff of the Roumanian consulate in Boston.

Representative and Mrs. Charles A. Eaton have as guests their son, Mr. Charles A. Eaton, jr., of Plainfield, N. J., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Corey, who are on their way back to their home in Buffalo after a visit in the South. They will remain over the week-end.

Next Wednesday, March 26

The Washington Post

Will Inaugurate a NEW—

CLASSIFIED SECTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING provides an opportunity for every person to exchange valuable information with the thousands of other readers of this newspaper---to make known their wants and to learn of the wants of others, which they may be in a position to satisfy . . . To make this service of greater interest and increased value to both those who have something to sell and to those who wish to buy, an improved method of classification, indexing and typographical arrangement will be introduced by The Post on March 26 with a greatly enlarged section that will be---

Distinctly New—Vitally Different
Infinitely Better

Together with the increased result-bringing power that these improvements will lend to the medium a new schedule of rates will prove most equitable to both the occasional advertiser and the consistent user of classified space. It will be much quicker and more convenient for a prospective purchaser to locate the article of which he is in need through this medium than in any other manner . . . Watch for and USE the NEW CLASSIFIED SECTION appearing for the first time on Wednesday, March 26.

Not only does the revised system of classified advertising to be put into effect by The Post offer new benefits to the advertiser, but they secure the advantages of dealing with a trained staff. For several weeks the employes of The Post classified department have been receiving intensive instruction designed to enable them to better serve the public and to make their advice of definite value to their customers.

A courteous and capable ad-taker will assist you in wording your ad to achieve the greatest returns for the money you spend and the convenience of a charge account is extended to every responsible person advertising. Ads so charged will be billed following the first insertion and the cash rate will be applicable if paid within one week from the day the ad first appears. When results are secured and an advertisement discontinued before the expiration of the time for which it was first ordered, a refund or credit will be allowed in relation to the earned rate for the number of times published.

A New Reflection of Progressive Post Policies

The Washington Post has earned its designation of "The Capital's Greatest NEWSpaper" by the accurate, clean and comprehensive presentation of local, national and foreign news and by the constructive, fearless character of its editorials, and by virtue of those facts performs a vital public service . . . To increase its sphere of usefulness to the community it has engaged in an intensive circulation drive and has added many new features for the information and entertainment of its readers, among which may be mentioned the life story of Rudy Vallee, which begins Sunday, March 24. The program of improvement is now extended to the business department and its first results will be evident in this newspaper on next Wednesday.

Keep Your Attention on The Post

A Greatly Enlarged Corps of Ad-Takers

The Washington Post recently conducted a publicity campaign in which it pointed out how prosperity could be endangered by efforts to curtail expenditures, either on the part of individuals or businesses. In pursuance of this idea The Washington Post has continued its program of vital improvements in every department and has continued to employ all the help that could possibly be used . . . These improvements in the classified department have created positions for many additional people who are now waiting to serve YOUR interests, beginning next Wednesday in

LOFT STOCKHOLDERS SEND IN POLICE CALL

Candy Firm Annual Meeting Ends in Near Riot Over Chairmanship.

INSURGENTS CARRY ON

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Loft Candy Co. ended in a near riot here today and uniformed policemen were called in to preserve order. Alfred R. Miller, president of the company, adjourned the meeting without transacting any business.

After the adjournment an insurgent group of stockholders, seeking to wrest control of the company from Mr. Miller, convened and elected a new board of directors, headed by Matthew J. Sullivan.

The insurgents were led by Charles G. Guth, former vice president of the company, who has been seeking to oust Mr. Miller since last January, when he was voted out of office.

Shortly after the meeting got under way President Miller, who was presiding, was interrupted by Mr. Guth, who demanded that a chairman be elected for the session.

Nearly all of the 200 persons who were in the meeting room apparently were Mr. Guth's supporters, and fist fights nearly developed between them and officials of the company in the arguments that followed.

A call was sent in for the police, and Mr. Miller ordered the records locked in the safe.

Mr. Guth, who has brought five suits charging irregularities against the present officers of the candy company, declared that the chairman should be elected under the by-laws.

Mr. Miller ruled down his motion, stating that a chairman should be elected "only if necessary," and that it was not necessary as he, the president, was in attendance.

Mr. Guth then contended that the stockholders should vote whether or not a chairman should be elected, but Mr. Miller would not allow this when his opponent refused to have the meeting polled.

With the meeting in an uproar, Mr. Miller called the adjournment and retired to his offices.

After his retirement the meeting continued under Mr. Guth's direction and selected Mr. Sullivan chairman, later electing a new board of directors and announcing that new officers would be named to take control of the company.

Fifth Ave. Fashions
NEW YORK

SPRING is queen of season for the out-of-door woman who spends much of her time in walking, sports and spectator sports.

Style No. 8140 illustrated, has already made its debut in Parisian circles.

It is the newest Paris has to offer in enchanting shade of orange in plain and unbroken self-checked pattern in woolen of new light weight.

The skirt is slightly circular. There is just enough fullness necessary for freedom without interfering in the least with the tailored idea the designer had in mind when creating this model for the sports lover.

The hips are smooth-fitting with pointed effect at the front that does much toward adding length to the figure.

A corresponding pointed treatment is noted in the applied yoke of neckline that employes the checked woolen.

This jaunty model comes in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. It can be made in the medium size with 1¾ yards of 39-inch checked woolen weave with 1⅝ yards of 39-inch plain woolen.

It is very attractive made of black silk crepe with yoke and sleeve cuffs of eggshell crepe silk.

Printed crepe silk with yoke and cuffs of plain crepe, canton crepe in bluish green shade with deep shade ecru lace and Paquin red crepe silk smart.

All patterns of Lucille Lorraine styles are 15 cents each. Mail your order to our Fashion Department, The Washington Post, 259 Fifth avenue, New York City. Be sure to write your name and address clearly and give the number and size of the pattern.

RACHMANINOFF WINS PLAUDITS IN CAPITAL

Noted Pianist Triumphs at Concert With Chopin and Liszt Airs.

TWO ENCORES ARE GIVEN

Two composers of classic piano music were drawn upon in yesterday's concert by Rachmaninoff, composer and poet of the piano, at Poli's Theater when a capacity audience thrilled to his rendition of a program selected from the works of Chopin and Liszt.

Rachmaninoff's finger work was marvelous and his technical dexterity, distinct delicacy and shading delightful. He opened his program with a group of Chopin numbers to which he gave vivid interpretation. The remainder of the first half of the program was also given over to Chopin selections, among them the mamorable Mazurka, Scherzo and Fantaisie Impromptu, all played with masterly skill.

A true understanding of the gentle Liszt spirit was apparent in his playing of the lovely ballade in B minor and in the "Valse Impromptu" which followed it.

The artist reached the superb climax of the program with Liszt's "Sonnetto 104 Del Petrarca" and "Polonaise, E major." At the close of the Polonaise, probably the most brilliant number of the afternoon, Rachmaninoff, in response to a series of ovations, played two encores.

For COLDS

We all catch colds and they can make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you will do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin just as soon as possible after a cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if those symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you retire, and keep bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless to the heart.

BAYER ASPIRIN

FOOD FOR THE FAT

TWO GRAINS OF GLAND FOOD DAILY THEN THE FOODS YOU LOVE

FAT people, of course, should not over-eat. They rarely do. But starvation is a very risky way to reduce.

Modern science finds that a common cause of excess fat lies in an under-active gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. People grow fat when its secretions are scanty, despite all exercise and diet.

So physicians everywhere, in treating obesity, now feed a certain gland food. They combat the cause. The results are amazing, and they come in the right way.

A famous medical laboratory embodies that method in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. All can see the results on every hand. Excess fat is far less common than twenty years ago.

The Marmola prescription is not secret. The formula is stated in every box. All the good results are explained. So users know why the flesh reduction brings such extra health and vigor.

No abnormal exercise or diet. Simply take four tablets daily until you reach the weight desired. Then you will know that the cause is corrected. An abnormal condition has been changed.

Try Marmola. It has served so many for so long that you owe this to yourself. Watch the new youth and beauty as it comes, the new health and vigor. Then tell your friends. Go start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

CURRENT TAKES SHIP INTO LIBEL ACTION

British Vessel Is Held for Collection of $20,000 in Shipping Case.

SEVERAL SUITS PLACED

Seattle, Wash., March 19 (A.P.).—Carried by adverse currents into the American half of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, the British freighter Chief Capilano was seized today on a libel order obtained by Dant & Russell, Inc., Portland, Oreg., shippers, and taken to Port Townsend, Wash., by United States Deputy Marshal A. B. McDonald.

The seizure of the 10,000-ton ship resulted from efforts of the shipping firm to collect $20,000 for loss of cargo in the sinking off the Aleutian Islands in December, 1928, of the freighter Chief Maquilla, of the Canadian-American Shipping Co., owner of the Chief Capilano.

The Portland firm placed another $100,000 lien against the vessel as she lay in Port Townsend harbor. The Insurance Co. of America already is suing the shipping line in the supreme court at Vancouver for $247,879 paid out to compensate the Canadian cooperative wheat pool for loss of 310,000 bushels of wheat in the sinking of the Chief Maquilla. Shipping men here said the claim was one of many for sums aggregating about $1,000,000.

The Chief Capilano was outbound with a cargo of wheat from Vancouver, B. C., when halted by a Coast Guard cutter. It was expected that her owners would post bond that she might continue her voyage, and fight the seizure in the courts. Bernard B. Pelly, British consul here, declined to say whether he would act in the matter.

United States Marshal E. B. Benn said his deputy was certain that the freighter was in American waters when seized, but that there was the possibility that the master of the ship would deny this, making a complete investigation necessary. Benn said he had been trying for some time to seize one of the company's ships, but that they had consistently kept to the Canadian side of the strait.

The Chief Capilano, formerly the Robert Dollar and before that the Kurland, is one of the largest British freighters on the Pacific Ocean. She is 523 feet long and was built in 1920 in Germany.

Veteran Employes Gain Business From Owners

Chicago, March 19 (A.P.).—Selz, Schwab & Co., shoe manufacturers, are retiring from business, turning over one of the company's principal plants in Chicago to five veteran employes who have formed a new corporation to carry on the business.

This was announced today by Edward F. Selz, executive head of the company since the death of J. Harry Selz, president, last summer. The employes to benefit are C. Trafton Cole, William B. Rood, Edward Hahn, Murdoch McGregor and Charles A. Simpson, each of whom has held an important post with the company for some years past. The company's business amounts between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 annually.

All But One in Cabinet Resign.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, March 19 (A.P.).—All of the members of the cabinet except one resigned today, but President Mejia Colindre has not yet accepted the resignations. The only one who remained in office was Rafael Diaz Chavez, finance minister and vice president.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

March 20, 1905.

Commissioner Macfarland announced that District police would begin annual census of the city.

Religious training in the District schools was opposed at a meeting here.

Cornell Alumni held annual banquet at the Highlands Restaurant.

Construction of the new buildings of the Department of Agriculture was started today.

Two druggists were arrested by police for selling narcotics without prescriptions.

Iowa youth, found wandering here, was examined at hospital and doctors found he had two hearts.

BEHIND THE SCREENS

With NELSON B. BELL

SUCH a furore has the initial appearance of Lawrence Tibbett, the distinguished Metropolitan Grand Opera barytone, as a singing star of the screen, occasioned throughout the land, that slight consideration is given other aspects of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of "The Rogue Song."

There is much beyond the mere presence of Mr. Tibbett in the cast to commend this incoming attraction at Loew's Columbia to the interested attention of the judicious show shopper.

To begin with, "The Rogue Song" is the camera and microphone rendition of the popular operetta, "Gypsy Love," by Franz Lehar, A. M. Williner and Robert Bodansky, with much of the original score by Herr Lehar—who will always, no doubt, be identified as "the man who wrote the 'Merry Widow,'"—still extant with additions by Herbert Stothart. Clifford Grey wrote the lyrics and Mme. Albertina Rasch served in the capacity of highly efficient directress of the ballet.

To those who have perceived unusual qualities in the product of his directorial efforts antedating the present opus, there may be a commendatory suggestion in the fact that Lionel Barrymore was the director.

And then, too, there is the matter of cast. Outside of Mr. Tibbett, the extensive ballyhoo that has surrounded this presumably sterling offering from the very day of its release—and before—has somehow failed to stress the brilliant ensemble with which the star finds himself associated. To be sure, we have been told in a desultory sort of fashion that Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy account for the comedy roles in workmanlike maner, but it seems to me it has not been emphasized enough that there are also among those present such reliable artists as Catherine Dale Owen, Nance O'Neil, Ulrich Haupt, Lionel Belmore, Wallace MacDonald, Kate Price, Burr MacIntosh, James Bradbury, jr., Judith Voselli and Elsa Allen.

Still, I dare say, the greatest of these is Tibbett!

Not yet out from under the pleasant hypnosis of their eminently successful "January Festival," and February whatever-it-was, the Loew high command now is on the verge of launching a "Spring Carnival," guaranteed to produce four weeks of entertainment that will curl your hair, pluck your brows, polish your nails and then knock you right out into the aisle.

All this whoopee-making, so I am told, gets under way at the Palace beginning Saturday with "Roadhouse Nights," featuring Helen Morgan, Charles Ruggles and Fred Kohler. This will be followed on March 29 by Gary Cooper and Mary Brian in "Only the Brave," which, in turn, will be followed in succession by William Haines in "Free and Easy," Winifred Westover (Mrs. William S. Hart) in "Lummox," Joan Crawford in "Montana Moon" and John Gilbert in "Redemption."

The while this is going on on the screen, the stage will be presenting such "name" acts as the Ritz Brothers, Ted Healy, Phil Baker, Sophie Tucker, Belle Baker, Anita Stewart, Lita Gray Chaplin, Dave Apollon, Georgie Price, Chester Conklin, Wesley Eddy, Dave Schooler and others—unless Mr. Rubin is merely getting even for my once having playfully dubbed him a "bozo."

At the Columbia, the procession will begin with Lawrence Tibbett in "The Rogue Song" Saturday, with Ruth Chatterton in "Sarah and Son" and Harry Richman in "Putting on the Ritz" in the offing.

That is, as I say, unless . . .

Just to put those fluttering hearts at rest, I may say that Wesley Eddy returns the week of April 26, in conjunction with "Redemption," starring John Gilbert, well known sparring partner of Mr. Gentleman Jim Tully.

And come to think of it, it is only tomorow that Helen Kane bezins her boop-boop-a-dooping at the Earle.

Eddie Leonard, the big burnt cork and roly-boly eyes man, by the way, will not be in the stellar spot of the "Southern Melodies" revue when it reaches the Palace Saturday. Two other acts have been booked into the Loew unit to take his place, for the time being.

Eddie has been in there wah-wah-wahing and doing his soft shoe slithering for a great many years now, and the old pipes and the airedales no longer stand up under the strain the way they used to, say when I first saw him just after the Mexican War.

Four a day have laid the old boy low—and Washington is the loser.

A complete picture of the ensuing week would look something like this: Columbia, Lawrence Tibbett in "The Rogue Song;" Earle, Lloyd Hughes and Olive Borden in "Hello, Sister," and Helen Kane in person; RKO-Keith's, Evelyn Brent in "Framed;" Palace, Helen Morgan, Charles Ruggles and Fred Kohler in "Roadhouse Nights;" Metropolitan, Nancy Carroll in "Honey;" Fox Walter Catlett and Lola Lane in "Let's Go Places."

That's one swell idea. Let's do!

$350,000 Fire Destroys California Steel Plant

San Francisco, March 19 (A.P.).—Fire which started in the plant of the Truscon Steel Co. on Seventeenth street early today swept for a block and a half through the industrial district, causing property damage estimated at $350,000 by Fire Marshal Frank P. Kelly. No one was injured.

The flames ignited several huge drums of oil, which exploded with terrific force.

Win One of These Big Prizes

12 AUTOMOBILES—16 RADIOS—CASH COMMISSIONS

IT IS NOT TOO LATE!

The Great Post $20,000 Opportunity Campaign does not end until April 5—there is still plenty of time to win—but no time to lose. Every candidate has an equal chance to win one of the six highest priced automobiles—the Cadillac, Nash, Auburn, Peerless, Dodge or Chrysler sedan. Then there are two grand division prizes—the big Graham Sedan, which will be given to the highest scoring candidate in the city division, and the Pontiac Big Six Sedan, which will go to the highest scoring candidate in the out-of-town division. The second highest scoring candidate in each division will receive a Chevrolet Sedan and the third in each division a Ford Sedan. After these prizes have been awarded two radios are to be given away in each of the eight districts, into which the territory is divided, to highest scoring candidates in each district who do not win an automobile.

$500 EXTRA GOLD

85,000 EXTRA VOTES

As an added incentive and increased opportunity for the late-starting entrants a special prize of $500 in gold will be given to the person who secures the greatest amount in new subscription payments during the period which started March 13 and ends March 26. In addition, a bonus of 85,000 extra votes will be given to each candidate for each $20 worth of new subscriptions secured within this period. The extension of subscription terms and the new second payment vote scale, printed below, makes it easy for those who start NOW to overcome the lead of previous entrants and secure one of the big prizes for just a few days of intensive effort. DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

AN electrical disturbance has been noticed of late, particularly in the Northwest section of the city. One form in which the disturbance manifests itself is a blowing noise such as is heard when the tubes are overloaded.

At times the disturbance is very marked. Various theories have been advanced as to what is causing the trouble. Among the possibilities are experiments at various radio laboratories; that is, the Bureau of Standards or others, power line leaks or discharges, harmonics of television transmission and large defective electrical appliances.

Radio listeners may see as well as hear some of their favorite radio characters if negotiations between the National Broadcasting Co. and motion picture producers are concluded.

Among the radio sketches under consideration for "talkies" are "Cuckoo," "Harbor Lights," "Rise of the Goldbergs," "The Cub Reporter" and "The Jameses."

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S next radio address will be made during a luncheon commemorating the eightieth birthday of Dr. William H. Welch, "dean of American medicine," on Tuesday, April 8.

The United Service Orchestra will be augmented by 30 pieces from the United States Marine Band when it is heard in the concert of Latin-American music to be broadcast from the patio of the Pan-American Union on Monday evening, April 21. The orchestra was formerly made up of members of the United States Army and Navy Bands.

The entry of the Marine Band musicians into this orchestra will add a new leader in the person of Capt. Taylor Branson.

This 100-piece orchestra may be classed as one of the outstanding musical groups in America.

GRAND opera, negro spirituals, ballads and excerpts from "The Rogue Song" are on the program list for Lawrence Tibbett, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, when he sings in the Atwater Kent hour over WRC next Sunday evening.

A new Sunday evening feature will be offered by Station WLW, beginning March 23. Visiting guest artists and staff musicians will be presented as soloists in familiar classics and outstanding new compositions.

"With 11,000,000 homes in the United States resonant with music broadcast by the leading stations in the country," David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, said recently in commenting upon the association of industry with culture and education, "the tide of musical appreciation in the average home has never before been so high, the opportunities for the artist have never been so great, and the demand for musical creation never so keen."

It seldom happens that it is necessary to sign off daytime programs, as was the case with local stations yesterday, for an S O S. Most distress signals have been received during the evening hours.

Prince Wins Film Damages.

Paris, March 19 (A.P.).—Prince Danilo of Montenegro, brother of the Queen of Italy, has been awarded 100,000 francs damages (about $4,000) against Metro-Goldwyn for an alleged libelous picture of him under the title of "The Prince of Montebianco."

Dare Interprets the Mode

The grace of evening wear expressed in chiffon! (Courtesy of Mag-Helly, Paris.)

Paris, March 19.

"WOMEN just won't do it any more," says the charming little English lady who shows us the collection at the famous old house of Lucile.

"There was a day when a woman bought a gown to be seen in only once. Now she buys a gown not only to be seen in more than once, but actually asks for something that will last not only two seasons, but two years."

Does that mean that modern women are less elegant than our mothers and grandmothers were?

I don't believe so, indeed, quite the contrary. I believe that the modern woman is so very much more elegant than her mother or grandmother, that there just isn't any comparison. The number of robes that she buys or the number of times that she wears the same one, does not offset the fact that her accompanying accessories have today reached an unheard of peak of elegance and refinement and completeness.

Let me explain this further tomorrow, will you?

* * * *

Some of the new evening coats have capes, some haven't, some button, some wrap—and, well, no matter what they do, you just have to have two or three of them in your summer wardrobe, you know.

So get busy and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet, which will tell you how to make several different kinds of them, oh, very easily, with our illustrated directions.

* * * *

Short evening coats may be so varied this season—one has every variety from which to choose, from the sleeveless version to the very much sleeved one such as you can see in the jacket part of the chiffon and lace evening ensemble from Mag-Helly I have sketched for you today.

* * * *

The world is no poorer than it was some years ago, although wealth is assuredly more evenly distributed, but our intelligence precludes the possibility of our indulging in needlessly extravagant gestures in our clothing. So, as I have said so often, we more or less do as we please about styles, and no one leads us around by either our little noses-es or our vanity.

* * * *

I would say from what I've seen of the offerings of all the haute couture of Paris, that you simply can't be without a street dress or tailleur or ensemble or very, very fine check or print or polka dot, so fine that it looks like a blur of navy blue, or black, or brown with white. If it's an ensemble, you can have the dress of silk crepe and the coat of a wool material and both exactly the same print. It is oh, so smart!

* * * *

The laciest of horsehair braid is undoubtedly the most popular material for summer hats. Some times this is plain and just sort of ruffled, sometime it looks exactly like lace. Usually it is black, because that is the smart color for afternoon wear. Hats for resort wear, while still a very light straw, are a bit more substantial than horsehair because of the necessity of shading the face.

* * * *

You can't afford to miss the weekly Dare fashion letter in The Washington Post each Sunday. It has so many interesting ideas for you.

WORK ON BRIDGE

MISPLAYED HANDS I HAVE MET.

With the above hand, at Auction Bridge, South would bid one Spade, being too strong to make preemption necessary. After West's pass North would deny by bidding two Diamonds, but South would rebid his Spades and play with a contract of two Spades.

The hand was played at Contract and South reckoned his hand as worth seven Spade tricks, one Heart and two Clubs. Being of an optimistic temperament, he sanguinely hoped that a Heart or Club would be led, in which case his hand would be worth eleven tricks. He feared that a bid of four Spades would stand, and a slam would be made; so, determining to ask his partner to bid a slam if he held any probable trick, South called five Spades.

With South bidding for more than game, North bid six Diamonds to show the location of his trick; not to indicate a desire for a Diamond trump.

The optimistic South then felt that he had a good chance for a grand slam. His losing Diamond had been transformed into a winner; and North might have the King of Diamonds or Hearts in addition to the Ace of Diamonds. With either combination and a Club led, or with the Queen of Clubs held by North, the grand slam would be a show-down, so South made the seven-bid. In commenting on South's bidding, I am writing history, not an indorsement.

West led a Club. The Declarer won, exhausted the adverse trumps, put North in with the Ace of Diamonds and tried the Heart finesse. It lost and the optimist was defeated.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

The key to the situation was the establishment of a thirteenth Diamond in dummy. South should have won the first trick in the closed hand with a high Club; then have led a Diamond, winning with the Ace in dummy, and next have led a second Diamond for a ruff one of South's high trumps. Dummy then should have been put in with a trump for a third Diamond lead and a second high ruff. If both adversaries had followed three times (as would be the case), the slam would be assured as dummy could be put in with a second trump, the Diamonds established by another ruff, the last adverse trump (if one remained) drawn, and dummy put in with the Club to cash his thirteenth Diamond on which closed hand would discard the Queen of Hearts. If the adverse Diamonds were not divided 4-3, the chance to take the Heart finesse would be open.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"PISCES."

IF March 20th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 4:40 p. m. to 6 p. m., and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 5:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., and from 3 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

You will be mentally stimulated by the influences on this date, and you will see many things in a new light. There will be an inclination for extravagant expenditures, which may cause future sacrifices. Good for scientific pursuits.

The child born on this March 20th will possess a marked degree of intellectuality, be an omnivorous reader and a good conversationalist. It will never be rash or hasty, but always deliberate and calm. Affectionate but undemonstrative.

Possessed with an exceptional amount of ability, and a keen vision, you fail to exploit these to your advantage. The urge to work and win has never, so far, "got you." Ambition is lacking, and so long as you are fairly comfortable—and your tastes are quite simple—you are content and, what is worse, satisfied.

You can be easily led and influenced by those around you, and devote more time to pleasure and pleasure-seeking than to any honest endeavor to develop the gifts so generously bestowed on you by nature. You are fond of all the good things of life in a moderate way, but it does not worry you, or cause you envy, if you see others with more material advantages than those you possess.

Your nature is a very loving one, and, in any affectionate attachment, you do spread yourself, and successfully try to bring happiness to the object of your care. Your married life, although jars are liable as a result of your spinelessness in the things that count, promises to be blessed with a large measure of happiness. You are loyal to your friends—too much so, at times, for your own good.

Successful people born March 20:

3—Henry Herbert Wills—Director Imperial Tobacco Co., England.
4—Charles William Eliot—Educator.

GREENS.

(U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.)

Greens should be thoroughly washed in several waters. Lifting the greens out of the water in which they are washed or cooked is safer than pouring the water off, for then the sand and the grit that have sunk to the bottom of the pan are not likely to get on the greens again. To preserve the color and also the vitamins, greens should be cooked in as small a quantity of water as possible and no longer than necessary to make them tender. After the greens have been removed from the water and drained, they should be seasoned with salt and pepper, reheated, and a little butter, cream, oil, or savory fat added to increase the fuel value and improve the flavor. A little lemon juice squeezed on the greens just before they are eaten makes them more appetizing to most people.

STOCK PRICES RISE AS SALES INCREASE

Number of Losses Occur at Close as Profit Taking Sets In.

TOBACCO SHARES DROP

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—The bull crowd, encouraged by still further cheapening of money, urged share prices further into new high ground today, but the market advanced with increasing reluctance.

Profit taking and short selling was sufficient to cause a wide sprinkling of net losses at the close, although the index of 90 leading shares gained a point, recording still another new high since October. Trading continued in large volume, the turnover of 4,336,260 shares slightly exceeding the volume of business yesterday, and coming close to the year's busiest day.

Many traders took profits on the theory that the upturn this week had been unduly rapid in view of business conditions, and that pool distribution had weakened the market's technical position. The weekly brokers loan figures are expected to show another large gain tomorrow.

Business News Is Mixed.

Furthermore, business news was of a mixed nature. Carloadings figures as announced for the first week of the month showed another slackening of activity. The weekly steel trade reviews indicated that the bottom of the decline in mill operations appears to have been reached, but that no upturn is yet in sight. More pleasing was F. W. Dodge Corporation's weekly report of building contracts let, showing a gain of 44 per cent from the small total of the previous week, but failing to reach the aggregate of the like week of last year by 15 per cent.

The extraordinary influx of money into this market caused still new low collateral loan rates for the past five years. Call money dropped to 3 per cent for the first time since 1925, and dropped to 2 per cent at midday. Outside loans were offered as low as 1½ per cent. Bankers acceptance rates were reduced further, making the shorter rates 2⅞ per cent asked. This wide spread between the 3½ per cent rediscount rate caused expectations of another reduction by the Federal Reserve within the next few weeks.

With similar conditions in London, cable advices state that betting favors a further drop in the Bank of England rate tomorrow. The money flowing to this center appears to be coming mostly from the interior, despite the higher rediscount rates at the other reserve institutions. As this is normally a season of outflowing funds, the situation is somewhat puzzling. It appears to reflect primarily the slack commercial demand.

U. S. Steel Advances.

Such shares as American Can, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, International Nickel, Baltimore & Ohio, New Haven, and Public Service of New Jersey reached record 1930 prices, with extreme gains of about 1½ to 6 points, although they were not generally maintained. U. S. Steel sold up 3¾ points, but slipped back a point from the top.

The tobacco shares were singled out as targets by the bears, who based their attack on the advertising controversy which seems to be arising in the industry and rumors of a new price-cutting war. American Tobacco dropped 12½ points and the B shares 6½. Reynolds B, the Liggett & Myers issues and Lorillard lost about 1½ to 4 points. Simmons was also again under pressure, touching 50¼, the lowest in several years. National Bellas Hess preferred dropped 25 points on passing of the common dividend, and the common closed off ½ at 12.

Commodities were irregular. Wheat futures closed up fractionaly on reports of extreme cold over the central West. July corn gained a cent. Cotton futures lost 35 to 70 cents a bale.

Foreign exchanges were steady, sterling cables ruling 1-32 higher at $4.86 7-32.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 19 (A.P.).—Despite heavy selling to realize profits for wheat holders, the market showed a persistent advancing trend today. Prospects of frigid weather overspreading domestic wheat territory was largely responsible, together with a sudden jump in rye values to 10c a bushel higher than last week's bottom level. Extensive damage to the rye crop was reported as having been done Northwest.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at ¼ to ⅞c net advance for the day. Corn closed ¼ to 1c up, oats showing ⅛ to ⅜c gain, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 32c.

Much of today's purchasing of wheat future deliveries came about from attention given to predictions of severe cold wave tonight Northwest, sweeping southward during the next 36 hours. In addition were Minneapolis reports current about injury by winter killing having been done to the rye crop, and there were advices telling of frost at various places in Kansas. Further stimulus to buyers resulted from lively upturns in Liverpool wheat quotations today and from word that Germany was after wheat at Rotterdam and elsewhere to anticipate a forthcoming increase of German import duties.

Forecasts of a falling off in the volume of Argentine wheat offerings to Europe received considerable attention, and so, too, did reports that Argentine shippers were buying futures. Meanwhile, European continental stocks of native wheat were asserted to be decreasing, Italy's home supplies in particular. Shipments of foreign wheat destined to Great Britain were also reported as smaller than has been the rule of late. Estimates put today's export purchases of North American wheat at 600,000 bushels, virtually the whole of it Canadian.

With corn receipts continuing meager and shipping demand here good, broader general buying of corn futures was in evidence. Oats kept even pace with corn.

Provisions were firm, responsive to an upward slant of the hog market and of cereals as well.

BOND PRICE TREND CONTINUES UPWARD

Call Money at 2 Per Cent Aids General Advance in $25,000,000 Day.

RAIL GROUP HEADS RISE

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—Investment funds poured into the bond market today, carrying transactions on the New York Stock Exchange above $25,000,000, principal amount, the largest total for the current movement and, of course, for the year. The unlisted market, where most of the business in bonds is done each day, reported an enormous demand. Transactions on the exchange in the last hour totaled about $8,000,000.

Developments reflecting the unusual easiness of credit came rapidly. Call money renewed at 3 per cent for the first time in five years. And later the rate was cut to 2 per cent. Bankers' acceptances were twice reduced, and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York made one reduction in its bill buying rate. Reports heard in Wall street said that the Bank of England would reduce its discount rate tomorrow. Time funds here were steady.

With money virtually begging for borrowers at the prevailing interest charges, there was a scramble to bonds. Much of the inquiry was directed toward lower priced issues, which normally move more slowly than the higher grade securities, but convertibles also claimed broad attention, and most of the listed obligations in this group, especially the rails, sold up sharply.

Seasoned Investment Rails Rise.

Seasoned investment rails offering smaller yields worked higher, but gains were mostly smaller than recently. There was a marked increase, however, in the demand for such bonds as Chicago & Eastern Illinois 5s, which made a maximum advance of 5 points, the St. Paul issues, Erie 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s and Western Maryland 5½s and 4s.

Miscellaneous points of activity included Warner Bros. Pictures 6s, Utilities Power & Light 5½s, Pennsylvania gold 5s and 4¾s, National Dairy Products 5¼s, Goodyear Tire & Rubber 5s, International Telephone 5s and American Telephone 5s of 1965. Ajax Rubber 8s soared 10 points, to 65.

Baltimore & Ohio 4½s, up 1¼ on the day to 103¾, led the stock feature list with a turnover of nearly $1,800,000 par value. American Telephone 4½s, after making a new 1930 high at 163¼, sold off a little, but closed up 1⅞. Atchison 4s, Alleghany Corporation 5s of 1944, Chicago & Northwestern 4¾s, New Haven 6s, Missouri Pacific 5½s, Southern Pacific 4½s with warrants, Texas Corporation 5s, and Remington Rand 5½s with warrants averaged a point higher, all on large turnovers.

Foreign Group Still Gains.

Interest in foreign bonds waned, but the trend was still upward. South Americans, particularly the Colombia Bank issues and the Bolivia 7s and 8s were well supported. Poland 7s made a new high on a rise of 1⅜. Leading European obligations held firm.

Liberties and Treasuries, after an early interval of easiness, reversed their course on the appearance of 2 per cent money. The Treasury 4¼s, rallying 13/32 point to a new 1930 high, led the group.

Bond circles understand that the Royal Dutch Petroleum Co. is soon to market, through American banking houses, a $40,000,000 issue of long-term 4s priced just below 90.

Curb Review

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—Heavy profit taking, based, in part, on the belief that the market was entitled to at least a technical reaction after its recent rapid advance, and on expectations of a large increase in brokers' loans tomorrow, turned the course of prices irregular on the curb exchange today after an early period of strength. Several of the recent leaders in the public utility and oil groups showed moderate net recessions, but final quotations also disclosed a rather long list of gains.

United Gas, which was the strong and active feature of yesterday's session, touched a new high at 43¾ and then sold down at the close to 40⅞, off 1⅛, when it became apparent that heavy liquidation was taking place in the new "when issued" stock which opened at 27¾ and sold down to 26. Most of the other natural gas stocks, which had been pushed up on merger rumors, yielded in sympathy.

Electric Bond & Share, after moving up to 103⅛, or within a fraction of the year's high, sold off to 101⅝, off 1⅜ net. Central States warrants dropped 4 points, Electric Power & Light optional warrants 2⅛ and a few others yielded a point or so. On the other hand, Nevada California Electric soared 10 points to a new high, Commonwealth Edison jumped 11½, American Light & Traction 7 and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore 3¾.

Oils were mixed. Gulf and Humble, which have been leaders of the recent advance, dropped 3 and 2 points, respectively. Indian Territory Illuminating moved up 2 to a new high, and Cosden jumped 2¾ on a few sales. Standard Oil of Kansas also moved into new high ground and Standard Oil of Ohio duplicated the year's top.

A. O. Smith was a spectacular individual feature, soaring nearly 20 points to a new 1930 peak at 209¾. It had sold down to 137¼ this year. Amrad ran up 4½ points to a new high, but the other radio shares showed little change. A better demand was apparent for the aviation issues, Western Air Express standing out with a gain of 3 points. Consolidated Aircraft registered a new 1930 peak.

Segal Lock & Hardware was one of the leaders of the low-priced specialty group, touching a new high on unofficial reports that the 1929 report, soon to be published, would show a gain of 300 per cent in earnings. Atlas Stores was bid up to a new high on talk of its transfer to the big board. American Cyanamid B, Cooper Bessemer, Houdaille Hershey, Jefferson Electric, Fred T. Ley & Co., Shenandoah preferred, Super Maid Corporation, and Texon Oil & Land all reached new 1930 high levels.

Acme Wire, General Industrial Alcohol, Mangel Stores preferred and Technicolor broke to new lows. Federal Screw, Newmont Mining, Ford Motor Ltd., General Realty and Ainsworth also were conspicuously heavy.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 19 (A.P.).—A further advance in cotton at the opening today was followed by reactions under realizing, which was said to be combined with some selling on the talk of an easy technical position. May contracts after advancing to 15.64 early, broke to 15.32 and closed at 15.44, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 17 to 14 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 11 points, with active positions showing net gains of 8 to 11 points during the first few minutes on a continuation of the recent buying movement. This carried prices into new high ground for the movement, with July selling up to 15.73 and the old October contract to 15.59. The demand seemed less urgent than recently, however, while it looked as if the advance of about 120 to 160 points from the low levels of last week were meeting considerable realizing.

There was selling of May against buying of new crop months attributed to the undoing of straddles and some selling was reported for Liverpool and continental account. This supplied the early demand and the market later in the day was rather nervous and irregular. Setbacks brought in some further covering or trade buying, but bulges met increased offerings and the lowest levels were touched in the late trading when July sold at 15.38 and the old October contract at 15.29. Later positions were relatively steady and closing prices showed rallies of some 5 or 10 points on renewed covering.

The falling off in demand following the advance from recent low levels led to talk of an easier technical position, and the opinion was expressed in some quarters that the more pressing demand from trade or speculative shorts had been supplied on the early advance, some of the interests who were recently credited with buying May against sales of the new October and December contracts, were supposed to be reversing their operations during today's trading.

Liverpool cables said that continental buying had been supplied by realizing and American straddle selling in that market.

Exports today, 26,631, making 5,714,694 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,709. United States port stocks, 1,955,532.

Advice on Investments

By CHARLES W. STORM

In making inquiries address Charles W. Storm, financial department of The Washington Post, and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

R-K-O and Others.

Mrs. N. M. O.—Will you kindly give me your opinion as to the prospects of the following stocks as speculative investments to be held for the long pull? Radio-Keith-Orpheum, Radio Corporation of America and Commonwealth & Southern Corporation. What are the prospects for Chrysler this year?

Answer—While all of the three first-named issues are, in their present status, very largely speculative, they possess considerable long-term attractiveness. This is particularly true of Radio Corporation of America on account of the corporation's preeminence in the field which it occupies. Chrysler Corporation stock, around current levels, is looked upon as quite inviting in relation to current earnings and future prospects of the company. On the basis of present prices and dividends, the stock yields to the investor about 7.7 per cent. While the outlook for the automobile industry for 1930 is at present somewhat uncertain, it is felt that the Chrysler Corporation will suffer less than the average decline in profits, assuming that there is to be a decline. Because of this, it is believed that the company will have no trouble in maintaining its present dividend rate of $3 per common share.

Houston Oil.

P. E. R.—Kindly let me have some information on Houston Oil. What were the 1929 earnings, and does the company pay anything?

Answer—Earnings last year were $4.78 on the common stock after preferred dividends, and compare with profits in 1928 of $5.11 a share. Houston is in a strong position, cash alone exceeding current liabilities. Dividends of $6 per annum have been paid on the preferred since 1912, but nothing is distributed on the common, which is commonly called a mystery issue, and which must be regarded as speculative.

Warner Bros.

L. L. H.—What can you tell me about Warner Bros. Pictures? Why has it more than doubled in value in less than three months?

Answer—Present large and prospective larger earnings, together with prospects of even a higher dividend than that now being paid are among the principal reasons for the recent sharp increase in market value of the stock. The company is now turning out talking pictures in color which are meeting with popular favor. For the fiscal year ended August 31, 1929, earnings for the common equaled $6.28 a share, and profits for the first quarter of this year are expected to be very favorable. Earnings last year included those of the Stanley Co. and the First National Pictures, Inc. and were the largest shown by any company in the industry. The common stock was split 2-for-1 last July. The dividend was raised from 75 cents to $1 quarterly in December, 1929, thus placing the issue on a straight $4 yearly basis. The stock unquestionably appears suitable for long-term holding.

Industrial Stores Corporation.

Miss M. A. R.—Will you kindly give me your opinion of Industrial Stores Corporation stock, which corporation is located in Hartford, Conn., and has chain stores of women's ready-to-wear apparel in Connecticut and Massachusetts? Do you consider it good for a long-term investment?

Answer — Information concerning Industrial Stores Corporation upon which an appraisal of its stock could be made is extremely meager. No recent statement of earnings is available, and apparently the corporation publishes no balance sheet giving assets and liabilities. The latest statement of earnings to hand is for seven months ended June 30, 1928, when net earnings were given as $8,331. Since that time, frequent statements have been made covering the sales of the company, the latest of these being for the first seven months of 1929, when sales were reported to have increased more than 30 per cent over those for the similar period of 1928.

However, the volume of such sales was not given, neither were the profits. In view of these facts, the stock is considered to be far from being a good long-term investment; instead, it is looked upon as a most radical speculation.

Brunswick-Collender; Bullard.

W. L.—I will appreciate it if you will supply me with some information on Brunswick-Balke-Collender and Bullard Co.

Answer—The dividend on Brunswick-Balke-Collender was passed in January to conserve cash resources. The stock, therefore, must be regarded as a speculative issue. Unofficial reports recently have intimated the sale of some of its sound patents to the Warner Brothers Picture Co., but no announcement has been made.

Important developments have occurred which make Bullard stock attractive. A process has been perfected for metal finishing which greatly reduces costs, and other companies are using it on a royalty basis. Profits last year were $3.60 a share on the common as against $5.12 for 1928. A quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share on the common was paid last March, placing the stock on a $1.60 annual basis and making it a speculative investment suitable for long-term holding.

Kolster and Others.

I. W. T.—Kindly give me your opinion on the following: Kolster Radio, listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Does it pay dividends and what is the par value? Is it good for investment? Cities Service. What is the par value of this stock, and is the present price too high? What does it pay? Or, in other words, to give an example, if I invested $500 in this stock what would I get in the way of a return in actual dollars and cents? International Paper & Power, both "B" and "C." Are "B" or "C" favored over the others? What is the par value, and does either one pay dividends? Is it good for investment or speculation? Canadian Marconi. Do you think this will go very high? Are the rumors of a merger genuine? Kindly name three strong stocks which at the present prices you would advse for investment.

Answer — Kolster Radio, no par value, does not pay dividends and is not good for investment. Receivers appointed for company January 30, 1930. Cities Service has no par value. Have no opinion as to whether or not price is "too high." With $500 you could purchase outright at present prices about fifteen shares of Cities Service. Cash dividends for year would amount to $4.50 on fifteen shares. Can not compute amount you would receive from stock dividend in dollars and cents, as this would entirely depend upon the price at which you sold stock thus received.

International Paper & Power "B" and "C," no par value and no dividends. Neither are in the investment class, both speculative, with seemingly some promise. Neither issue favored over others of company, on which dividends are now paid. Can not venture to predict future market movements in Canadian Marconi or any other stock, and can not say whether rumors of the merger are genuine or otherwise. Columbia Gas & Electric common, Cutter Hammer common and Underwood Elliott-Fisher common are three stocks that are at present considered very desirable from an investment viewpoint.

Harris' Set of 537 Leads Newspapermen

The 537 set of Charles Harris, of the Herald, topped the field in the championship flight of the newspapermen's bowling championship in the first elimination round yesterday at King Pin Number Two Alleys.

C. B. Hamilton, of the United States Daily, rolling in the consolation flight, rivalled Harris for honors with a set of 535. While officials of the tournament have not yet compiled the results it is believed that scores of 500 and better, still qualify for the championship flight and total of 470 will enable the bowlers to continue in the consolation division.

Jones Named Director Of Florida U. Sports

Gainesville, Fla., March 16 (A.P.).—Edgar Jones, of Jacksonville, new director of athletics at the University of Florida, will take over his new duties on June 1, it was learned here tonight.

Announcement of the appointment of Mr. Jones to the post was made at a meeting of the State board of control at West Palm Beach late last night. Mr. Jones is a former gridiron star at Florida.

Charles Bachman, football coach at Florida for the past two years, was titular head of the athletic department, but requested that he be relieved of his duties with the University Athletic Bureau so that he could devote all of his time to developing a football team.

Jimmie Boyd, also of Jacksonville, who has been assistant athletic director, was not reappointed.

Phil O'Connell, this year's ring captain, has been named boxing coach, succeeding John Piombo, who came to the university in 1926 and developed the first Florida boxing team to win the championship of the Southern Conference. Dale Van Sycle was given a newly created job handling varsity ends and assisting in the athletic office.

Sally League Clubs To Be Named Soon

Charlotte, N. C., March 16 (A.P.).—Out of the somewhat muddled South Atlantic Baseball League situation today emerged an assuring statement by President W. G. Bramham, of Durham, N. C., that the league was not handicapped by any "lack of towns wanting berths."

Judge Bramham indicated he planned to announce the league personnel Wednesday. He expressed confidence that the loop would begin its 1930 swing with a full eight-team line-up.

Today the franchises of two cities—Spartanburg, S. C., and Knoxville, Tenn.—were hanging in thin air, it became known, although hope is still held out that both of these cities may pull through and be ready for the season hop-off some time next month.

But if they don't, Judge Bramham will not be ready to give up the eight-team idea. "Charleston, S. C.," he said, "is ready to take over a franchise, and if both Knoxville and Spartanburg drop out, there is another town waiting a berth."

The league president declined last night to give the name of the other town seeking a berth, saying he felt it would be wise to withhold it pending developments.

In addition to Knoxville and Spartanburg, the Sally League cities are Greenville and Columbia, S. C.; Charlotte and Asheville, N. C., and Macon and Augusta, Ga.

GEORGETOWN TEAMS MEET.

Georgetown Insects and Midgets will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at 3506 T street northwest.

HESS TO REORGANIZE.

Hess A. C. will reorganize for the coming season. Last year's players and new candidates are to report to Manager Amidon at 8 o'clock Saturday night at 7 Eighteenth street southeast. Hess wants to enter the Capital City League.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

To what club or clubs should the average player devote the bulk of his practice to, and why?

Answered by WILLIE OGG,

New England professional, former Massachusetts open, Shawnee open champion.

For those golfers desirous of improving their game I would advise practice with the putter mashie-niblick and mashie. It is with these clubs that most golfers run up their score.

I appreciate the importance of the long game, and the thrill that goes with a good drive, but the real scoring is made only when one has mastered the short game. One gets more insight into the game by practicing approach shots and putting because it drives home the importance of control and touch. Our best golfers never practice with their long game unless they happen to want to correct some fault o try out some new club.

The majority of players practicing for the big tournaments work on their short game; not so much that they may happen to be off on some particular club but that they try to get or keep the proper touch.

Marine Nine Prepared For Colleges' Invasion

Special to The Washington Post.

Quantico, Va., March 19.—Ready to repel the invasion of college teams which will begin here shortly, the All-Marine baseball squad of 35 men is practicing daily at this military post for the opening contest, scheduled to be played with Drexel Institute, on March 24.

Selected players, some of whom recently were on duty in China and Nicaragua, comprise the team which, during the season, is scheduled to face Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Randolph-Macon and Virginia Military Institute, in a schedule calling for 38 or more games.

Catholic U. will visit Quantico on April 28, and the Marines will play a return engagement with the Cardinals at Washington May 14.

Several veterans of last season are with the team, among them Kidd, pitching ace; Gorman and Young, heavy hitters; Tolan, shortstop, and "Lefty" Smith, a dependable southpaw of last season. Last season the Marines won 23 out of 29 games.

Central and Gonzaga In 2-Year Grid Pact

Announcement of a two-year contract with Gonzaga in football on a home-and-home basis, was made known at Central High School yesterday. The first game will be played next fall at the Columbia Heights Stadium, with the return game in 1931 scheduled for the Purple's new stadium, at Thirty-fourth street and Benning road. This year's meeting will be the first between the teams since 1926, when Johnny Bozek's 60-yard run gave Gonzaga a 7-to-3 victory over Central's last high school championship eleven.

Although no definite date has been set for the battle, it will likely be played sometime in October. Gonzaga and Central both have open dates in that month, but they do not correspond. It is thought that Gonzaga will change the date of one of its scheduled games. If no arrangement can be made in this manner, the game will be played as a post-season affair after Thanksgiving.

Builders' Pin League Title Battle Monday

The five-game bowling match between the James Baird Co. and George A. Fuller Stone Plant Team for the championship of the Builders' Contract League title will be staged Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Arcadia. The match was previously listed tonight.

The Baird Team won the second half championship in easy fashion and the Fuller Stone Plant Team won the first half title in a close race with the Charles H. Tompkins Co. Pinmen. The five-game match, to be decided by total pinfall, will determine which team shall receive the bronze plaque emblematic of the season's championship.

ALEXANDRIA SPORTS

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 19 (A.P.).—The St. Mary's Celtics Basket Ball Team, champions of this city, will be tendered a banquet within the next two weeks by Albert Hurshman, local sportsman. The players will receive gold basket balls and will also be awarded the Alexandria Gazette Trophy. A number of Alexandria's leading business men will attend the banquet.

The Whitestone Basket Ball Team closed its season last night, winning its final game last night in Alexandria League from the Del Ray A. C., 29 to 26. The victory gives the Whitestone Team the third place in the league standing. One more game remains to be played between the St. Mary's and the Del Ray A. C. A victory for either team will make no difference in their standing as the former team has won the title and the latter team remains in last place.

The Rotary Club again copped a bowling match from the Kiwanians in the second meeting of the two civic organizations. Three matches were scheduled between the two teams, with the Rotary winning the first two. The third match will be bowled next week. The score last night was 2,424 to 2,419. Capt. Armstrong, of the winers, was the high man for the night with 128 pins in the fourth game.

The St. Mary's Celtics will play the Howard French A. C. tomorrow night in the local Armory Hall in the second game played between the two teams. In the preliminary game the Clover A. C. will play the Hyattsville Juniors. The Celtics will play no more Sunday afternoon basket ball games because it interferes with baseball practice.

BILOXI SEEN AS NATIONALS' CAMP FOR TERM OF YEARS; G. W. FRESHMEN FIVE AGAIN ADVANCES IN TOURNAMENT

RULES CRAMP WIGGINS' STYLE

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NOW it is old Chuck Wiggins, of Indianapolis, who splashes water on the ringside customers, going into the tank for the greater glory of Primo Carnera. Of course, the old Chuckler has been pretty well done for these last several years but the fact that Primo met him at all can only mean that he is all through because Primo is under retainer to the Garden Corporation, and the plan is to bring him through undamaged and not even embarrassed to the summer time when he is to go into the Polo Grounds with Victorio Campolo.

Signor Campolo, himself, committed a serious faux pas down in Miami when he permitted Johnny Risko to go piling into him throughout seven of their ten rounds and slap him about regardless of a great margin of tonnage but the referee eased the situation somewhat that night by calling the bout a draw.

Fainting Philip Scott made a great to-do about American justice that same evening amid the itching palms, when the Leering Lithuanian, Jack Sharkey, hit him a dab on the hip, but Risko has had little to say about the decision that robbed him of his earnings when he had finished with Signor Campolo. But Risko is an American and he doubtless goes to the brawls with the cynical American understanding that a union man shouldn't cause trouble.

Risko Forgot to Squawk.

With a much braver record than Fainting Phil, he was outlawed in New York on the ground that he wasn't fit to fight the Garden Corporation's man, Campolo, while Fainting Philip was named for the main event in Miami by act of the cauliflower legislature. Then, when the tests came, Risko beat his man, was robbed and said nothing much, whereas Fainting Phil quit, squawked, and no doubt will be sent back in, by special ruling of the prize-fight commissioners, to plague the customers in some main event at one of the ball yards, again.

All of which consists with my contention that prize fight commissioners and the politicians in Congress share a common code of ethics, morals and self-respect which might be taken as a compliment or the contrary by either body or both.

Still, I shouldn't complain of that, because if, the administration of the racket were fair and decent a great many prize fight reporters, including this one, would be confronted with a life of toil, a fate which is worse than death, and so would a large number of happy unbelievers on the Capitol run in Washington. You can't sell papers with banner-lines stating that everything is fair and decent.

Wiggins' Free-style Fights Epics.

But I seem to be backing into my proposition that old Chuck Wiggins, who took the water for Carnera in St. Louis, used to be my favorite prize fighter. He was a catch-as-catch-can gladiator and his bout with Harry Greb, the greatest free style fighter of modern times, in Battle Creek or Grand Rapids or some such spot out on the western wheel was a job of blood-letting that should be looked up and set down on paper for the books to take rank eventually with the mad scraps credited to Yankee Sullivan on the lower East Side of New York when Forty-second street was the county seat of Hell-and-Gone.

One night as he took his ale at the crossroads up in Speculator the Chuckler told me that this was the most enjoyable prize fight of his whole career. The referee called them to the center just before the bell and said, "Boys, take care of yourselves because the rules are off tonight and the people are asking for a murder."

Couldn't See Past His Nose.

"So, in the first round," the Chuckler said, blowing the collar off his glass, "Greb sailed into a clinch and clamped his teeth on my nose. Well, now, imagine how I felt about that. I felt terrible. So I belted him a few pokes out of bounds and jabbed my thumbs in his eyes and pretty soon his mouth popped open and he backed away. My nose swelled up so big I could hardly see past it for the rest of the fight, but his eyes weren't much good either, so everything was even, and we spent the half hour kicking, biting, butting and generally making merry.

"I have had many fights," Mr. Wiggins said, "including some with Tunney, who is pretty good in some respects, although I could lick him free style tomorrow and me with a hangover from all this ale, of which I think I will have another quart and what will be yours? But that one with Harry, God rest him, though I don't imagine he needs it, was the best fight of all."

Wrangle With Police Open to Question.

The Chuckler's right hand was not much more than a dubious ornament in the ring. Elsewhere he used it to count and spend money, but within

THE George Washington University Freshmen advanced into the quarter finals of the A. A. U. championship basket-ball tournament sponsored by The Washington Post when they defeated the Eastern Preps, 42 to 28, last night at Tech High School.

Although Forest Burgess agin led the George Washington Freshmen in the scoring column, three members of the yearlings had a prominent hand in the second triumph of the downtown college team. Player-Coach Jack Connor and Clyde Roming joined Burgess in his "hot hand," each finding the basket four times from the floor, while Lee Carlin lobbed in the bal lthree times from scrimmage.

Working the ball in close for continual "snowbirds," the Freshmen had little difficulty in running the score up to a 19-11 advantage in the first 20 minutes of play, and thereafter were content in taking things easy. A short spurt of the preps, after G. W. had boosted its count to 38, carried them to a 22-point total, but they were never able to get within 14 points of their rivals—the count at the end of the game.

Freshmen Easily Vanquish Preps.

In walloping the Hawkins-Nash Aces, the Potomac Boat Club Preps impressed with a good attack, which settled all doubt as to the ultimate outcome of the game early in the first half. Holding their foes to one field goal in the first 20 minutes of play, the victors rang up 20 points to walk off the floor with a 20-3 lead at half-time. No one player was outstanding for the Prep team, every member of the quintet having a hand in the scoring with 2 or more points.

WARNS SHIRES

CHARLES COMISKEY.

CHISOX SNUB SHIRES, WHO RELENTS

Player, Agreeing to Terms, Told He Must Explain Fights.

CHICAGO, March 19 (A.P.).—Art Shires, belligerent White Sox first baseman, must explain his prize-fighting troubles to Owner Charles A. Comiskey before the veteran White Sox boss will reinstate the first sacker. Shires wired his acceptance of the White Sox terms today, but Owner Comiskey declined to accept the contract until Shires made a satisfactory explanation of his prize-ring activities.

Comiskey received the following telegram from Shires, from Italy, Tex., the ball player's home town:

"Terms satisfactory. Shall I send contract in or carry with me to San Antonio?" The Sox training camp is at San Antonio

Comiskey replied by another wire:

"Your wire received. Signing of contract is a secondary consideration. What I must know before you become reinstated is who accused you of wrongdoing while participating in the fighting ring, who suspended you, and who produced the evidence that caused your reinstatement. Do not report to San Antonio until you have answered the foregoing questions to me. If reinstated in baseball, you must follow baseball as a serious profession. As you must know, your actions in the past have been humiliating to your companions and we can not countenance any recurrence of such actions."

Original Contract Is Accepted.

The White Sox offices here added that the contract which Shires accepted as satisfactory was the original one sent him.

Shires has been described as a holdout.

Shires was accused and later exonerated of attempting to "fix" his fights in Detroit and Chicago. Subsequently, he was called before Baseball Commissioner Landis and directed to quit the prize ring permanently or baseball. Shires agreed to forget the ring and since then has kept his promise.

La Gorce Open Today Attracts Field of 98

Miami Beach, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).

Neil McIntyre, Indianapolis golfing professional, knocked three off par for the difficult La Gorce course here today to lead the parade of 98 practice swingers getting in trim for the first day's play of the $15,000 La Gorce open tomorrow.

McIntyre turned in a card of 68 over the 18-hole route. Par is 71.

Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., who took first prize in the second largest money tournament last winter, had a 72 for his day's practice round, while Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla. winner in 1928, marked up a 74.

Eighteen holes will be played tomorrow with the second 18 booked for Friday. Thirty-six holes will be played Saturday. The 64 low players at the end of the first 36 holes will continue the final play.

Don to Assault Record In Silver Bullet Today

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).—Weather and beach permitting, Kaye Don, British racing driver, will make an official attempt to break the world automobile speed record of 231 miles an hour shortly after daybreak tomorrow, he announced today.

Adverse weather today and a ruffled beach prevented Don from making trial today but gradual swinging of the wind toward the northeast quarter led the driver to believe better conditions might prevail tomorrow. Northeast winds would iron the beach smooth and clean

Don said he would be on the beach at 6 o'clock. Hereafter for several days test must be made in the morning on account of the tide cycle which by tomorrow will have carried the afternoon ebb period almost into the dusk. There is a possibility that there may be a brief period late tomorrow when visibility will be good enough for speed.

Infield Lone Problem of Indians

Club Faces Task to Finish in Third Place Again.

Fonseca May Not Be Ready at Start of Season.

Herewith is the fifteenth of a series of first-hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.

By BRIAN BELL.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians face one of the hardest of all baseball assignments—holding their own. The Tribe finished third last year, perhaps a notch higher than they had a right to expect—and they may become involved in a desperate struggle to maintain this position.

Roger Peckinpaugh and Billy Evans, who direct the playing and business affairs, respectively, have found that one can not have everything in baseball. No fault can be found in advance with the pitching, catching, outfield, or general hitting, but the infield presents a slight rub.

The likely starting infield is a scrambled affair. Lew Fonseca, the American League's leading hitter, will play first base when he recovers from a midwinter attack of scarlet fever which has left him in a weakened condition, but he may not be able to answer the opening bell. Peck hopes Lew will be available, but is not counting on him and has two subs available.

Bonura and Morgan Available.

Zeke Bonura, with only a year with New Orleans in professional baseball, can hit and, although an awkward performer, comes up with hard-hit balls and weird throws. As a schoolboy athlete, Bonura, from St. Stanislaus and Loyola, threw a javelin nearly 214 feet. If it is decided that the jump is too great for the inexperienced Zeke, Eddie Morgan, the outfielder, who has played first in the majors, will be assigned to the bag temporarily.

Johnny Hodapp has found himself at second base and will start, probably flanked by Carl Lind, at short. The reliable Joe Sewell is a fixture at third base. Even when Fonseca returns to first, every man on the infield will be a turnover. The premier hitter formerly was a second baseman, so a second baseman will be playing first, a third baseman playing second, a second baseman playing short and a shortstop playing third.

Goldman Likely to Be Retained.

Johnny (Jonah) Goldman, the Syracuse star, can field with the game's great shortstops, and as he has been out on option for two years and can not be sent away again without surrender of claims to his services, probably will be kept as a utility infielder. Ray Gardner will remain in the same capacity. Bruce Caldwell, Yale football star, probably will have another year in the minors.

The outfield problem is one of selection. Earl Averill and Bib Falk are sure to start. If Dick Porter picks up in his hitting where he left off last season he will get the other place, but Bob Seeds, from Kansas City, Johnny Gill, who played with Albany last year, and Charlie Jamieson, a spry veteran, will stand by. Manager Peckinpaugh will have to let at least one good outfielder go.

Veteran Pitchers Are Back.

Wesley Ferrell, Willis Hudlin, Walter Miller, Kenneth Holloway and Joe Shaute of last year's staff will furnish the backbone of the pitching. They are expected to receive considerable assistance from tall Belve Beane, former New Orleans Pelican, who seems to need only a change of pace; Pete Jablonowski, former Cincinnati Red and Wolverine of Michigan; Milburn Shoffner, promising left-hander from Jersey City, and Clinton Brown and Mel Harder, both optioned to New Orleans last season. The Cleveland pitchers can fall short of last year's somewhat astonishing records and still do very well.

Luke Sewell, carrying less weight at the start of this season than he did at the close of the last, is confident he will have a good year behind the bat. The other catchers are Glenn Myatt, experienced and smart, and Fred (Bud) Frank, Terre Haute recruit.

Last Article of Series To Deal With Nationals

The sixteenth and concluding article of the series dealing with the pennant prospects of the major league clubs will concern the Washington Team, and will be written by Frank H. Young, staff correspondent of The Post. It will appear in tomorrow's issue.

Hagen-Kirkwood Beat Two Australian Pairs

Adelaide, Australia, March 19 (A.P.).—Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood, the globe-touring professionals from the United States turned in a double victory today.

With Hagen doing spectacular work, the visitors beat Rufus Stewart, Australian professional champion, and Fergus McMahon, south Australia professional title holder, 1 up.

Two amateurs, Ivo Whitton and Ross Sawers, fell victims to the Hagen-Kirkwood combination, 4 and 3, in another eighteen-hole encounter.

Braves, Resting, See Cardinals Win.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (A.P.)—Manager Bill McKechnie gave his Boston Braves Baseball Squad a holiday today, and most of the players were present when the Cardinals pounded out a 7-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

The Braves will get back to work tomorrow afternoon when they play an exhibition game against the Detroit Tigers.

Tigers Get 14 Hits In Beating Phils.

Winterhaven, Fla., March 19 (A.P.).—The Detroit Tigers pounded three of Burt Shotton's pitchers for fourteen hits to trounce the Phillies, 9 to 2, in an exhibition game here today.

Claude Willoughby's ascension to the pitching mound in the fourth frame was the signal for a barrage of base hits that gave Detroit three markers in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Tigers added four in the ninth against Collard, who had twirled effectively for the three preceding periods.

Art Herring blanked the Phils in the first five innings. Hogsett was touched for two runs in the sixth.

IN THE COLLEGE CORNER

By JACK ESPEY

EFFORTS to bring local colleges together in sports competition on a permanent basis showed evidence of crystallization in one quarter yesterday when the Old Line Club, alumni organization of Maryland University, invited Tom Mills, director of athletics of Georgetown University, to attend its annual banquet as honor guest next Thursday night.

The invitation itself was not deeply significant, but, when considered along with a couple of other incidents of the past two months, it seemed to say quite definitely that the beginning of the end of the distant feeling among local colleges, particularly Georgetown and Maryland, is imminent.

We can recall that H. C. "Curly" Byrd, director of athletics of Maryland University, not more than two months ago deplored in a published article that Maryland and Georgetown did not play a basket ball game this winter.

We also can recall that Mills said in an informal statement on March 12 that he was going to look thoroughly into the possibilities of Georgetown meeting the other Capital schools in various sports. Mills was emphatic in denying that Georgetown had been keeping aloof, as was openly charged in another Washington newspaper.

Hand-Shaking Idea Fomenting.

The Old Line Club, which will be Mills' host next Thursday night, is an organization comparable to the Georgetown "G" Club. Its members are all sports enthusiasts as well as supporters of their alma mater in all sorts of activities. The president of the Old Line Club is Donald Adams, a football and basket ball star at Maryland several years ago. Adams, joined by Emile Zalesak, another former Maryland athlete, personally invited Mills.

Adams and Zalesak were both athletes of that era which never saw Maryland compete against Georgetown.

The inner workings of college athletic organizations are mysterious to the outsider and not even newspapermen "covering" the colleges here are able to pry into them to an appreciable extent.

But even so, it seems that Maryland and Georgetown are definitely starting overtures which will lead to agreements to play each other in the several branches of sport. Of course, it can be said that the Old Line Club is not official representative of Maryland. In fact, it is not. Still, it is an organization close to the powers that be in Maryland athletics, and when it invites the Georgetown athletic director to be the guest of honor at its most important function—which sets a precedent—we believe it only logical to assume that something in the way of shaking hands by the two colleges is afoot.

Daley Tops Sprinters Third Straight Year.

Jimmy Daley, the Holy Cross flier, will not wear two sprint crowns through 1930 as he did last year, but he owns an enviable distinction that will not be forgotten soon. He did not defend his 60-yard amateur championship in the national indoor title games the other night in New York and thus saw the honor won by Chet Bowman, veteran Newark runner.

Daley holds the intercollegiate 70-yard title, having won it in the I. C. 4-A meet on March 1. This is the third year in succession that Jimmy has ruled the eastern college sprint-

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19 (A. P.).—Tom Zachary, veteran New York Yankee southpaw, was debited with his first defeat since the opening of the 1929 season, when the St. Louis Cardinals pounded out a ninth-inning victory at his expense today. The score was 7 to 3.

Zachary worked the last three innings after Pennock and Pipgras had held the Cards at bay, being on the mound in the ninth when five straight hits scored four runs. The defeat gave the Yanks an even break in their eight exhibition games.

Town Anxious For Club to Return

Griffith to Sign Long Contract for Camp, Is Indication.

Team Leaves Today for Chattanooga; Deals Denied.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

BILOXI, Miss., March 19.—Whether or not the Nationals will return to Biloxi next spring has not yet been decided, but as all of the players are in excellent condition, none has been ill, and the bracing air seems to have agreed with the men better than has the debilitating sunshine of Tampa, indications are that President Clark Griffith and the city fathers will get together and reach an agreement for, perhaps, a term of years.

The Washington Club owner conferred with Biloxi officials this afternoon. The latter like the Nationals, have treated them royally, and want them back. Apparently the only objection from a Washington standpoint is that, because of Biloxi being out of baseball's beaten path, it has not been possible for exhibition games with major league clubs to be arranged, and both President Griffith and Manager Walter Johnson believe that these are as important as part of the Nats' training routine.

True, two minor league outfits have been met, but big leagues do not take games with these clubs seriously, consequently these games do not tend to bring out the competitive spirit which the powers deem necessary, once the players have been gotten into playing form.

Rain Prevents Game With Collegians.

There has been considerable rain here during the past few days; in fact, the game scheduled for this afternoon with Spring Hill College, of Mobile, had to be canceled because of the heavy infield, but no whole day's practice has been lost.

Last Saturday and again today weather conditions prevented the usual morning workout, but later in the day Old Sol came out, and drills were held, although curtailed to a certain extent. The Nats are due to leave for Chattanooga tomorrow, stopping en route at Birmingham Friday for a tussle with Clyde Milan's Barons, and President Griffith will not decide finally, on the matter of returning here for two weeks or more.

It is understood that Gulfport, 12 miles away, is dickering with a National League Club to train there next spring and has hopes of landing one, and it is just possible that Griffith is holding his decision in abeyance pending hearing from Gulfport, for a team there would give him some of the major league opposition he seeks.

Griffith Denying Any Deals.

While rumors continue to fly thick and fast around the camp here that the Nats are considering many trade offers, one of which will give them a right-handed hitting outfielder which they need, President Griffith is denying everything. He stated this morning that he was considering no trade offers of any kind.

The talk of the camp here this morning was of yesterday's cruise and fishing trip to the Isle of Caprice, a narrow strip of land which separates the Mississippi Sound from the Gulf of Mexico. The Nats were the guests of Capt. S. P. Edmonds, commander of the Biloxi Coast Guard Base, who treated the players as though he considered them special representatives of President Hoover. So interested in the fishing did Manager Johnson become that he and some of the other "Izaak Waltons" remained after the Coast Guard cutter left and were brought back later in the speedy rum-boat chaser.

TEAMS PLAY 5TH SOCCER TIE, 0-0

Gage-Peabody Series for School Title Is Definitely Ended.

SENSING it as apparently useless to continue the struggle between the Gage and Peabody Schools for the soccer championship of the junior elementary schools, playground officials yesterday decided to allow each school to hold the cup for a given period, after another attempt had ended as the last five—in a scoreless tie. The game was played at the Plaza Playground.

With the exception of the first two of the seven games in which each team recorded a victory by a 2-0 count, the teams have been unable to gain a verdict. With the soccer season already over, officials decided not to let the question of the championship encroach upon the baseball season and took the only means of ending the argument.

Indians Use 17 Rookies In Beating Pelicans.

New Orleans, La., March 19 (A.P.). Seventeen youngsters and two veterans on the Cleveland Indians won a 11-to-10 victory over the New Orleans Pelicans today in the Indians' first exhibition game of the season.

The game gave Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Indians a line on the behavior of some of the recruits, especially Jerry Harris, from the Texas A. and M., who caught during the last five innings. He showed some mechanical competence. Belve Bean, Pete Jablonowski and Clint Brown divided the pitching assignment for Cleveland. None was especially effective, New Orleans making sixteen hits, including three triples and four two-baggers.

Eagle Five to Oppose Baltimore Leaders

The Skinker Brothers' Eagles will meet another Baltimore team Sunday, when they face the St. Wenceslaus Lyceum in Silver Spring Armory at 3 o'clock.

The Orioles will come with a good season's record behind them, having recently beaten the K. of C. Team to tie for the leadership of the Catholic League. Previous to the game the K. of C. Five was on the top of the league.

CLOVERETTE SEXTET IS WINNER

Defeat Georgetown Girls, 51 to 45, in Post's Tourney.

of The Post's A. A. U. championship tournament, which was staged at the George Washington University Gymnasium.

For the first half of the game, it appeared as if Georgetown would win in a walk. The ultimate losers got off to a fast start in the first ten minutes of play, rolling up a 15-4 lead on their losers, and by half time had increased their advantage to 27 to 18.

However, at their resumption of play, the Cloverettes began to flash winning basket ball and slowly cut down their opponents' lead. Just before the third quarter ended, the Cloverettes went into the lead for the first time, holding the upper hand in a 40-39 score as the final quarter got under way. The Cloverettes failed to increase their lead, however, until the last three minutes of play, when a brisk rally carried them six points to the front—the final margin of victory.

J. C. C. Leads Als from Outset.

The Jewish Community Center girls team gained the right to meet the Eagles sextet in the final for the women's unlimited title when they created an upset by defeating the Als A. C., 22 to 7, last night in one of the feature games of the program.

In pulling the unexpected against the Als A. C., the J. C. C. girls played winning basket ball from the opening whistle. Conceded only a bare chance of winning, the eventual victors took the lead in the first few minutes of play, and gaining a 6-to-2 advantage at the end of the first quarter, were never headed. Accuracy, especially on their foul shots, played an important part in the J. C. C. victory, for the losers had equally as many chances at the basket as their conquerors, but simply failed to put the ball through the cords.

At half time, the Als were trailing 13 to 4, and they failed to tally a point in the following period, being on the short end of a 17-to-4 count as the final frame started. Eva Fishman, with 14 points, was the big gun in the winners' attack.

the ropes it was merely something on which to hang the other glove. That is why I have always suspected that there was something irregular about his trouble with the Indianapolis police force last September, in which he was alleged to have maimed several gallant officers who became unduly officious and wished to detain him for driving his car through the window of a hat shop or cafeteria.

The dispatches said the Chuckler laid about him with his right and put them horizontal until some one approached him from behind and bent a length of plumbing over his nude and gleaming skull. If that was so, the riot was a fake, but no matter, and anyway, he would be the last one to tell.

If the Chuckler had been willing to break away from his old manager he might have had a prosperous time of it in New York in the days when Greb was most active and the lighthearted savagery of their act woul have filled the Garden in an indefinite series of repetitions. But the Chuckler's manager had done some wrong in the New York jurisdiction and was barred and old Chuck, who had taken him for better or for worse, accepted his banishment for himself as well, which loyalty deserved a better reward.

Is Going to Cut Out Bad Company.

"Pretty soon," he said, "I am going to cut out this ale and bad company, including sport writers, and start saving my money. A fellow told me to.

"I met this fellow one night in New Orleans. I came into the railroad station along toward 2 o'clock in the morning with my face all hammered up, after losing a fight to Tommy Gibbons, although I went in with a broken rib and would have licked him otherwise. I was standing there with my bag, waiting for the train, when a fellow came up to me and said: 'Are you a fighter?'

"I said, 'Yes; I'm Chuck Wiggins.' He said, 'I used to fight some myself. It's lonely here in this station at 2 a. m., but I remember one night back in 1894 when you couldn't get near me for the crowd. They had me up on their shoulders. They were drinking wine out of bottles and yelling all over the place.'

"I thought he was crazy," the Chuckler said. "He didn't have a mark on his face. He didn't have the look of a fighter. I asked him, 'Yeah? What were they yelling about?' and he said, 'I had just knocked out John L. Sullivan for the heavyweight championship of the world. I'm Jim Corbett. But that was back in 1894. Now I'm a ham in vaudeville and I don't see any crowds around tonight,' Jim Corbett said to me. And then he said, 'Chuck, they don't take long to forget. Save your money.'"

ers indoors. In 1929 he annexed the national 60-yard crown in addition to the college title. In 1928, as a sophomore, he scored his first triumph in the 70-yard event for collegians. In the three college meets he won ten heats, including two preliminaries, five semifinals and three finals, and never was his time slower than 0:07.3.

Wolff of Penn State Joins Pro Fighters.

At last Allie Wolff, sensational Penn State boxer of 1929, is cashing in on the prowess that stamped him extraordinary in collegiate ring circles. Now a graduate, he is boxing professionally in Pittsburgh, where he resides.

It used to be said that Wolff "couldn't take it" during his college career. An impression was formed that he didn't like to "mix it up" with hard hitters, preferring to stand off and win his bouts on points. We saw Allie fight once and it appeared that he used fine sportsmanship by not trying to put his opponent away. He had a murderous punch, but he didn't use it unless the other fellow invited it by trying to knock him out. Most of his opponents were far below his standard in capability and he evidently was satisfied to win on points.

House Detective Is Scooped.

Would the sleuthing reporter (and who believed him) be interested to know that his "scoop" on the "legitimate" George Washington football schedule for 1930 suffered from a little inaccuracy? It wasn't much of an inaccuracy—only that one of the games on his schedule hasn't been scheduled yet and that another may be changed from the date he assigned to it. Aside from that his schedule was all right.

Incidentally, The Post more than three months ago published the G. W. 1930 schedule as it was ranged at that time and subsequently exclusively reported two changes which included the booking of the Navy game, the first ever listed by the Colonials.

Army to Meet G. U. In Tennis Match Here

Special to The Washington Post.

West Point, N. Y., March 19.—Tennis schedules for the Army team listing twelve games for the 1930 season were released today by Maj. P. B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at the U. S. Military Academy here. The season will open here on April 19 with Swarthmore and close May 31 with Wesleyan College. Only one match will be played away from West Point, the cadets having been authorized to journey to Washington, D. C., to meet Georgetown on April 26. Major Thomas D. Finley has again been designated as the officer in charge.

George S. Ward, head tennis coach, has a squad of twenty-six players contending for places on either the plebe or varsity teams. Present indications are that Brooks, captain of the team, Lewis, Rothschild, Watson, all letter men from last year, as well as Helms, Derby, Thatcher and Kerwin will be on the first string.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, Wednesday, March 19, 8 p.m.

Forecast: For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia—Fair and warmer Thursday; Friday increasing cloudiness, probably followed by light rain in afternoon or at night; colder Friday; moderate winds, mostly south and southwest.

The disturbance that was over the Atlantic States Tuesday night has moved northeastward to the Canadian maritime provinces, Anticosti, Quebec, 28.94 inches, with a trough extending southwestward to Florida. The northwestern disturbance has continued to move southeastward, and it now has two centers, Duluth, Minn., 29.40 inches, and Kalispell, Mont., 29.52 inches. These disturbances have caused precipitation in the Atlantic and east Gulf States, the Appalachian region, the upper Ohio Valley, and the lower Lake region, and from the northern Rocky Mountain region eastward to Manitoba and North Dakota. The Alaskan area of high pressure has diminished greatly in strength, Juneau, 30.30 inches, and an offshoot is advancing southeastward over Saskatchewan and Montana, Battleford, 30.12 inches. Pressure remains high off the Washington and Oregon coasts, North Head, 30.24 inches, and is relatively high over the west Gulf States, Galveston, Tex., 30.04 inches. The temperature has risen from the Lake region southwestward and westward to the central and southern Rocky Mountain region and northern Texas, and it has fallen in the Atlantic and Gulf States and the Appalachian region, and from British Columbia and Washington eastward to North Dakota and Manitoba. The weather has become decidedly colder from Alberta and Montana eastward to North Dakota and Manitoba, several stations reporting a 24-hour fall in excess of 30 degrees.

Generally fair weather will prevail in the Washington Forecast District Thursday, but the eastward advance of the northwestern disturbance will be attended by increasing cloudiness Thursday, and light rain is probable Friday as far east as the Appalachian Mountains, changing to snow flurries over a considerable part of this area, and light rain is indicated Friday afternoon or night in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States. The temperature will rise throughout the Eastern and Southeastern States Thursday, but much colder weather will overspread the Ohio Valley, the lower Lake region, and Tennessee during Friday and Friday night, and probably the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States Friday night.

MEMORIAL HIGHWAY WORK IS UNDER WAY

Ground Broken for Grading of Mount Vernon Road in Alexandria.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE IS SET

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Simple ceremonies marked the formal starting of work on the $4,500 Mount Vernon Memorial boulevard yesterday when, at 10 o'clock, a huge gasoline-driven shovel turned the first yard of earth in the grading of the highway which is to link the home of Washington with the Nation's Capital, and which will be the most beautiful road in America.

Vice Mayor Edmund F. Ticer, representing the City of Alexandria; William B. McGroarty, president of the Washington Society of Alexandria; Afred Schiavi, brother of the grading contractor; H. E. Yates, who is in active charge of the work; E. L. Sparks, G. H. Reams and C. S. Morton, of the Ohio Power Shovel Co., Lima, Ohio, which company has supplied the greater part of the road machinery for the work, were present.

Mr. McGroarty in a short talk said that while the occasion was thoroughly informal in character, it marked an event of world-wide interest, and one well worth the tribute of the historian and the orator, as it was the opening episode of a "dream come true."

More than 40 years ago M. B. Harlow, of Alexandria and Washington, first conceived the plan of a memorial highway to connect the Mount Vernon estate with Washington, and although his plans met with many setbacks and disheartening delays, he never gave up hope of one day seeing his "dreams come true." Congress finally, as a part of the program for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington, adopted the plan which had been advocated for so many years, by enacting into law a bill presented by Representative R. Walton Moore, of Virginia, and appropriated $4,500 for construction of a 200-foot boulevard, which will start at the Arlington Memorial Bridge, skirt the river, passing through historic Alexandria over the street which bears the name of Washington, and thence to the mansion, which is the mecca of many thousands of patriotic Americans each year.

The boulevard is to be completed by Washington's Birthday of 1932, the bicentennial celebration, and its formal opening will be a part of the most stupendous celebration in the history of the country, for which plans are already being formulated in detail. The George Washington Masonic National Memorial Temple, which is being erected on Shooters Hill in Alexandria, on a site which was once the property of Washington, and which was the choice of Washington's associates for the site of the National Capitol, will be dedicated at the same time. This building, to cost approximately $5,000,000, and from the lofty tower of which both the Capitol and the mansion at Mount Vernon will be visible, has been erected by members of the craft of which Washington was a member, all over the country, and will stand as a national tribute to that craft's most distinguished member.

A meeting of representatives of the American Legion, the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, at a meeting in the George Mason Hotel Tuesday night, effected an organization for the purpose of raising funds for Boy Scout work in Alexandria, for which W. D. Leitch, scout executive for this section, says $3,000 is required.

Harry B. Caton was elected chairman of the organization; Col. John H. Trimyer, treasurer, and F. Clinton Knight, secretary. Appeals for contributions will be sent to 1,200 persons, the letters containing an outline of the scout work in the city and a pledge to be returned.

There are at present ten troops of Boy Scouts in Alexandria, with 240 members, and approximately 500 additional boys who are eligible if the facilities can be arranged, according to Mr. Leitch. A tract of land south of Alexandria has been secured, on which cabins will be built by each troop, and outdoor work is planned for the coming spring and summer. The annual inspection of the scouts will be held in the armory April 4.

The Kiwanis Club will have as its special guests at its weekly luncheon today members of the staff of Radio Station WJSV, which has just closed a lease for quarters in the Doniphan Building on King street. Those who have been invited are James S. Vance, president; A. H. Moore, secretary; Charles I. Stengle, general counsel; Charles E. Shackleford, chairman of the advisory committee; James P. McGrath, station manager; David Martin, announcer; Willard B. Martin, announcer; Ralph W. Frame, publicity manager; R. M. Johnson, auditor, and the Rev. William McDougall, religious adviser.

At the luncheon, musical numbers will be given by Miss Frances Nugent and Miss Margaret Ogden. Roy Case is entertainment chairman, with Elliott F. Hoffman and Jerome Kaufman as assistants.

Delegates to the international convention of Kiwanis will be elected at this meeting.

The Alexandria Garden Club held a meeting on Tuesday with Mrs. C. S. Taylor Burke, which was presided over by Mrs. D. Mauchlin Niven, the president, and committee chairmen appointed for the annual flower show to be sponsored by the club.

Mrs. Frank M. Dillard was made chairman of a committee to select the date and place for the show; Mrs. Robert Miller Reese, publicity; Miss Mary Lindsey, prizes; Mrs. Charles F. Holden, tags and ribbons; Mrs. Thomas B. Cochran, accessories; Mrs. Overton W. Price, pottery, and Mrs. Charles Ellett Cabell, tables.

Miss Mary Lindsey, chairman of the committee on the restoration of the courtyard at Gadsby's Tavern, reported the club has retained the services of an architect to design the work, will submit a drawing shortly of the old porch and inclosing wall to be built.

The local club will sponsor pilgrimages during historic garden week, April 28 to May 3, to Gunston Hall, the famous estate of George Mason; Rippon Lodge, the Blackburn home, Wellington, the home of Tobias Lear, and Gadsby's Tavern.

Martha Washington Chapter, No. 42, Order Eastern Star, has elected the following officers, to be installed March 25: Mrs. Susie V. Cassedy, worthy matron; Thomas M. Jones, worthy patron; Miss Louise Schwarzmann, associate matron; H. E. Gentry, associate patron; Mrs. Sue G. Luckett, reelected secretary; Mrs. H. Lucille Batchelior, reelected treasurer; Mrs. Viola Hepburn, conductress; Mrs. Mabel Kennedy, associate conductress; Mrs. Mary Zachary, chaplain; Mrs. Catherine Cross, marshal; Mrs. Helen B. Nalls, organist; Mrs. Elizabeth Poff, Ada; Mrs. Mabel Evans, Ruth; Mrs. Lena Simpson, Esther; Mrs. Elizabeth Sherwood, Martha; Miss Sara Dettor, Electra; Mrs. Ruth Whitlock, warden, and William D. Wicker, sentinel.

Mrs. Minnie Keyes, right worthy grand secretary of the General Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will conduct the installation ceremony on Tuesday, March 25, assisted by Mrs. Eugenie Deland Saugstadt, marshal.

KOON IS REELECTED CUMBERLAND MAYOR

Given Ninth Term in Office in Largest Vote Cast in City's History.

EXPENDITURE IS HEAVY

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, March 19.—The count of the largest vote ever cast at a Cumberland municipal election, which resulted in the reelection of Dr. Thomas W. Koon mayor for a ninth term, was not completed until along at daybreak this morning. In one ward nearly 2,000 votes were cast.

Mayor Koon's vote almost doubled that of his opponent, City Commissioner Charles F. Heller, the vote being: Koon, 6,184; Heller, 3,188. The vote for councilman was: Samuel Wertheimer, 6,315; Joseph H. Griffin, former commissioner, 5,236; Herbert Lee Blye, present police and fire commissioner, 4,943; John G. Shearer, 4,690; George W. Legge, jr., 4,210; Harold M. Chaney, 3,541; William H. Shaw, 3,200; Thomas G. Pownall, 2,481.

Wertheimer, Griffin, Blye and Shearer are elected. While elections are conducted along nonpartisan lines, as required by commission form of government, it happens that all of the successful candidates are members of the Democratic party. Cumberland is Republican on affiliated vote, and some members of that party supported a slate composed of Legge, Shaw and Pownall. Republicans, who if elected would have had three of the five votes composing the council.

The three amendments, for increasing salaries of mayor and councilmen, for $85,000 sewer extension bond issue and $85,000 bond issue for an incinerator, were overwhelmingly defeated.

Mayor Koon's backers held a jubilation party at the City Hall this morning. The mayor was presented with a large bouquet.

There has been considerable criticism because of the large expenditure of money. More than one hundred automobiles were employed in bringing voters to the polls. There were probably three hundred persons employed by candidates as "messengers." This can be done legally, but in some instances it has been termed "vote buying."

Under another guise, it is conservatively estimated that at least $10,000 was spent in the campaign.

Man Shoots Wife, Then Slays Self

Marylander Leaves Five Children; Relatives Are Blamed.

Special to The Washington Post.

Salisbury, Md., March 19.—Harrison Disharoon, 44, died at a hospital here early this morning completing a double tragedy during the night in which he shot and killed his wife, then barricaded himself in his farmhouse and turned the gun upon himself, as county police approached.

Sheriff Duffy learned this afternoon that the farmer had employed a local taxi driver to take him on his death-dealing mission. First he was driven to the home of his wife's parents, near Mardela, fired a charge from a shotgun at his wife through a window, then he rode more than 10 miles to his own home, dictated a note, in which three of his wife's relatives were blamed for the tragedy, at a neighbor's house, explaining the act to the State's attorney, and planned his own execution.

When Sheriff Duffy and a deputy broke down a door to gain entry to Disharoon's house they found him dying on a bed, a gunshot wound in the breast close to the heart.

They leave five children from 3½ to 21 years of age.

Balmy Weather Hastens Apple Orchard Blooms

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 19.—Balmy weather for the past two days has hurried apple bud development and precipitated orchardists into their delayed dormant spray a week earlier than had been expected in this belt. The appearance of aphis, coincident with the showing of the bud tips, was observed generally today.

Growers hoped for colder weather than would interrupt the movement of the sap which, growers feel, is still too early to be reasonably safe from frosts and freezes. Peach growth is much more advanced than the apple growth in the section, while Jefferson County growers today reported plum trees on the verge of bloom. Most peaches in this section are believed seriously injured by the cold weather three weeks ago.

MAN IS ACQUITTED IN SLAYING CHARGE

DEFENDANT ON STAND

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Vienna, Va.
Phone Vienna 64.

Indicted on a charge of murder growing out of the death of Raymond Grover, of Alexandria, Mikell Ardezzone Caetto, alias Mike Ardezzone, alias Mike Caetto, was acquitted by a jury in the Fairfax County Circuit Court yesterday with Judge Howard W. Smith presiding.

The shooting occurred on November 11, 1929, at the home of Grover near the Penn Daw Hotel, south of Alexandria, following an alleged drinking party by Caetto, his wife, Grover and a man named Raymond Haynes. As Caetto and his wife started home that night a fight took place between him and Grover, who was said to be the aggressor. Caetto grabbed a .22 rifle from the back of his machine and ran onto the road; hearing sounds of pursuit, he turned and fired a shot in their general direction. The bullet struck Grover in the abdomen. He was rushed to the Alexandria Hospital, where he died a few days later. Caetto fled after the shooting, but gave himself up to the Fairfax authorities following Grover's death.

The first witness for the Commonwealth, Dr. Delaney, of the Alexandria Hospital, refused to say that the gunshot wound was the direct cause of Grover's death as he had been in an accident the February before in which he lost part of his foot. The doctor stated that he believed that the wounds in the intestines of Grover had healed at the time of his death and the direct cause of his death was the failure of blood to circulate through his legs inducing heart failure.

According to the testimony of the witnesses, on the day of the shooting there had been no quarrel until that time. But Mrs. Caetto admitted under cross-examination that she had been intimate with Grover for almost a year prior to the party without the knowledge of her husband, and it was on her insistence that they attended the party.

Caetto took the stand in his own behalf and stated that he had not known Grover until about a month before the shooting and had no no knowledge of his wife's relation with Grover, although he had been told that they were going around together before he met him. The first time he met Grover, he said, he asked him about the story, and Grover denied having anything to do with Mars. Caetto and professed to be Caetto's best friend, which, he said, he believed. He also stated that when Grover was chasing him that Grover had a gun in his pocket and he thought Grover was going to shoot him.

At the conclusion of the testimony, Commonwealth's Attorney Wilson M. Farr made a strong plea for a verdict of second degree murder on the indictment charging murder. The jury was out more than three-quarters of an hour before they returned and rendered a verdict of not guilty.

H. S. Childres and E. Baylis, said to be of Atlantic City, N. J., were arrested in Fredericksburg, Va. They were returned to this county by Traffic Policeman A. W. Mills and taken before Justice of Peace Harry Shephard at Accotink and charged with stealing 13 gallons of gasoline from George Tyler near Pohick. They were sentenced to 90 days in the aFirfax Jail. It is alleged that they confessed to stealing the car they were driving in Pennsylvania.

Judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Court, A. C. Ritchie, at Fairfax, made an investigation into the case of Roberta De Planta and Peggy Seldon, both 17 years old, of Alexandria, Va., who were arrested at Lacey's dance hall near Bailey's Cross Roads last Saturday night on a charge of drinking on the public highway. That night Justice of Peace John B. Dowden at Baileys Cross Roads imposed a fine of $19.50 each on the charge. They were unable to pay their fines and were remanded to the Fairfax Jail and the girls' parents notified. Both girls were ordered sent to the State Reform School.

George Allison Lee, of Falls Church, was adjudged in contempt of court yesterday by Judge Howard W. Smith for failure to abide by the court's decision given last fall to pay $30 a month alimony for the support of his child. He was ordered held in the Fairfax Jail or to give a $500 bond to the clerk of the court that he would pay the $30 a month alimony.

The auxiliary and Daughters of the King of the Episcopal Church at Falls Church will meet today at the home of Mrs. William Herring.

The Ladies Guild of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Baileys Cross Roads will meet this afternoon at the home of its president, Mrs. Thurlow White.

A few weeks ago a campaign was started in the schools of this county for funds to help restore Wakefield, the birthplace of George Washington, and Stratford, the birthplace of Gen Robert E. Lee. According to the report made yesterday by divisional superintendent of schools of this county, Wilbert T. Woodson, the pupils of 33 schools in the county contributed $55.90 to aid in the restoration of Wakefield and $69.13 for Stratford. The Lee Jackson School was the largest contributor to the Stratford fund and the McLean School for the Wakefield fund.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Southern Methodist Church at Chesterbrook will hold a penny cafeteria supper tonight in the basement of the church. Mrs. H. A. Hill, president of the society, will be the general chairman of arrangements.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Columbia Baptist Church in Falls Church will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Shotwell, in Falls Church.

The Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church of Falls Church will meet today in the church parlors.

Mrs. L. B. Monroe, 54 years old, of Groveton, was the victim of a hit-and-run driver as she was walking along the Washington-Richmond highway near her home Tuesday night. The car continued on toward Alexandria. She was picked up by persons living in the vicinity and taken to a doctor, who pronounced the injuries serious.

Fire of unknown origin, starting in the summer kitchen of the old home of Mrs. Minnie Wren, at Chantilly, completely destroyed the home and all outbuildings last night.

Mrs. Wren, an invalid, was carried from the flaming home by her niece who lives with her. The flames, swept by the high winds, soon spread over the house and to the outbuildings before the fire departments from Fairfax and Herndon arrived. They are both about 8 miles from the dwelling. Mrs. Wren is the widow of Gus Wren and had made her home there for many years.

Many valuable relics and antiques were destroyed, as nothing was saved from the blaze. The loss was estimated to be around $10,000, as the antiques can not be replaced.

EARLY SPRING SPURS APPLE FETE PLANS

30 Committees Selected; DuShane Is Appointed Parade Director.

INQUIRIES FLOOD OFFICE

Winchester, Va., March 19 (A.P.).—The promise of an early spring here, while causing fruit growers some concern, has speeded up efforts of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival organization. Approximately 30 committees are being selected to arrange details of the festival and Nelson F. Richards, director general, has announced the appointment of James R. DuShane as parade director.

Greater public interest than has ever been displayed in the event has been shown this year, Mr. Richards said, and mail inquiries are daily pouring in at apple blossom headquarters. Definite information that the heads of two railroads and one important related industry are to attend has been received, and Mr. Richards believes two other railways will be represented by other chief executives.

Mr. Richards has announced that the decorations of Winchester will be carried out this year on a scale never before attempted. Carlin Gray, chairman of the decoration committee, is being aided by J Pinckney Arthur and D. F. Stultz. W. W. Glass, assistant director general, announced, following a trip through the Shenandoah Valley, that Shenandoah Valley, Inc., will have a float in the parade and hopes to have one representing each of the fifteen counties of the valley.

He also announced that Massanutten Military Academy will send its band and entire cadet corps; that Fishburne Military Academy, of Waynesboro, will send its band and probably the student body; that Augusta Military Academy will send both band and cadet corps, and Staunton Military Academy will send its band.

Three counties in Pennsylvania never before represented, are planning participation in the festival, Mr. Richards said, and West Virginia counties are to send delegates.

DELEGATE REVIEWS WORK OF ASSEMBLY

Ashton Heights Citizens Association Hears Talk by Reid.

BYRD VISIT REQUESTED

ARLINGTON COUNTY.
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Speaking at the monthly meeting of the Ashton Heights Citizens Association last night at the Ashton Heights Woman's Clubhouse, Delegate Hugh Reid gave a review of the accomplishments of the General Assembly during the recent session, with particular attention to measures affecting Arlington County.

Taking up legislation on the distribution of the gasoline tax, Mr. Reid stated that during the next two years Arlington County will not lose more than 5 per cent of its total, which has been about $60,000 a year. Following the census of 1930 he stated that there will be a slight gain to the county, and not the loss that was feared.

The passage of the bill creating a county court for the county will consolidate eleven offices, he said. The police court and juvenile and domestic relations judge will be abolished, as will nine of the justices of the peace now elected by the people. The judge of the county court will be elected at the county election in 1931, at which time all county officers will be elected.

In the bill providing for collection of delinquent State real estate taxes those delinquent prior to 1926 will now go to the counties and not to the State treasury, he said.

Since the segregation act of 1926 there has been no State real estate tax.

The voters of the county now have the opportunity, Mr. Reid stated, to choose the kind of government it wishes, either city form, by incorporation, or the county manager or commission form of local government.

This act clears up a question which has been uppermost in the minds of the voters of Arlington County for the last four years, he said. The effort made at the session of 1928 to pass the bill failed at the last minute.

In conclusion, Mr. Reid declared that Arlington County need have no further fear of any part of the county being annexed by the city of Alexandria, as a bill passed the General Assembly provides that no county having less than an area of 30 square miles, can have any part annexed by an adjoining city.

The association adopted two resolutions—one requesting Gov. John Garland Pollard to invite Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd to land first in Virginia on his return to the United States from the South Pole, and the other indorsed the school building program as outlined in the report recently filed with the county school board by the United States Bureau of Education. The report carries with it a recommendation for a bond issue of $580,000.

Discussing the plans of a special committee composed of William S. Hoge, jr., and members of the county board of supervisors to visit Richmond Saturday and confer with Col. H. G. Shirley, chairman of the State Highway Commission, on methods of securing an additional $30,000 needed to acquire rights of way for the Lee boulevard, Richard L. Eacho, who is an advocate of both the Lee boulevard and the Straight-to-the-Bridge road, said last night that he considered it nothing short of a disgrace that the county board of supervisors could not find a way to appropriate the needed $30,000.

"With the Federal Government expending $15,000,000 in building the finest bridge in the world, connecting the Nation's Capital with Arlington County, in addition to large sums which will be expended in the construction of boulevards, no greater investment could be made than to spend this small sum to assure the completion of a boulevard, which means so much to the future development of Arlington County."

"If the county needed funds for other projects there would be, in my opinion, little trouble found in raising the money.

"To have one of our leading citizens, who has worked hard and spent large sums of his own money to come before the board of supervisors and offer, when they refuse to make the appropriation, to put up with 30 others the sum of $1,000 is most unjust," he declared.

"It is just such things as this that makes the citizens of Arlington County wish to petition the Congress of the United States to take the county back as a part of the District of Columbia."

Plans are being completed for the annual banquet of the Arlington County Civic Federation to be presented April 5, at the Arlington hall College for Girls.

Robert E. Plymale, general chairman in charge of the arrangements, announces that Gov. John Garland Pollard, and his daughter Sue, will be the honor guests. Other guests will include Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts; Representative R. Walton Moore, State Senator Frank L. Ball, Delegate Hugh Reid, Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, executive officer of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission; Edward Duncan, E. C. Turnburke, and B. M. Hedrick, members of the Arlington County Board of Supervisors; Stephen James, president of the Montgomery County Civic Federation; George C. Havenner, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations of the District of Columbia, and Col. A. B. Barber, president of the Interfederation Conference.

What is considered by many of the citizens of Arlington County as one of the most important meetings of the county board of supervisors will be held this morning at the courthouse. Daily O'Currences

By JOHN DALY

LUELLA was all excited. It seems she had been aproached by a bandit—and a lady bandit at that.

"Where did all this happen?" I asked, after calming her.

"On the way home," said Luella.

"What did this woman do?"

"She just walked close to me and said, kind-a low, 'Your money or your life!'"

"And what did you do?"

Luella started to cry.

"I just can't tell you," she moaned. "It all comes back to me so clear. I——, I——."

"You——, you——, what?"

"I didn't have any money, and so——."

"And so you thought she'd take your life. Is that it?"

* * * *

"O' COURSE," said Luella, "that's what made me so afraid."

"Why didn't you try to take the gun away from her?"

"She didn't have a gun."

"No? Then what did you do when she asked for money——."

"I, I thanked her for the compliment."

"You did?"

"I did."

"And what did she do?"

"She looked in my purse, and saw I was telling the truth. I had been shopping."

NO wonder Luella was broke. Shopping.

"Well, that was a lucky break you got."

Luella looked up, dried her ters. "Indeed it was," she said, "a lucky break—and such a nice bandit, too. She——"

"She must-a been nice, holding you up like that——"

"You don't understand," said Luella.

"No, I guess not. A bandit holds you up and you say she's nice——"

"Well, I think it was nice and right considerate of her——"

"What, to hold you up?"

"No," said Luella, "to lend me money."

"Oh, you borrowed money from the bandit——"

* * * *

"WELL, I wanted to borrow it, and I still consider it a loan, but she said——"

"She said? What did she say——"

"She said, 'Forget it,' and handed me a $5 bill——"

"Where is it, the $5 bill?"

"Oh," said Luella, "I spent it——"

"You spent stolen money——"

"It wasn't stolen; it was a gift. There were some things I forgot while I was shopping, so after the holdup I went back to get 'em."

What I'd like to know is who staged this holdup, the lady bandit or Luella. It's all so vague, so mysterious.

LEAF IMPORT URGED FOR VIRGINIA PORTS

Traffic Survey of Hampton Roads Completed by Commerce Chamber Official.

VALUE OF TRADE CITED

Richmond, Va., March 19 (A.P.).—Development of leaf tobacco importation through Hampton Roads as a means of strengthening commercial relationships in Turkey, Italy and Greece is urged in a traffic survey of Hampton Roads made by Clarence W. Newman, research director of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

Virginia's importation of tobacco from the Mediterranean countries has built up steamship service to a part of the world not formerly trading through Hampton Roads, the report States.

"Recognizing that the Hampton Roads ports offer substantial economies in the importation of the foreign leaf which they require for their blends, certain of the cigarette manufacturers arranged in 1928 for a large and regular movement of tobacco to their factories from the Near East through Hampton Roads," the report continued. "This traffic is of greater value to the ports than its mere volume would indicate, because it has been effective in the development of steamship services from a portion of the world with which Hampton Roads formerly had very little commercial contact.

36,000 Tons Annual Average.

"Imports of leaf tobacco into the United States during the five-year period from 1923 to 1928 varied considerably, but reached an average of 36,000 tons annually, exclusive of receipts from Porto Rico, consisting principally of cigar leaf.

"Of the leaf imported during the period, an average of 22,000 tons annually consisted of cigarette tobaccos. As 80 per cent of the cigarettes produced in the United States is manufactured in North Carolina and Virginia, it is apparent that Hampton Roads is in a much better position than other ports to handle the bulk of the imports of tobacco destined to enter cigarette production in the country.

"Cigar production in the United States centers very largely in the New York metropolitan area and in other parts of the United States which can not be served to advantage through Hampton Roads. Accordingly, the Virginia ports can not hope to obtain the routing of any considerable portion of the imports of leaf tobacco for cigar making.

Cigarette Tobacco Importation.

"Cigarette tobaccos imported into the United States come almost exclusively from countries of the Mediterranean. The larger portion comes from Greece and Turkey, and the remainder is received principally from Italy.

"It is suggested that Hampton Roads interests cooperate with the steamship companies concerned and with the tobacco interests in North Carolina and Virginia in the hope of placing steamship services between Hampton Roads and the Mediterranean on a basis of greater regularity and frequency, with the object of attracting additional traffic to this routing and thus contributing to the stability and permanency of these services."

We'll be frank

For seven months we have had on our shelves 1,500 pairs of women's shoes. Manual effort alone has prevented dust from collecting on the boxes. These shoes are not this Spring's styles. They are not in the most wanted materials or leathers. A few of the brown shades would not be considered desirable by some discriminating women. All sizes are not included in each style. In short, this footwear is that remaining from purchases made at various times last year—footwear made to sell as high as twelve dollars.

But—

while the styles of Spring 1930 are not included, thousands of well-dressed women are seen every day wearing similar shoes—shoes that may have come from this very stock.

Patent leather will be Spring's "newest." Our stock is mostly comprised of kids and suedes. But what woman does not at times wear kid or suede shoes. Black and many shades of brown will be found among the selection. A few styles are inlaid with python or lizard. Every length and width is to be had, although not in every model.

And—

every pair of these shoes are the famous Edmonston & Co. Footform models. Every shoe is built of the finest materials and in the careful manner required by our reputation as footwear experts. Your immediate inspection of this selection is invited. Our usual perfect fitting is assured.
